Half Crew Lost As Tanker Hit Off East Coast

Luxury Liner Cleaves Vessel; 16 Bodies Recovered In Ocean

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nearly half the crew of a Norwegian tanker Dagali lost their lives today when the Israeli luxury liner Shalom, outbound on a Thanksgiving cruise, cleaved through their vessel in a pea-soup fog off the New Jersey coast.

The Coast Guard said 16 bodies had been retrieved from the Atlantic and four other sailors were unaccounted for and probably dead. It said the toll would have been higher if the weather had not cleared shortly after the collision.

Twenty-three other crewmen survived and were rescued by the Shalom, the liner Santa Paula, Coast Guard cutters and helicopters.

Eight were plucked from a lifeboat just before it sank and 10 were taken from the foundering bow section of the split ship.

The tragedy occurred at 2:23 a.m. (EST) 46 miles south southeast of New York Harbor off New Jersey's Barnegat Light.

The aft section of the 12,723-ton tanker Dagali sank soon after the collision. The impact ripped a 40-foot hole in the bow of the 25,338-ton Shalom four feet above the water line.

The luxury liner had to abandon its first Caribbean cruise and limp back to New York Harbor at four knots escorted by the Coast Guard cutter Spencer.

Only one of the 616 holiday-bound Shalom passengers and 460 crewmen was injured.

Mrs. Marge Postalico was removed from the liner by helicopter and taken to an Army hospital at Fort Dix, N.J., where she was reported in fair condition.

Capt. Ira H. McMullan, of Memphis, Tenn., commander of the Coast Guard air station at Brooklyn's Floyd Bennett Field, said the fog "was so heavy you couldn't see anything" when he first flew over the collision site at 3:20 a.m.

McMullan said shortly after daylight one of his helicopter crews sighted a lifeboat almost completely swamped with eight men aboard. The men were quickly lifted to safety by helicopter rescue baskets.

More Hostages Saved In Congo

Another American Is Killed

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — An American-Belgian airlift today rescued another 200 white hostages from Congolese rebels. But at least 20 other whites, including an American, were reported killed, and the bodies of 14 dumped into a crocodile-infested river.

Belgian paratroops and U.S. Air Force pilots made a spectacular rescue from the rebel-held town of Paulis in the heart of Congolese jungles. It followed by 48 hours a similar operation in Stanleyville.

BEATEN TO DEATH

But one of the survivors, honorary Belgian Consul Andre De Gotte, said 20 European men were beaten to death by the rebels yesterday and Tuesday and that at least 14 of them had been thrown into a crocodile-infested river.

He said the 14 included Dr. Joseph Tucker, an American medical missionary. His home address was not known.

"Fourteen of the men, including Tucker, were taken from a convent dormitory where they had been held prisoner and beaten, after the rebels in Paulis heard late Tuesday that the Belgian paratroopers had jumped into Stanleyville," De Gotte said on his arrival here.

KNOWN AS AMERICAN

De Gotte said the rebels knew Tucker was an American.

"They took Tucker, tied his arms and legs behind him, threw him to the ground, and beat him with clubs all over his body for 45 minutes," he said. "Then they removed a Belgian Petroleum Co. director and did the same thing to him.

"In the hours which followed, 12 other European men met similar fates. Then the bodies were taken to the river. Another six European men also were beaten to death (yesterday), but I do not know if their bodies were thrown to the crocodiles."

De Gotte was among the first 40 survivors of the Paulis captivity to arrive here. None of the first group was injured, but it was understood that later flights carried injured refugees.

In New York Belgian Ambassador Walter Loridan told Secretary General Thant today that Belgian paratroops had accomplished their "humanitarian mission" to rescue white hostages in the Congo and will be withdrawn by tomorrow night.

'END OF ROPE'

Judge Might Order A Court

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner has handed the county an ultimatum: If the county does not provide him with a courtroom forthwith, he will order the construction of a courtroom, as provided by law.

"I, personally, have reached the end of my rope and I intend to order it, unless this thing is solved forthwith," Judge Gardiner wrote in a letter to County Administrator Alan Bruce and County Clerk George H. Gnoss. The letter was dated Nov. 24.

Administrator Bruce said he knew of the problem, and a meeting with the judges had been scheduled for 4 p.m. Dec. 4 in Judge Thomas F. Keating's chambers to work out a solution.

Administrator Bruce said he was a bit surprised by Judge Gardiner's letter because the Dec. 4 meeting date had been set last week, and Judge Gardiner knew about it.

Bruce did not release details of the possible solutions. However, suggestions made in the past have included the possibility of making two courtrooms out of one of the large courtrooms in the courthouse annex building or shifting departments around in the old courthouse to provide additional space.

These would be temporary solutions, until the entire courthouse moves into new buildings at the Civic Center, probably in 1968.

Judge Gardiner's "ultimatum" came immediately after an especially trying jury case which wound up Tuesday after five days.

"During the five days, we have sat in four different court-

Leydecker Districts Proposal Is Opposed

Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon and City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper were both adamant, when questioned yesterday, in their opposition to the supervisorial redistricting plan proposed by Marin County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

"I don't like it," said Piper, noting that the plan would divide Larkspur among three supervisors' domains. "There's not enough political power with one supervisor to do us much good.

"Larkspur has enough community chop-up problems already, with part of it served by the San Rafael Post Office and with the creek dividing the city. Now they turn around and chop up some more." He said about a third of the city population, mainly in Greenbrae, would be placed in the district to be represented by Thomas T. Storer, of Inverness Park.

Anyone from the far west area of the county would not be aware of problems of urban areas, he commented.

"After an election four years from now, he probably would be elected from over here, and not in a position to represent the people, say, in Stinson Beach," Piper went on.

Brixon backed Piper up, and said he would appear before the board of supervisors to ask that the lines be drawn again.

"It's very poorly laid out," Brixon continued. "It splits up Larkspur and San Rafael. It needs reworking." Adding that he felt the plan was the pet project of Leydecker, Brixon said "he never talked to Larkspur and Corte Madera about it that I know of."

Brixon promised the matter would be up for council discussion at Tuesday's council election. "I would well imagine we will make an appeal to the board," he said.

In Corte Madera the reaction was milder.

Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said, "Offhand, I agree with the comments by Storer, the supervisor-elect. It will be real difficult for the supervisor to give good representation to both groups." Almost all of Corte Madera would be in Storer's district.

Trial Ends In Hit-Run: Hung Jury

A hung jury—11 for acquittal and one for conviction—resulted late yesterday in Marin Superior Court in the hit-run trial of John Patrick Lee, 34.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. scheduled setting of a new trial date for 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Lee, formerly of San Anselmo and now of Boston, Mass., is accused of leaving the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and La Cuesta Drive on July 9 after striking bicyclist Robert G. Miller, 12, of 30 Corte Loyola, Greenbrae.

The lad was hurled 129 feet by impact of the vehicle and was in Marin General Hospital about three weeks before regaining consciousness.

Trial began Nov. 17, with Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales prosecuting and Berwyn A. Rice and Harold B. Hyde, both of San Rafael, representing Lee, a managerial consultant.

A Greenbrae motorist, Robert F. McCullough, 79 Almenar Drive, earlier filed a 77.86 small claims action against Lee for damages McCullough said resulted to his own car when he allegedly forced Lee to halt near the accident site.

Lee countered with a $100,259 civil suit against McCullough, charging McCullough "willfully and intentionally" caused his car to collide with Lee's. The matters were combined and are still pending in Marin Superior Court.

Boats, Planes Search For Lost Youngster

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UPI) —Boats and planes swept the 18-mile wide mouth of Chesapeake Bay today for a 10-year-old boy missing from a small rowboat.

The eight-foot boat was found drifting today in the bay. Fears for the boy's safety mounted as the wind on the bay rose. The youngster was last seen about 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

FAMILY DAY

A Grateful Nation Pays Its Thanks

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A nation grateful for the blessings of peace and prosperity celebrated Thanksgiving Day today with prayers, parades, family reunions and turkey dinners.

It was a nation that could hardly forget the somber mood of last Thanksgiving, which came within a week of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

President Lyndon B. Johnson said in a message to the armed forces, issued in Johnson City, Tex.:

"Today all Americans thank the blessings of the Lord for the bounty of their land. In homes at peace, in houses of worship that are untouched by rancor or anger, families are gathered in gratitude for all that God has given them and for the blessings that he has rained upon our nation."

He noted that many servicemen would not be with their families. "But all of us here at home remember you with gratitude," he said.

Across the nation families gathered for the holiday. Heavy rain in the East and blowing snow in the Plains disrupted

4 Holiday Crashes In County Leave 9 Hurt

Thanksgiving holiday traffic injuries started to mount yesterday afternoon and today with nine persons injured in four separate accidents.

Two accidents occurred on the Waldo Grade within moments of each other at 12:15 a.m. today.

First, a northbound car driven by Vladimir Frank Dostal, 33, of 30 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera, struck a guard rail and overturned, 100 feet south of Spencer Avenue, Sausalito.

Dostal told the California Highway Patrol he was bumped by a passing car just before the rollover. He suffered back pains and was treated at Marin General Hospital and sent home.

Shortly after three persons were injured in a two-car collision in the northbound lanes, 500 feet north of Spencer Avenue.

The CHP reported that a car driven by John Lee Moller, 19, of San Pablo Avenue, Santa Venetia, collided with a car driven by Chester Clark Klingel Jr., 38, of Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

Klingel said that he saw a flare and a stopped car ahead and in stopping he broadsided. Then Moller's car collided with Klingel's, the CHP reported.

Klingel, who suffered fractured left ribs, and Moller, who suffered broken teeth, were treated at Marin General Hospital and released.

Norman Hudson, 22, of 1411 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, a passenger in Moller's car, suffered a cut forehead and a sprained right shoulder. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and sent home.

Two persons were injured when their car plunged 200 feet off the Shoreline Highway, 2.5 miles north of Muir Beach turnoff at 3:45 a.m. today, the CHP reported.

A Light Sleeper Tips Off Police In Burglary Case

A light-sleeping Sausalito woman early today tipped off police who arrested five San Francisco men on burglary charges.

Sausalito police said they were alerted at 1:57 a.m. by Lucinda Lindquist, 19, one of five working girls who share an apartment at 119 South Street, who said she had just awakened to find a burglar in her room.

She described the man, said he had left the apartment with a stack of phonograph records, and gave a description of the car in which the suspect fled.

Police stopped the car three minutes later at Bridgeway and Spring Street, questioned its five occupants and booked them into Marin County Jail on burglary charges.

The suspect who allegedly invaded the dental assistant's room was identified as Frank Thomas Morgan, 2331 14th Avenue, San Francisco. Police said the other four, who allegedly were waiting in the car outside, were booked as Frederick J. Williams, 24, of 1204 26th Avenue; Richard B. Bruckman, 25, same address; Frank M. Klynn, 24, of 1743 32nd Avenue, and Robert P. Haynes, 24, of 51-A Francis Street, all San Francisco.

Investigators said the records were dropped when the burglar fled from the apartment.

The county jail reported all five suspects are being held in lieu of $1,650 bail each.

TODAY'S I-J IS ONE OF BIGGEST EVER

Today's Independent-Journal probably weighs about as much as your turkey. And like a turkey dinner, there's a good deal in it to digest.

There are two tabloid sections, one with 16 pages and another with 20 pages, a 40-page Christmas shopping section and 36 pages for the regular edition. This makes 36 tabloid pages and 76 full size pages or the equivalent of 94 full-size pages.

Your newspaper boy will tell you its one of the biggest issues of the I-J he has ever delivered.

Weather Bureau Says Showers

Showers which danced lightly over Marin County last night were to continue tonight and Friday, according to the Weather Bureau.

Rain, predicted as a probability yesterday, did not appear today and there was even some sunshine as Thanksgiving day dawned.

The weak storm added only .01 of an inch in San Rafael in the 24-hour period ending at noon today. Novato reported .05 of an inch; Woodacre, .04 and San Anselmo, .01.

County Prisoners Get Turkey Dinner

About 47 prisoners were expected to be on hand at 3:30 p.m. today in Marin County jail for Thanksgiving dinner.

Menu planned was roast turkey, with the customary trimmings, plus a bag of candy, a cigar, and a pack of cigarettes each.

Russ Threaten N. Viet Action

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today threatened to step into the war in Vietnam if the Communist north is bombed, said a statement issued by the official news agency Tass.

Tass spoke as if the raids already had taken place. It is known they are being considered as a possible course of action by U.S. officials, including U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

"Those who harbor adventurist plans with regard to the Indochina peninsula should understand that the Soviet Union cannot remain indifferent to the fate of a fraternal Socialist country and is ready to render the necessary assistance," the Tass statement said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Another Ord Soldier Stricken

FORT ORD (UPI)—The 105th case of spinal meningitis this year was reported at Fort Ord last night as the Army post made preparations to suspend recruit training for one month in an effort to combat the disease.

Fifteen of the 105 persons stricken died of the attack, and nine of the recruits are under hospital treatment of the paralytic disease. Several cases among Northern California civilians, two of them fatal, have been traced directly to the post.

The latest victim was identified as Pvt. David L. Kranz, 21, of Idaho Falls, Idaho. He was hospitalized late yesterday, but reported in good condition.

Baker Witness Hits Photographer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don B. Reynolds visited the Senate Rules Committee's headquarters on Capitol Hill, accepted its subpoena to appear as a witness in a new round of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker hearings and punched a news photographer.

And while doing this yesterday Reynolds hotly denied that he had sought to avoid testifying in the investigation.

The insurance man said he was eager to get on the witness stand to tell his story of an alleged diversion to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund of $25,000 appropriated for construction of the Washington, D.C. stadium.

The hearings are scheduled to start Tuesday.

Reynolds punched C. Edward Alley, a United Press International cameraman, for trying to photograph him.

Rebellion By Prisoners Ended

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) — Coal mining prisoners who warned their hostages "there's nobody going out over that dynamite," ended a rebellion early today at Brushy Mountain State Prison.

Three mine foremen held captive underground for 18 hours by the 134 prisoners were released unharmed.

The convict won a hearing on their complaints about mail service and other grievances, a disciplinary committee to investigate rules infractions and a promise of no punishment for their sitdown.

Guerrilla Leader

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A woman known as La Capitana (the Captain) is reported leading an anti-Castro guerrilla band of 40 men in central Cuba. "In the last effort to capture her, 600 soldiers were put into action, but she eluded them," said Jose Rodriguez, 19, a newly arrived refugee. Rodriguez said he was in a battalion of army draftees assigned to help fight guerrillas. He said he escaped from his training camp in Matanzas Province and came here in a small boat.

GOP Conference?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch says he is considering a conference of top GOP leaders to help nullify the party. But Burch said yesterday that nothing will be done until the GOP National Committee meets in Chicago Jan. 21 and 22.

Judge To Retire

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Presiding Judge Lewis Drucker of the Los Angeles Superior Court's criminal division will retire Jan. 31, ending 38 years of city, county, state and federal service. Drucker, 60, announced his decision yesterday.

Mayor Yorty Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty has indicated yesterday he will be active in the City Council elections next spring.

Harding Kin Dies

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Alice Harding, 95, stepmother of the late President Warren G. Harding, died Tuesday. She had been nurse and secretary to Dr. George T. Harding before their marriage in 1921 when he was 77 and she was 52.

Carlson Honor

PALOS VERDES ESTATES (UPI)—The church attended by Dr. Paul Carlson, the American missionary doctor slain in the Congo, has voted to name a new church building in his honor.

Dentists Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Toothache sufferers had to endure the pain today in Tokyo. The city's more than 5,000 dentists were on a 24-hour strike demanding government approval of higher dental fees to meet rising costs.

Gets Detention

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A judge today remanded Mordecai Louk, Italy's man-in-the-trunk figure, to 15 days detention at the request of the police. Police said Louk, who was found chained in a Cairo-bound diplomatic trunk at Rome airport last week, faces charges of leaving Israel illegally, for the United Arab Republic, and contacting agents of a foreign power. He was arrested when he arrived from Rome.

Johnson, Taylor To Meet On Vietnam War Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor returns today to Washington for strategy talks on the war in South Vietnam. From them may come decisions by President Lyndon B. Johnson on expanding the war.

Taylor, a former Army chief of staff, is expected to recommend that the president consider the military advantages that might stem from ordering air strikes to halt the flow of supplies to the Viet Cong guerrillas.

He has spoken recently about the possibility of bombing supply routes from Communist North Vietnam, which run through areas of neighboring Laos that are under Communist control. He has spoken also of possible action against selected areas in North Vietnam itself.

Taylor, ambassador to Saigon since July, will be in Washington five or six days, officials said, and plans to spend today, Thanksgiving, with his family. His conferences will begin tomorrow with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials. The time and place of a meeting with the president have not been announced.

In connection with Taylor's return, officials ruled out any drastic action by the United States. They said that on the one hand negotiations with the Communists for a settlement of the war was out of the question. On the other, they saw no possibility of committing American ground forces to the fight or of massive attacks by sea and air on North Vietnam.

If any new measures are adopted — and the general expectation among informed officials is that some steps will be taken—they will likely be designed to limit or cut off the infiltration of supplies to the Viet Cong from North Vietnam, and make the war more expensive for the Communist side so that eventually the Red leaders may be persuaded to negotiate a settlement acceptable to South Vietnam and the United States.

There have been unconfirmed reports that Taylor felt so strongly about the need for broader action beyond the boundaries of South Vietnam that he was prepared to resign if President Johnson did not approve his recommendation.

Stopping at Honolulu on his way home, Taylor was asked about reports that he might resign his post.

"Absolutely nothing to it," he said. "I cannot imagine where the rumor ever came from."

Reagan Is Thinking About Public Office

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Ronald Reagan indicated yesterday he is thinking about turning politician after receiving thousands of letters encouraging him to run for public office.

His election eve television speech for Republican candidates elicited thousands of letters and telegrams commending his criticism of President Lyndon B. Johnson and the Democratic administration.

"I have never aspired to public office, nor looked upon a political career with any particular favor," Reagan said. "But I have some other thoughts about where an individual's responsibility lies despite his tastes and personal desires."

Reagan's "other thoughts" were in response to the stacks of mail he is attempting to answer.

"I've never had a mail reaction like this in all my years in show business—and that goes back to 1937," he said.

Reagan, 53, has made speeches on behalf of the GOP for 10 years, attacking "big government." He wrote his half-hour nationally televised speech earlier this month.

Chekhov With Shakespeare

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) — Shakespeare shares billing with Chekhov in next summer's schedule of the Stratford Festival players.

The 16-week season — from June 14 to Oct. 2—will include separate productions of the two parts of "Henry IV," one to be known by the kingly title and the other as "Falstaff"; "Julius Caesar" and "The Cherry Orchard."

Douglas Campbell, John Hirsch and a third director to be announced will handle the presentations.

Terra Linda High's Band Very Active

The Terra Linda High School band, directed by Gordon Lane, has an active schedule ahead, including participating in a sight-reading clinic, presenting a Christmas program, and then its first concert of the school year.

The band will play parts of more than 50 selections at the San Francisco State College sight-reading clinic Dec. 2-3.

The clinic is designed to acquaint band members with the latest developments in high school band music and to help them in playing sheet music at first sight.

The band will present its Christmas program at a high school assembly the evening of Dec. 17. The program will include the chorus, orchestra and wood-wind choir. The brass choir will play Christmas carols from the roof of the cafeteria prior to the program.

Lowe said the first band concert of the school year will be a scholarship benefit concert in the gymnasium next Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. The performance is to raise money for scholarships to the Cazadero Music Camp.

Driver Fined $149

Arthur Hatter, 1049 Las Gallinas Avenue, Terra Linda, fined $149 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested last Saturday by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

OUR OWN SUGGESTION BOX

We have always made a particular effort to stock merchandise that was suited to our Marin way of life. What is most popular in one area is not necessarily just right for another and here for example we live a more relaxed indoor-outdoor existence that is not possible in the city.

Our customers are more discriminating than most and the high percentage of home owners in the area calls for higher quality furnishings of a more permanent nature than renters would usually require. That we have been successful so far in making such selections is attested to by the gratifying growth of the business, but no store exists that does not leave room for improvement.

For this reason I would like to make a unique suggestion and ask that you let me know what you have been unable to find in the way of home furnishings or accessories in Marin. Perhaps we have been overlooking some things that we really should stock—whether it be an item you have seen before or need and would like to have made. In any event we will make a sincere effort to find it for you and if at all possible to carry it in stock.

While shopping the various markets throughout the country I am continually impressed with the tremendous variety of goods offered the consumer today. We try to co-ordinate our buying so that tables, lamps and upholstered pieces go together naturally although they may be made thousands of miles apart. With greater emphasis being placed on an individual style of decorating this becomes more important all the time.

Knowing how very frustrating it can be to look everywhere and not find just what you have been searching for, I invite your suggestions for items you wish to see here. Write to Charles Bellach, Bellach's Furniture, 777 Francisco Blvd., San Rafael. Your comments will be greatly appreciated.

Death Roots Might Have Been In Fight

The death of the brother of Mill Valley Police Sgt. John Imperiale may have had its roots in a fight Monday night.

Sonoma County Sheriff's deputies yesterday arrested Loomis Jackson, 20, a resident of the Geyserville Indian Rancheria, for investigation of the murder of Guido Phillip Imperiale, 64-year-old Cloverdale ranch foreman. Investigators said the arrest was based on statements and a report that Jackson and the victim were involved in a fight Monday night.

Sgt. Imperiale and Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich went to Santa Rosa yesterday; the chief returned last night.

Discovery of the ranch foreman's death was made by a friend and neighbor, Sam Martinez, who became alarmed when Imperiale did not answer the door in his River Road home at Cloverdale. Martinez entered, and followed a trail of blood to find the body in a bed, early yesterday.

There was no sign of a struggle in Imperiale's home, but the victim had bruises about the head and a gash over the left eye, according to the Sonoma County coroner's office.

Newly Planted Trees Uprooted By Vandals

An estimated 25 small, newly planted trees on a hillside at the Meadows at Terra Linda, 910 Lea Drive, were reported uprooted by vandals yesterday.

San Rafael police said the maintenance manager, Frank B. French, said employees were able to replant most of them, however. No damage estimate was given.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

10:03 a.m., Novato — Diesel fuel leaking from two 50 gallon drums on a pickup belonging to George Keller of 2463 Vineyard Drive, Novato, spilled on exhaust pipe and ignited, causing extensive damage to truck. Fire occurred at Sheri Court.

10:29 p.m., San Anselmo — Short in switch on electrical range in Mrs. Albert Lowe's home at 11 Vine Street; minor damage.

11:03 a.m., Mill Valley—Gas leaking from pipe in manhole at 11 Lower Alcatraz caught fire; firemen stood by until Pacific Gas and Electric crews arrived.

7:37 p.m., Tamalpais Valley—Hot ashes in box caused fire which gutted living room of home belonging to Charles Bell at 525 Browning Street.

TODAY:

3:14 a.m., near San Rafael—Three clumps of pampus grass burned near 100 San Pedro Road; evidently caused by cigarette.

fael is a kind of an odd situation," he added.

But he saw one favorable point for Corte Madera. "I think eventually all the voting power will be concentrated in the Ross Valley."

Most reluctant to oppose the plan was Corte Madera Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow. He saw two things that pleased him.

"I'm happy personally to see any line drawn which would keep us out of the maintenance district for Corte Madera Creek's project. The proposed District Two, to be represented by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, would be a good boundary for the district," he said.

The other good point was Corte Madera's voting strength in the district. "We would wield a big stick in selecting future supervisors," he said. On the question of whether a supervisor from West Marin could spend much time in the eastern part of his district, he commented:

"We've only seen Mr. (William D.) Fusselman here two or three times in the past few years." (Fusselman is outgoing supervisor in the Second District.)

But he said he still believes it would have made more sense to put Fairfax in District Four, rather than Corte Madera.

There will have to be some urban land added to the West Marin district, Brandow agreed, but the narrow strip across the water district lands, with no road connecting east and west, did seem strained, he said.

Police Witness High-Speed Auto Crash

San Anselmo police witnessed a high-speed crash at 1:38 a.m. today that knocked out parts of the fire alarm circuit in the Mountain View area.

Sgt. George Alberigi and Officer Graham Thompson were in a patrol car nearby when they heard the car hit a utility pole near Sir Francis Drake High School and saw the car jump the curb and spin across the school lawn, narrowly missing going into the creek-bed.

Neither driver Dale Jerome Martin, 31, of 135-A Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, nor his passenger, Susan Bilderback, of 165-A Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, were injured, but the car was demolished, police said. The accident damaged a fire alarm box on the pole.

Police Chief Raymond Buchignani said the officers took Martin to the San Rafael police station for questioning, then booked him into county jail on a charge of drunken drivingn.

Dorfmans Takes Stand In Defense

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Chicago businessman Sol Schwartz, an associate of Paul and Allen Dorfman who are on trial in federal district court on an extortion charge, took the stand in their defense yesterday.

The Dorfmans, who handle the insurance for Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters Union, are accused of threatening former Belvedere resident Stewart Hopps in an attempt to get back $100,000 they invested in one of Hopps' insurance companies.

Schwartz said he talked to Hopps soon after the allegedly threatening phone call Sept. 5, 1964 and Hopps seemed perfectly composed.

"He tried to compose my fears about the missing $100,000," Schwartz said.

Hopps had earlier testified that Paul Dorfman had called his Belvedere home from Nassau in the Bahamas and threatened to "cut another hole" in his head and give him a "concrete overcoat."

Harvey Silets, one of the defense attorneys, said in opening statements yesterday that Hopps was a "wizard" capable of "selling snow to the Eskimos."

At the close of testimony yesterday, Judge William T. Sweigert recessed the case until Monday.

George Kappas Found Innocent

A Marin Municipal Court jury yesterday found George Kappas, owner of Kappas Yacht Harbor at Waldo Point, innocent of excavating without a permit.

The panel deliberated four hours before returning the verdict to Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Wallace S. Myers, attorney for Kappas, said his main trial contention was that ordinance violation requires that 1,000 cubic yards of dirt be moved, and that his client's alleged digging last Sept. 3 involved much less earth.

The alleged sludge digging was out of Richardson Bay, south of the seaplane base. The trial began Monday.

Record Is Set By Shakespeare Fete

ASHLAND, Ore. (AP)—Attendance at the Oregon Shakespeare Festival set a record of 60,939 during the 1964 summer season, according to William Patton, general manager.

The figure represents 93.5 per cent of capacity for the 58-performance schedule. The festival starts its 25th season next July.

rooms," Judge Gardiner pointed out. "Now that the jury is out, I am informed that if the jury returns in the early afternoon we will have to go to a fifth courtroom. (The jury did return that afternoon and did go into a fifth courtroom—Ed.)

"In the meantime, the district attorney and defense counsel advise that they have had difficulty in keeping their witnesses informed of where we are and, certainly, the jurors have had difficulty in finding out where they are.

"This is not only undignified, but it could easily result in a complete miscarriage of justice if a juror or a witness was not available at the right time . . .

"As the junior judge on the Superior Court bench, I have made no fuss. I do not wish to make any fuss about being moved around from pillar to post at the commencement of any trial. . . . However, when a single jury trial has to move four times and then faces the prospect of moving a fifth, it is carrying the matter too far.

"I wish to say right now that until there is some assurance on the part of administration that when a jury trial starts, it will stay in the same place until it finishes, I do not want to be assigned to any further jury cases . . ."

Judge Gardiner added that he does not mind being moved in a non-jury case. "It is the matter of moving jury cases in the midst of trials to which I object and against which I protest."

In a postscript, the judge added:

"Heretofore, the matter of requiring the sheriff to build a courtroom has been treated only as a joke. There is, however, a code section which authorizes a judge to order such construction. I, personally, have reached the end of my rope and I intend to order it, unless this thing is solved forthwith."

transportation on the holiday eve.

Many flights to John F. Kennedy Airport were diverted to other cities last night. The rains slowed bus and automobile traffic in the New York metropolitan area.

Churches held special services and in some communities Protestants and Catholics joined in a common observanee of Thanksgiving, a practice begun last year in the new spirit of church unity.

The day was celebrated in Plymouth, Mass., which most Americans think of as the site of the first Thanksgiving, and in Virginia, which claims that Berkeley Hundred, near Jamestown, Va., held the original Thanksgiving.

Parades signaled today the approach of the next big holiday, Christmas. They were being held in New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Albuquerque, N.M.; Charlotte, N.C., and Detroit, among other cities.

Cities, churches, charity groups and individuals provided turkey dinners for the poor and homeless in many areas.

Nothing Changes At Hamilton—Yet

About all that Air Force reservists in the Golden Gate Troop Carrier Wing based at Hamilton Air Force Base knew for certain today, was that nothing had changed their status — yet.

Alarmed members of the 349th Troop Carrier Wing began calling their headquarters yesterday, after United Press International circulated a report that 2,500 men would be transferred, under a proposed Pentagon plan to place Army and Air Force reservists under the National Guard in each state.

Even if this does happen, Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore Jr., wing commander of the 349th said, it would be only a "paper transfer." It would not mean that the wing nor any of its men would leave Hamilton, he added. "Where else would we go?" he asked.

Gen. Moore recalled that the Reserve Officers Assn. has "violented protested" the proposed transfer, and may have generated yesterday's United Press International news release by going to the public with its views.

"This idea has been kicked around for the past 10 years and is not considered firm at this time," the General said.

Today, although quoting Col. L. F. Willison, administrative officer of the State Military Affairs Department in Sacramento as saying the transfer plan was just a proposal and not official policy, UPI still maintained that it could result in a reduction of 700 men at Hamilton.

The 349th Wing employs 115 full time personnel at Hamilton, and about 800 Bay Area reservists report there for training periods. Other units of the wing train at McLellan Air Force Base, Sacramento, as well as Paine Air Force Base, Wash. and Portland, Ore. Total strength of the wing is about 2,600 men.

The reservists, remembering their sudden recall to active duty during the Cuban crisis two years ago, began calling the base yesterday to learn whether they were again being put on active duty, or what was happening.

Maj. Robert S. Dinger, information officer of the Sixth Reserve Region, said word of the proposed transfer had not been released by himself, the 349th Wing nor anyone in the joint office of information at Hamilton.

CRASHES

Motel, Stinson Beach, the driver, suffered a cut scalp. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and transferred to San Rafael General Hospital.

His passenger, Olivia Figone, 36, of Fern Motel, Stinson Beach, suffered back injuries and was admitted to Marin General Hospital, where she was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Marin General Hospital reported that Mrs. Figone's 19-month-old son, Lawrence, escaped without injury, but the CHP report did not mention the son in its report.

Cantua told the CHP he was round a curve when the car went into a ditch and then shot across the roadway and down the embankment.

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision along Highway 101, just south of the north end of the Richardson Bay Bridge at 11:50 p.m. yesterday.

A car driven by William Granger Griffin, 18, of 4879 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, collided with a car driven by Ira Oliver Harrison Jr., 39, of 4 Elaine Way, San Rafael.

Harrison, who suffered a cut forehead, and Griffin, who suffered facial cuts, were treated at Marin General Hospital and sent home.

Mark Medina, 15, of 801 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, a passenger in Griffin's car, suffered multiple facial cuts. He was admitted to Marin General Hospital where he was reported in fair condition today.

Box Of Ashes Is Blamed For Tam Valley Fire

A box of hot ashes was blamed today for a fire which gutted the living room of a Tamalpais Valley home and left smoke damage throughout the single story dwelling.

Owner Charles Bell called the Tamalpais Fire Department at 7:37 p.m., reporting that his home at 525 Browning Street was full of smoke. Fifteen firemen with three trucks answered the call. Biggest job was clearing the smoke from the home. The interior of the living room was blackened.

Earlier in the day, ashes had been removed from the fireplace and put in a box left in one corner of the living room. There were enough hot ashes in the box to start the blaze.

Firemen had no estimate of damage.

Appraiser's $75,000 For 'Minute's Work'

"A $75,000 inheritance tax appraisal fee will be paid to a Los Angeles appraiser for doing one minute of multiplication," Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) charged today in San Rafael.

Bagley referred to a William Keck estate where there are 1,000 shares of Superior Oil Co. stock valued on the open market at $1,580 per share.

"The appraisal, by simple arithmetic, will be 158 million dollars," the San Rafael legislator pointed out. For this "appraisal," the politically appointed part-time appraiser will receive a set statutory fee of $75,000, and will probably receive another $15,000 for appraising other estate property.

"This $90,000 sum would pay a fixed salary of 10 full-time appraisers for one full year," declared Bagley. "And under such a system, this would be one-fourth of the entire staff of appraisers required for the entire state."

Assemblyman Bagley, who has led the fight against the "old spoils system" — political appointments of inheritance tax appraisers — reiterated his pledge to reintroduce reform measures when the Legislature convenes in January.

"We are going to effect a long needed change during this next session which will save our taxpayers three and one-half million dollars a year," Bagley predicted.

GOP Central Committee Election Set

The Marin County Republican Central Committee will elect new officers for 1965 next Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. in the San Rafael courthouse.

Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the county central committee, made the announcement Tuesday night at the first post-election meeting of the committee.

"We were very pleased winning four out of five posts," said Misner. "It was really terrific." Misner referred to the victories by U.S. Sen. George Murphy, Rep. Don H. Clausen, State Sen. John F. McCarthy, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

James Tufts of Kentfield, precinct chairman, reported that better than 93 per cent of Republican voters turned out for the Nov. 3 election.

Misner announced that a victory dinner will be held for Congressman Clausen on Dec. 10 at Sabella's Restaurant, preceded by a no-host cocktail hour at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

Long Distance Phone Rates Ordered Cut By Govrnment

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rates for station-to-station long distance telephone calls will drop about 100 million dollars a year in a two-stage reduction to begin next February.

The cut was required by a Federal Communications Commission order to the Bell Telephone companies yesterday. It is the largest telephone rate reduction ever ordered by the government agency.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. quickly went on record in protest of the order.

The reduction will cut the toll for a three minutes station-to-station call anywhere in the continental United States to a maximum of $1.50 on Saturdays and between 6 and 8 p.m. daily, and to $1 on Sundays and after 8 p.m. daily.

The FCC said about three fourths of the reductions will take effect Feb. 1 and the remainder will take effect as soon as new tariff schedules can be developed, on or before April 1, 1965.

Departing Park Aide Is Honored

Edmund Mahany, Novato parks and recreation director, was guest of honor at a luncheon yesterday noon at the home of Mrs. Helen Greving at 7 Harding Drive, Novato.

Mahany, who is leaving Dec. 1 to become parks and recreation director of Roseville, was presented with an attache case from the parks and recreation commission and city employees. He was also given a certificate of appreciation from the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the city council, the parks and recreation commission, city employees and other guests attended the luncheon.

How North Could Form Own State

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Northern California could split off and form a new state providing (1) the legislature approved of the action; (2) the Congress approved it, and (3) possibly, a requirement that the people voted for the procedure.

This is the gist of two opinions recieved by Sen. Paul J. Lunardi, (D-Roseville).

Because of the concern over the U.S. Supreme Court decision of last June 15, requiring both houses of the legislature of each state to be apportioned solely on the basis of population, some interests have advocated splitting California into two states.

Several weeks ago, boards of supervisors of the nine northern counties met in Redding and considered possible formation of a new state. However, at the time, there were divided legal opinions as to whether this was possible.

Lunardi asked for opinions from both the legislative council and Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch. He recently received these opinions.

The attorney general's opinion, written by E. G. Benard, assistant attorney general in the Sacramento office, put it this way:

"The Legislature of the State of California would first have to agree to cession of that part of the state that wishes to form the new state. Representatives of the area comprising the new state must petition Congress for admission, thereby following the constitutional mandate of consenting to the creation of a new state

"Congress would then have to pass the act admitting the new state into the union by a majority vote."

The legislative council's opinion, written for Chief Deputy George H. Murphy by Edward K. Purcell, a deputy, varied slightly from the AG version. It outlined three required steps:

1. Submission to the people of an amendment to the California Constitution authorizing the Legislature to consent to a division of the state;

2. Passage of a bill by the Legislature consenting to the division and adoption by the Legislature of a resolution requesting consent of Congress to the division; and

3. Passage of legislation by Congress consenting to the division.

The opinion noted that, though the U.S. Constitution does not require it, Congress might condition its consent on an expression of consent separately from the people of the territory that would constitute either or both of the new states.

The opinions would appear to state that, if the people of California, the State Legislature, and the Congress are willing, California could be divided into two states.

It was pointed out at the meeting of supervisors from the nine Northern counties, however, that formation of a new state might merely move them from the frying pan into the fire. For a new Northern California state would be dominated by the metropolitan areas of the San Francisco Bay Area, Sacramento, Fresno, Stockton, and others.

Under the U. S. Supreme Court order of one man for one vote, it might result in the nonpopulous northern counties being nearly as badly off for representation as they might be under the expected reapportionment.

The attorney general opinion noted that five states had "been formed or erected within the jurisdiction of some other state" with the consent of the legislatures and the Congress. These included Vermont from New York in 1791; Kentucky from Virginia in 1792; Tennessee from North Carolina in 1796; Maine from Massachusetts in 1820, and West Virginia from Virginia in 1863. Texas uniquely has the power to divide itself into five states if it wishes.

German Shepherds Sought For Service

Calling all German Shepherd dogs that want to join the service!

The Air Force, through Hamilton Air Force Base, today put out a call for 500 German Shepherd dogs for sentry duty at military bases.

The Air Force will accept donations of such dogs, or will buy the animals if they meet the required standards. These are that the dogs be German Shepherds (not necessarily pedigreed); males or spayed females between one and three years old. They must weigh at least 65 pounds and stand 23 inches tall at the shoulder.

The Air Force was given the task of getting and training the dogs for all branches of the service in July of this year.

When accepted, the dogs are shipped to the Air Force Sentry Dog Training Center at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

Bids Opened On Tam Valley Sanitary Plan

Bids were opened Tuesday night by Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors on the proposed Tamalpais Woods Assessment District.

Figures will be checked and the district is given 30 days in which to accept a bid, reported Gale E. Bishel, publicity chairman.

A protest meeting will be held Dec. 1 to hear protests on either the bids or on property owners' assessments.

Bids are: Kirkwood-Bly, Inc., Santa Rosa, 148,946; Joseph R. Ramos, Hayward, $151,792; C and G Pipelines, Hayward, $185,398; Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen, Inc., Corte Madera, $213,140; McGuire and Hester, Oakland, 221,376; Linscott Co., Inc., San Rafael, 246,952; J. K. Construction Co., San Rafael, 269,934.

Resignation of director Robert D. Smith, chairman, was presented, Smith advising the board he has accepted a job in Southern California. His resignation takes effect immediately.

Thanksgiving Day Didn't Begin With The Pilgrims

By LOUIS CASSELS

Ask any red-blooded American boy how Thanksgiving originated, and he'll tell you right off that it was invented by the pilgrims of the Massachusetts Bay Colony back in 1620 A.D.

There is just one thing wrong with this cherished bit of American folklore. It isn't true.

The Pilgrims borrowed both the idea and the name of Thanksgiving Day from the Church of England. Its canons provided for annual celebration of a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for all of His bounty and especially for a safely-gathered harvest.

The English holiday was celebrated on Sept. 29, and was commonly known as "Michaelmas" because it was designated on the church calendar as "The Feast of St. Michael and All Angels."

It was a major religious holiday, second only to Easter, in the 17th Century England from which the Pilgrims migrated to America.

Tradition decreed that Micaelmas dinners be built around roast goose. The pilgrims had roast goose, along with a few wild turkeys they shot while goose-hunting.

Although Michaelmas was clearly the immediate inspiration of the pilgrim Thanksgiving, the ultimate origin of the holiday can be traced much further back into history.

In the Middle Ages, the feast of St. Martin of Tours was a major holiday in western Europe. It was celebrated on Nov. 11. People went to mass, participated in parades and games, and wound up with a festive dinner of . . . you guessed it, roast goose. Because St. Martin's Day came after harvests were in, it was regarded as a day of thanksgiving.

But the real "first thanksgiving" was celebrated long before western Europe was civilized . . . in fact, long before the Christian church came into being.

In the old testament book of Deuteronomy there is a detailed description of instructions which Moses gave to the children of Israel for a holiday to be celebrated exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the promised land. That was approximately 3,200 years ago.

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

Theoretically, at least, that's still the idea behind Thanksgiving.

Street Decor Out In Fairfax

There will be no street decorations in Fairfax for Christmas this year, but that does not mean the city will not be in the spirit.

Decorations last year were targets of so many complaints that it was decided not to try street decorations again this year, said George M. Crowell, secretary of the Fairfax Merchants Assn.

Instead, the association will sponsor decoration contests among merchants and home owners. Crowell hopes the competition will make the streets sparkle more than they ever did in the past.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Small Grocery Stores Given Franchised Lease On Life

"Mom and Pop" corner food stores haven't vanished from the American scene altogether, but it's a sign of the times that some of the new crop are franchised operations.

Such a business is conducted by Speedee Marts, Inc., headquartered in Dallas, Tex. This company has established about 2,000 stores all over the country --some 140 of them in California. Regional headquarters are in Santa Clara.

Getting close to home—Speedee has already opened three stores in Santa Rosa, has one committed for Corte Madera, and is working on six other Marin locations.

The Corte Madera store will be in a new building to be erected at the northeast corner of Redwood and Magnolia avenues for J. B. Rice. Speedee, will take about 2,400 square feet, a little more than half of the available floor space.

No franchise holder has yet been named. The company prefers local investors wherever possible. And no date is set for the opening, which depends on completion of the building. Wagstaff and McDonald are designing it; no contractor has been selected.

ANOTHER WIG WHOLESALER to announce the opening of her own retail salon is Mrs. Dorothy Nickels, who has previously sold to the beauty shop trade from her home in San Rafael.

Continental Wig Salon is expected to be in business next Monday at 1125 Fourth Street, San Rafael (formerly occupied by Landes Furs—now moved to new quarters next door). Mrs. Nickels will use the front part of the premises for the salon, doing all phases of wig and toupee work for women and men, with pick-up and delivery service.

She has gone into partnership with H. Steinbach of San Francisco, an importer of German wigs, and the two expect to sell them throughout the state. Steinbach and his wife are also hair stylists. Altogether, Continental Wig will have a staff of five.

TWO OF THREE available spaces in the new building of Cal-Mar Properties, Inc., nearing completion in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera, have been leased.

Frank Knouse of Corte Madera, who formerly had a service station in the area, will open an ice cream store and coffee shop. A barber shop to be run by Mike Runco of Novato, who presently has a shop in the area, will occupy the other.

SALE of the William Steinbeck 1,000-acre ranch north of Petaluma has been reported by Jim Dollar of Gallagher-Sturiale's Terra Linda office, who handled the transaction together with Max Flohr Realty of Petaluma.

Steinbeck, whose cousin John is the famous author, has lived on the property 45 years. His daughter is Mrs. Roy De Marta of Terra Linda. The land was bought by a group of investors who will use it for a dairy farm. Purchase price was not disclosed.

ROBERT V. AUNGER of Greenbrae has been appointed controller of Sunnyland Juice Corp., with responsibilities for its operations in Anaheim and Santa Clara.

For the past two years he has been assistant controller of Di Giorgio Corp., with which Sunnyland recently merged. He has been associated with Di Giorgio for 10 years at Florida and San Francisco offices.

It means another southward move for the Aungers as soon as their house is sold.

ANDREW EDGAR of Corte Madera has been appointed secretary of Whitney's Playland-at-the-Beach, San Francisco. He has been associated with Whitney's for 26 years—recently as assistant secretary-treasurer.

Chamber Elects Five Directors In Mill Valley

Five directors, three of them incumbents, were elected to the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce Board, it was announced at yesterday's meeting.

They are William A. Eberhart, co-owner, Eberhart's Mobil and Rent-a-Car Service; A. A. Hemmerling, president, A. A. Hemmerling, Inc. and Lawrence A. Mayer, owner of Mayers Ltd., all incumbents, and Robert H. Andresen, attorney, and Edward M. Mills, co-editor and publisher, Mill Valley Record.

The board and newly-elected directors will meet Dec. 9 when officers will be elected. Directors will take office Jan. 1 to serve a two-year period.

Hold over directors are Herman Boldetti, board chamber president; Clyde E. Beasley, Frank C. Hickman, Danny J. Malugani Jr., Charles J. Francis and Eddie R. Pedersen.

ALCAN-MARIN PROJECT SHOWS PROGRESS

This helicopter view of Alcan-Marin's Richardson Bay apartment project shows how much work has been done since piles were driven last February. Completion of the first increment of 107 one, two and three-bedroom units and boat docking facilities is expected next spring. Entire development, which occupies the lands of George Leo Zaro, will provide 286 rental units. Later additions on highway side of the lagon may include a motel and restaurant. Structure at lower left is Sabella's restaurant.

Wanderer Official Status After Being Abandoned Still Not Clear

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP) — The shell of the 70-year-old schooner Wanderer, once skippered by actor Sterling Hayden of Belvedere, is breaking up on the coral reef of Rangiros, 150 miles northeast of Tahiti.

The last four members of the Wanderer's crew returned to Tahiti last week with as much of her remains as they could salvage in the three weeks since she ran head-on into the reef Nov. 1 on a dark rainy night.

Capt. William King and his other crew members had returned here aboard a French Navy rescue vessel four days after the beaching.

King said he was at the wheel when the schooner hit the coral. He said they were attempting to circle what they believed to be the lower tip of Rangiroa. In reality it was a small peninsula several miles from the lower end of the island.

All 11 crew members, including King's 11-year-old son, David, evacuated within 20 minutes into an inflatable rubber raft.

The Wanderer's official status now that the crew has abandoned her is not clear.

Omar Darr, a former captain and part-owner of the schooner, has been representing Joe Price of Bartlesville, Okla., the ship's current owner.

"I have no idea now who the ship belongs to," Darr said. "I don't even know who the insurance company is."

Darr said Price is believed to be in Japan. Price had hired King to sail the schooner to the Bahamas via Panama.

King said he believed the Wandered now would be owned "by the insurance company, whoever that is, until they declare her a total loss."

Only two crew members remain in Tahiti.

Carol Robert, of Wilmington, N.C., is waiting for a ship to New Zealand and Australia. Eddie Lucas lives in Papeete.

The nine others have departed by planes for their homes.

King returned to Honolulu to get back to work with the Military Transport Service. With him went his son and John Fox, also of Honolulu.

The other crew members were Robert Agee, Lahaina, Maui, Hawaii; Jack Gardner and Dana Gardner of San Francisco, Larry Muldoon of Fresno, Leonard Duck of Fresno, and Hugh Terry Reilly III of San Francisco.

Parking Big Business

NEW YORK (UPI)—If parking one car is a problem to you, consider the job of one parking space operator. which parked seven million vehicles last year. Parking revenues throughout the country now run to about half a billion dollars a year.

STOCK MARKET CLOSED TODAY

Stock exchanges and financial institutions are closed today for Thanksgiving.

Stocks lists will be resumed in the Independent-Journal tomorrow with the course of normal business.

Wives Give Shaver Gifts

NEW YORK (UPI)—This Christmas, about 1.5 million men will find an electric shaver under the tree, compliments of the women in their lives.

Gift purchases by women account for about 65 per cent of the men's electric shavers sold during the Yuletide season. More than 30 million American men—slightly less than half of those who shave—use an electric shaver, the company said.

Air Freight Cargo Booms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 11 U. S. trunk and three all-cargo airlines flew 757,374,000 ton miles of air cargo (freight, mail and express) in domestic operations during the first three quarters of 1964, a 22.3 per cent increase over the 619,362,000 ton miles they carried in the same nine-month period of 1963, the Air Transport Assn. reports.

Air freight ton miles for the nine months totaled 574,204,000, an increase of 27.3 per cent.

Express ton miles totaled 52,456,000, a gain of 10.3 per cent. Mail volume increased 8.1 per cent to a total of 130,714,000 (m) ton miles.

Gift Market Big In U.S.

FORT MADISON, Ia. (UPI)—American business and industrial firms are expected to spend close to 300 million dollars this year for business gifts to customers and prospects, according to John D. Sheaffer, marketing vice president of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co. Of this amount more than 200 million dollars will be allocated to Christmas and year-end rememberances, he predicted.

His estimate of the extent of the business gift market does not include income from the sale of writing instruments and other products for year-round use as premiums and incentives, Sheaffer said.

This provides an additional multi-million-dollar annual revenue to manufacturers, he said.

Profit-Sharing

NEW YORK (UPI)—About 20 per cent of American companies with 50 or more employes have profit - sharing plans, according to a survey. The payouts normally run between 5 per cent and 15 per cent of earnings.

All-Bach Concert Slated For Sunday

A public all-Bach concert will be persented on Advent Sunday at 4 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Featured will be the Cantata No. 140 of J. S. Bach, "Sleepers Wake, A Voice is Calling," by the 50-voice chancel choir of the church under direction of Wilbur F. Russell.

Making her Marin debut in the two duets with baritone Byron Jones of San Rafael will be soprano Marian Marsh, a new San Rafael resident.

A district winner of the Metropolitan Opera Auditions and soloist at Temple Emanuel and Lakeside Presbyterian Church in San Francisco, she has been heard in concert, oratorio and opera in California.

Harold Iverson of San Anselmo will sing the tenor recitative. Accompanying one duet and an aria by Miss Marsh will be Mirian McArdell, San Anselmo violinist with the San Francisco Symphony. Edward Mundt of San Anselmo will be obbligato oboist in the second duet, and Mrs. Peter Palmer will play the organ accompaniment.

MARIAN MARSH
In Marin debut

Other Bach numbers to be performed will be the Bach Chorale for organ, "Saviour of the Gentiles, Come," played by Russell; an aria from Cantata No. 56 sung by Jones and an aria from Cantata No. 57 sung by Miss Marsh, and two settings of chorales for organ and oboe.

Mill Valley Annexation On Agenda

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission will consider a minor annexation to Mill Valley and two annexations to the Novato Sanitary District at 8:15 a.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The sanitary district annexations are of 11 parcels totaling 150 acres, scattered along Novato Boulevard from Grant Avenue to Wilson Drive, and a five-acre parcel along Vineyard Road, west of Eucalyptus Avenue.

The Mill Valley annexation consists of one-tenth of an acre in the redwood camp area, west of the city.

Former Eisenhower Pilot Found Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Air Force Col. William G. Draper, 44, personal pilot to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower during two White House terms, died early yesterday. The Air Force attributed his death to hanging.

The Air Force said the body of the officer was discovered in his home by his wife, Ruth.

A pilot since he was 19, Draper had retired from the Air Force in October, 1963, having earlier suffered a heart attack while assigned to the U. S. Alaska command.

Draper became Eisenhower's personal pilot when the general took over as supreme commander of the Allied powers in Europe.

Novato Fire District Due First Survey In 10 Years

The first survey in 10 years is being made of the Novato Fire District by representatives of the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.

When completed in about a week, the survey may lower the fire insurance rating from class five to class four, said Fred E. Kaiser of the bureau. This would give residents a reduction just under 10 per cent in insurance rates, said Frank Perachiotti, insurance agent.

The district has made major improvements since it was last surveyed in 1954, Kaiser said.

These include more paid firemen, more engines, more fire hydrants, a fire prevention bureau, and a fire zone one regulation in the business district of the city, which requires fire-resistant walls.

"One of the major improvements is the new phone-fire alarm system," Kaiser stated. He said that this double phone-alarm system was the first of its kind anywhere.

The improvement of the water source was also mentioned as one of the major factors. He pointed out that the Russian River aqueduct has increased the available source of water by two and one-half times. This raises the supply from four million gallons per day from Stafford Lake by an added six million gallons per day from the Russian River, or a total of 10 million gallons a day, he said.

When the last survey was made in 1954, Novato had 8,500 people. Now there are 22,000 people in the fire district, Kaiser said.

"It will be up to the study of the report to see if the fire department has grown as fast as the city," Kaiser said. It will take a little more than three months to learn the results of the study, he added.

Death Sentence For Second Time

SANTA ANA (AP)—Joseph B. Morse, 20, convicted of strangling a fellow prisoner, was sentenced to death yesterday for the second time in his life.

The jury had recommended a death penalty and Superior Court Judge Robert B. Kneeland imposed the sentence, saying:

"In my opinion Morse received a fair trial and the jury made a just verdict under the evidence presented."

He was convicted of strangling Thomas Taddei, 23, in San Diego County Jail last Aug. 14.

Earlier, Morse had been sentenced to death for the slaying of his mother and crippled 12-year-old sister, but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment in a second penalty trial.

Library To Close For Memorial

The Sausalito Public Library will be closed from 10 a.m. to noon tomorrow as an expression of sorrow over the death of Mrs. Walter J. Flegal, library trustee, in a plane crash in Rome Monday.

Memorial services for Mrs. Flegal and her daughter Eleanor, who also died in the crash, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

LAURA GAVRE
Chosen for DAR award

Drake Girl Receives DAR Award

Senior Laura Gavre has received the Daughters of the American Revolution good citizenship award at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Selected by a faculty awards committee on the basis of dependability, service to the school and community, leadership, and patriotism, Laura represents El Marinero chapter of DAR.

To qualify for further honors, she will take a United States history test with other Marin high school recipients of DAR awards. On the basis of this, she may qualify as district winner; from this level she may compete for a $100 bond on the state level, then a $1000 scholarship on the national level.

Laura will receive a pin of recognition at a tea in the spring. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gavre of 54 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo.

Book League Award

LONDON (AP)—John Masefield, poet laureate since 1930, has been voted the $7,000 National Book League award for British authors over 65. He's 86.

Foundation Gives To College Fund

CHICAGO—The Standard Oil Foundation has announced an unrestricted educational grant of $35,000 to the United Negro College Fund.

John E. Swearingen, president of the foundation, said the 1964 amount is the latest in a series of educational grants to the fund annually over the past 20 years, amounting to nearly $250,000.

Army Nurse Will Retire

Army nurse Maj. Dorothy J. Eck of 12 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, will retire this month after 20 years of service. She plans to make her permanent home in Corte Madera.

Major Eck has been stationed at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco for the last 13 months.

She joined the service during World War II and was stationed on hospital ships and military transports in the Pacific Theater. Her overseas assignments were in Puerto Rico, Japan, Germany and during 1962-63 in Korea.

Besides Letterman, Major Eck's stateside assignments have been at Chicago, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Student Exchange Program Extended

VERONIQUE KROON

HANS POLSTRA
From Holland to Marin

By JEANNE DeWILDE
Redwood High School Student

Redwood High School has extended its foreign student exchange program. Youth for Understanding, directed by the Presbyterian Church, has sent its first representatives, Hans Polstra and Veronique Kroon, from Holland to Marin to experience a year in the U. S. A.

Veronique, better known as "Nikkie," comes from Haarlem, Holland, where she recently graduated from a girls' high school. Now, as a senior at Drake, she is attending a co-educational school for the first time in her life.

From age three to 14, Veronique lived in South Africa and Southern Rhodesia, where she went to English schools and acquired her strong British accent. She has specialized in languages and can speak French, German, English, and some Spanish, in addition to Dutch.

This year she is taking English, third year Spanish, humanities, U. S. government, typing, and physical education. She took an active interest in the presidential election, and since then has been busy collecting campaign buttons and bumper stickers to take home as souvenirs.

One of Nikki's first impressions of America was that she loved to watch the sports cars on the roads because she rarely saw them in Holland. Among her favorite sports are hockey, tennis, horseback riding, swimming, and skating. Nikki and her friends would often take picnic lunches and hitch-hike to the nearby beach, 10 miles from Haarlem. She loves rock-and-roll, and plays classical music on the piano.

"In the winter," she said, "the canals freeze over and groups of people buy tickets to skate for miles along the frozen waterways with guides. The trips usually take all day with many stops at tents that serve hot soup."

Nikki's American home is with the George Klein family of 110 Stetson Avenue, Kentfield.

Hans Polstra, who is living with the John McGee family of Winship Drive, Ross, comes from Wassenaar, a suburb of The Hague. Hans is having little language difficulty at Redwood. He studied English for six years and had many American friends in The Hague.

"I was not very surprised about California and the American customs when I came here," Hans explained, "because my American friends told me all about the United States before I got here."

Hans attended a public school through sixth grade, then enrolled in a co-educational high school where he was elected student body president in his junior year. "We had about 1,000 students in the school but less spirit for the school than there is at Redwood," he said. He added, though, that he thought Redwood was considerably easier scholastically.

Sports was Hans's major activity outside of school. He played on the field hockey, track, soccer, baseball, and swimming teams. "But," he commented, "they were not comparable to American teams because they never practiced. Instead you would join a sports club and practice there."

Hans had a heavy load of subjects, all of which were required. He took each subject only three or four times a week. When he graduated last year he had had eight years of French, five of German, and six of English. He also took chemistry, world history, economics, Dutch government, bookkeeping, and business law. Hans has been accepted at a two-year business school which he will attend upon his return to Holland.

At Redwood, Hans is taking Russian, Spanish, English, public speaking, U. S. history, and physical education.

In Holland Hans was president of the school's Drama Club. This year he has joined Redwood's Drama Club and has appeared in the fall play, "Take Her, She's Mine."

During the summers the Polstra family would go to Italy, where they have a home. The last two summers Hans has been a dockworker in Rotterdam. As for earning money here, he remarked, "There is always babysitting and gardening, and besides, I'm pretty handy with the diapers."

Junior Service Club Elects

Jeff Greenburg has been elected president of the junior service honorary club at Terra Linda High School.

Other officers are Penny Brody and Joyce Harrop, vice presidents and Pat Byrne, treasurer.

The organization is to give recognition to students who have performed outstanding service to the school by their junior year.

Christmas Formal

Kathi Switzer was appointed chairman of the Terra Linda High School Christmas formal, scheduled for Dec. 12, by Jackie Nyhus, social chairman of the Associated Girl Students.

Communications Link

BOMBAY, India (AP)—A telecommunications link has been set up between the residence of Valerian Cardinal Gracias, archbishop of Bombay, and the Vatican during the international eucharistic congress Saturday through Dec. 6. Pope Paul VI arrives here Wednesday.

Count Of Monte Cristo Recognized

By PRESTON GROVER

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — The Count of Monte Cristo, who never existed outside of a Dumas novel, has finally won a measure of recognition as a prisoner in the rocky dungeon of the Isle of If.

The Ile d'If, as the French have it, is a bare rock that juts up from the Mediterranean just outside the harbor of Marseille. In 1524, King Francis I built a dungeon prison on it and it soon acquired a sordid history as a place where political prisoners were locked away in dark and nearly forgotten cells, often without any semblance of a trial. Some were imprisoned there even late into the last century.

However, it was just another dread French prison until Alexander Dumas, son of a French general under Napoleon, wrote his novel called "The Comte de Monte Cristo."

The "count" was not a count, even in the novel, until long after he escaped from the dungeon. He was Edmont Dantes, an unlucky 19-year-old merchant ship captain whose envious friends accused him of conspiring to help release Napoleon from exile in Elba in 1815. As Dumas wrote it, even Napoleon in the hectic "hundred days" that ended with Waterloo didn't get around to releasing him.

So, for 14 years this mythical young sailor was lost in the dungeon of the Chateau d'If. Ah yes, there was treasure. A Catholic Abbe, in an adjoining cell, gave him daily schooling until he was a cultured gentleman, told him of a church treasure hidden on the isle of Monte Cristo, then died.

Dantes, now 33, took the place of the dead Abbe in the burial sack and in the middle of the night was flung off the parapet into the sea with a cannon ball tied to his shroud to take him down.

But with a knife he had secreted, he cut himself out of the sack and escaped. After a desperate swim through a stormy sea he made his way to the island of Monte Cristo — which does exist and belongs to Italy. There he dug up the treasure, bars of gold, gold coins and fist fulls of diamonds, and set out to avenge himself against his traitorous enemies, reward his friends and find the sweetheart from whose side he was torn on the evening before their wedding.

For years, little boats have carried tourists by tens of thousands out to the chateau prison. One of the boats is named the Count of Monte Cristo, and the ticket hucksters sing all about "his" imprisonment on the island.

A half dozen years ago, on a previous trip, I was told by a conscientious guide at the chateau that there was no Count of Monte Cristo, that he never was in prison there — and then shown the dark cells where he would have been kept, if he had been there. However, the guide pointed out that there was no sign on the walls making any phony claims. Clearly some of the tourists, even the French visitors, refused to believe him.

"I have been cheated," a French tourist exclaimed.

The myth persists, and the guides have given up. On a recent trip I saw one dungeon cell now marked with a painted sign saying coyly:

"The so-called cell of Edmont Dantes, count of Monte Cristo."

There are other cells and other histories, all too true, of priests, princes and noblemen who spent dismal years in the dark cells, some to die, others to gain release. The dates are there, and the names on many cells.

No date is given over the "cell" of the Count of Monte Cristo. Dumas gave it as 1815, just as Napoleon was sailing away in the dark from the Isle of Elba to plunge Europe into another 100 days of war.

AT ENTRANCE, tourists visit the dungeon "cell" of the Count of Monte Cristo, on France's Isle of If.

Song Leaders Are Elected

The "Playmates," led by Janet Schwab of Greenbrae, captured 311 votes to be elected song leaders for the College of Marin spring semester in an election at the college Tuesday and yesterday.

The team beat out the "Baskettes," which drew 269 votes.

In the balloting for yell leaders, none of the four teams could capture a clear majority, and a runoff between the "Foul Outs," with 232 votes, and "Hal's Angels," with 175, will be held Monday and Tuesday. The other yell leader contingents were "Take Five," with 113 votes, and "Red Mountain Boys," 31.

Kidnaper To Get Parole

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A man who has spent 24 years in prison for kidnaping the son of a prominent San Mateo County couple will be released on parole, the state reported Tuesday.

Wilhelm J. Muhlenbroich, 64, was given a life sentence in 1940, the year he kidnaped Marc Louis Marie Edwin deTristan, 2, son of Count and Countess deTristan of Hillsborough. The boy was found two days later, unharmed, with Muhlenbroich.

Muhlenbroich will be released when adequate arrangements are made for housing and employment. He will be on parole the rest of his life, the Adult Authority said.

Jobless Payments Rules Are Changed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians who cannot work because of sickness or injury not caused by their jobs will receive a maximum of $80 a week in disability insurance payments next year, the state has reported.

Director Albert B. Tieburg of the Department of Employment said the increase from $77 a week is due to a boost in average weekly wages in employment covered by the California unemployment insurance code.

Marin Grid Star Named All-Coast

UCLA tackle Kent Francisco of San Rafael has been named to the first team of the United Press International's All-Coast football squad, it was announced today.

Francisco, former San Rafael High School star, stands 6-2 and weighs 220 pounds. A 22-year-old senior, he was the Bruins' co-captain this season.

Other first team picks: Ends Ray Palm, Oregon, and Jack Schraub, California; tackle Rich Koeper, Oregon St.; guards Jack O'Billovich, Oregon St. and John Chapple, Stanford; center Dave Tobey, Oregon; quarterback Craig Morton, California; halfbacks Mike Garrett, USC, and Clarence Williams, Washington State; fullback Ray Handley, Stanford.

Redlegs' Pinson Is Not For Sale

CINCINNATI (AP) — Reds president Bill DeWitt said yesterday reports that Cincinnati may trade outfielder Vada Pinson were wishful thinking by other clubs.

"We've never discussed a deal with any club involving Pinson," DeWitt said.

"To the Reds it is just as inconceivable to trade Pinson as it would be for the Giants to swap Willie Mays or the Braves deal Hank Aaron. Vada is in the same class," he said.

Irish, Alabama Reject Bowl Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unbeaten Notre Dame and Alabama, the nation's first and second-ranked college football teams, have rejected an offer to meet here in a post-season bowl game, sponsors of the game announced last night.

Both teams had been offered $300,000 and expenses to play Dec. 12 in Washington's D.C. Stadium in what would have been the first annual Presidential Bowl.

Rose Bowl Vote Slated Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michigan's western opponent in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1 will be chosen immediately after the Southern California-Notre Dame game Saturday.

Should the Irish beat USC as expected, Oregon State is likely to be the choice to represent the Pacific Athletic Conference in Pasadena. Oregon State and USC finished the regular season tied for the PAC championship with 3-1 records.

Should Southern Cal beat top-ranked Notre Dame, however, the Trojans presumably would stand a good chance of winning the bid.

Mrs. Gaylord Wins Tourney

Mrs. John Gaylord was trophy winner Tuesday at the Indian Valley Golf Club with a low net of 70.

Winners were:

Class A — Mrs. Arthur Sears, 85-16—69; Mrs. William May, 83-11—72; Mrs. Lynn Sumpter, 90-17—71.

Class B—Mrs. John Gaylord, 93-23—70; Mrs. Warren Smith, 98-22—76; Mrs. Harry Hartmann, 98-22—76.

Class C—Mrs. Thomas Hardcastle, 104-29—75; Mrs. Charles Zapelli, 101-25—76; Mrs. George Peavy, 109-31—78.

Redwood Wins Cage Opener

Redwood High School's basketball team, paced by Charley Davis' 23-point spree, opened its season with a 59-45 victory over Analy High of Sebastopol yesterday at the Redwood gym. Tom Bly with 12 and Don Detrick with 9 were other high Redwood scorers.

Analy won the Class B encounter, 34-32.

NFL Paints Rosy Picture Of Itself In 90-Page Brochure

Jack Hanley

Springboard to success. That's what Pete Rozelle calls the National Football League. Naturally, the NFL commissioner might be expected to speak well of the league that pays him $60,000 a year.

However, Rozelle pulls out all the stops in a handsome 90-page brochure which describes the NFL in glowing terms designed to arrest the attention of this year's college football stars for whom the NFL and rival American Football League will make draft bids Saturday.

Speaking directly to the pro stars of the future, Rozelle says "the NFL should be considered simply as a springboard to an ultimate goal in life. Or, to be more current, perhaps we should should use the term 'launching pad' since so many NFL players have skyrocketed to important positions in industry, commerce and the financial world."

FOLLOWING THESE stirring words are six pages of pictures of famous NFL alumni, including Supreme Court Justice Byron (Whizzer) White reading a law book, Dr. Dan Fortmann looking at an X-ray, Frankie Albert with a big smile that might have been prompted by his 5 per cent dividend check from the 49ers, and a dozen others.

The brochure devotes two pages to the NFL pension plan, $437 monthly for a five-year veteran at retirement age, $656 monthly for a 10-year man and $821 monthly for an iron man who can play for 15 years in the NFL's violent world.

ANOTHER PAGE is devoted to life insurance of $20,000 and medical coverage that includes 80 per cent of hospital and surgical expenses up to $10,000 for players, their wives and children.

The brochure also mentions special rewards for a rookie lucky enough to be on a championship team. Steve Barnett, John Johnson, Larry Glueck and Bob Jencks each got the same winner's share, $5,899.77, as every other Bear from last year's championship game.

EIGHT ROOKIES with the losing Giants got checks for $4,218.15 just as Y. A. Tittle and other veterans did.

Starting NFL salaries are not mentioned but the brochure doesn't overlook any of the fringe benefits, which the rival AFL, a young outfit, as yet can't match. So the AFL, now equipped with TV millions, may be expected to concentrate on starting salaries and bonuses in talking to this year's college talent.

Warriors Sink Deeper

BOSTON (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors have sunk deeper into last place in the western division of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors dropped a 122-118 decision last night to the Boston Celtics.

The Celtics' Tom Heinsohn scored eight points in the last 80 seconds to give Boston the win.

With 1:50 left to play the Warriors held a 115-112 lead. But Bill Russell blocked Wilt Chamberlain's shot and Sam Jones was given a basket when Chamberlain was called for goal tending.

Heinsohn then came through with three baskets and a pair of free throws.

Chamberlain was the game's high scorer with 27 points.

The victory enabled the Celtics to gain a full game on the Cincinnati Royals who lost at Baltimore.

Lee Jamison Of Drake Is Named Prep Of The Week

By RALPH CHATOIAN

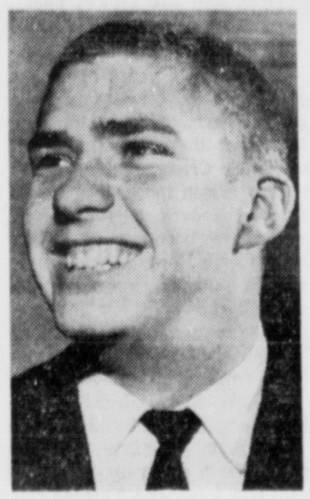
Lee Jamison, Drake High School tackle with an eye out for the Naval Academy, has been named Prep of the Week for his play against Terra Linda High last Saturday in the championship Marin Athletic League game in Kentfield.

Jamison, 17, was named the week's top prep by I-J sportswriters who covered the game, won by Drake 35-18. The 6-0, 225-pound Jamison will be graduated next June and hopes to land an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

A good student at Drake, Jamison is a member of the honor roll and currently carries a 3.04 grade point average which is slightly higher than straight-B.

Jamison was the starting left tackle for the Pirates both on offense and defense this year and last season as a junior. He came to Drake his sophomore year and played second string on the varsity.

His play in last Saturday's game was excellent both on offense and defense. He was in every play of the game up to the last two minutes when head coach Bob Franceschini tried to empty his bench.



LEE JAMISON
Top prep

"He has great lateral movements," said coach Franceschini. "That's why he was around the vicinity of the play all day against Terra Linda." His coach said he felt Jamison was the team's top lineman. The other coaches in the league must have felt the same way when they chose him to both the offensive and defensive All-Marin Athletic League teams Monday.

"He has never missed a day of practice in the three years I have had him," said Franceschini. He has never been injured and has made every game for us."

"He's an excellent blocker," praised Franceschini. "And he hasn't reached his peak yet. I think he is very good college material."

He was nominated for the Marin County Scholar-Athlete award for linemen by Drake because of his talents behind the books as well as on the gridiron.

Witnesses in his foursome were Jack Blaine, Carter Ashley and George Connolly.

Amazing Streak By Santa Clara Kegler

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim St. John, the 34-year-old defending champion from Santa Clara, Calif., held a commanding lead today in the eighth annual $52,000 World's Invitational Bowling Tournament.

The 16 men finalists have finished only three matches and 12 games of their scheduled 16 matches and 64 games that run through Sunday, and there wasn't a man in the field who wasn't about ready to concede the title to St. John.

St. John turned the 1963 tournament into a near shambles when he won by the largest margin in history and the slender former Navy career man seems out to beat that record this year and pick up the $7,500 first prize.

In moving into first place yesterday in the first day of match game competition, St. John rolled the 12th 300 game in the tournament history, shot the highest two four-game series in history—1,035 and 1,028 in successive outings—and compiled 21 strikes in a row, nine to end a 270 game and the 12 that made up the 300 game.

St. John's sensational firing left him far in front of the field with 71.15 Petersen points. Pete Tountas of Chicago is second with 62.44 and Tom Harnisch of Buffalo, N.Y., ranks third with 61.28.

In his amazing streak, St. John won 11 of 12 games and averaged a fantastic 251, shooting games of 279 and 278 in addition to his 300.

Bobbie Shaler, a 36-year-old Chicago bowler, led the women with 56.41 points for 12 games and four matches of the scheduled 48 games and 16 matches. She is averaging more than 203, the only woman in the field over 200.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

East Side Of San Pablo Bay Hot, But Marin Side Is In Doldrums

STEVENS

Was it Kipling who remarked: "East is east, and west is west, and never the twain shall meet"? Anyhow, who ever it was might have been speaking of the San Pablo Bay. On the west side—along the Marin shore—the fishing has been in the doldrums the past week, while the east, or Contra Costa side, the striper striving, especially with bullhead baits, continues to be spectacular with big fish.

True, a few bass of worthwhile weight have been taken by the comparatively few who have baited up with bullheads, but, compared with the fish taken on the Contra Costa side, fishing has been poor. Both China Camp and Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia so attest. By the same token, the Quans at China Camp and Joe Nerviani at Santa Venetia predict fishing the flats—the shell banks—will improve greatly from Saturday and over the weekend. Perhaps the east and the west will get acquainted.

THEY SAY "The proof of the pudding is the eating" . . . so the proof of fishing are the dependable reports from resorts, bait houses and individual results. So, let's take a quick look at such reports.

The authentic reports from Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett might interest you. Here are some of the catches.

BULLHEAD fishing from the boat Happy Days, and Dowrelio No. 6 has been exceptionally hot for lunker bass. Last Wednesday the Dowrelio docked with 14 bass to 22 pounds; on Thursday, Seven to 17 pounds; on Friday No. 6 left with a very short load; Sunday the No. 6 unloaded 7 sturgeon and six nice bass.

Carl Bennett called me on Monday to report production on Saturday was good and on Sunday still better. The larger fish were taken on bullheads, Carl said, and proceded to give honorable mention to one chap, Howard Holmes, whose lunker bass weighed a bit over 35 pounds. (Too bad Howie didn't wait awhile to garner a Schenley prize.)

Carl Bennett said that Buoys 5, 6, 8, 10 and 12 paid off, especially on bullheads. The average is estimated to have been about 14 pounds with quite a few in the 20 pound class. Mel Amaral had a limit to 17 pounds on Sunday; Herb Hanson fished with Mr. and Mrs. Rill; each had a limit—beautiful fish 18 to 22 pounds. Another trio that made the grade consisted of A. R. Montgomery, Stan Bell and Jay Johnson. They lacked one fish of limits to 18 pounds.

SOMEONE ASKED if fishing was good in the Alameda Estuary and that general area. Sorry, not a thing to talk about, unless, of course, you are willing to wade out over the soft mud to try for perch.

Not much to talk about with ducks — which are apparently not in a co-operative mood. This in spite of stormy weather. And that in spite of the rosy predictions. Ditto the Pheasant shooting.

Tam Cagers Lose Opener

Tamalpais High School's varsity basketball team lost to Woodrow Wilson High of San Francisco 62-22 Tuesday in the Tam gym.

It was the season opener for the Indians. The Tam Class B cagers also took it on the chin, 48-34.

(Independent-Journal photos)

MRS. C. H. PETERSON, left, with Mesdames Alice Tietjen and Erling Michaelsen, arranges the top tier of the tuna can and ornament decoration planned for the annual Christmas general meeting of the women of Marin Lutheran Church on Dec. 4. The tuna can tree is similar to those made by the members of St. Ann's Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal Church with the addition of colored felt and leaves around the outside of the cans and a decorative Christmas angel on top.

MRS. GEORGE M. Krough, publicity chairman for St. Ann's Guild, left, works on a calico elephant while talking with Miss Dorothy Sharp. Projects shown here include tuna can and nylon foam pin cushions, rooster pajama bag and nylon lint removers.

Pine Cone Festival Set On Dec. 4

The Pine Cone Festival of St. Ann's Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael will be held in the parish hall on Dec. 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a buffet luncheon served at 11:30 a.m.

The members of the Guild have been busily preparing for the Festival with various handicraft projects. The making of metal trees is an interesting process with gleaming ornamental trees as its reward. Empty tuna cans are cleaned and lids removed, then soldered together in graduated tiers. Before tiers are joined, ornaments are threaded through a hole on the top and secured with a piece of pipe cleaner.

The nylon puffs, which are serviceable as scrubbers, are pretty additions to the kitchen. A two-yard by six-inch length of nylon net material is folded lengthwise making it three inches in width.

Two of these lengths, either in matching or contrasting colors, are sewn together in the center and gathered with stitching to form a puff.

According to Mrs. George M. Krough, publicity chairman for the group, the stuffed animals are all washable as nylon hose is used for the stuffing. Aprons, jellies, cakes, breads, pies and Christmas decorations will also be sold at the Festival.

Director Tells Of Branch Formation

A Novato Branch of the Family Service Agency of Marin County is a definite possibility, Nicholas Suntzeff, executive director, told the Novato Branch of the American Assn. of University Women at their meeting.

The establishment of such a branch would be dependent on the formation of an FSA Auxiliary which could raise enough money to meet the increased administrative costs, Suntzeff said.

The group, meeting at the home of Mrs. John A. Coulter Jr. of 10 Washington Street, Novato, voted to support starting a Novato Branch of the Family Service Agency. Mrs. Raymond M. Johnson of 15 Nova Lane, Novato, was appointed to head a telephone committee to get names of interested persons.

In making a plea for a Novato Auxiliary, Suntzeff made it plain that he preferred to avoid branch operations.

"I want to spend as large a percentage (of income) as possible on direct services," he said.

Suntzeff stated that if he set up a branch in Novato, he probably would try to get money for a fifth staff member to run it, rather than shift a staff member from San Rafael.

Christmas Symbols Program Lutheran Women Planning

The women of Marin Lutheran Church in Corte Madera will hold their annual Christmas general meeting at 8 p.m. on Dec. 4.

Mrs. Allen Johnson, education secretary, is planning a program on American Christmas symbols.

New officers to be installed are Mesdames Ray Quale, president; Andrew Haxton, vice president; May Metzger, secretary; Hollis Stai, treasurer; Allen Johnson, education secretary; and Ralph Cain, stewardship secretary.

Mary and Elizabeth Circles are chairmen of refreshments and decorations.

60th Anniversary Celebrated

By MOLLY MARIN

Marking their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Seaton, who have lived in Corte Madera since their marriage in San Francisco. The party was held at the home of their granddaughter and her family, the Leland Jones of Novato. The guests included the couple's three children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seaton of Lake Tahoe, Mr. and Mrs. William Seaton of Corte Madera and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sand of Novato. Six of their eight grandchildren and five of their seven great-grandchildren attended the party.

SUSAN SMITH, who will become the bride of James MacGuire tomorrow, was honored at a luncheon by Mrs. Floyd Gilman and Mrs. Rudy Lang at the Cliff House on Saturday, and Susan was also honored at a shower and luncheon given by Mrs. Ralph C. Noah at her home in Belvedere.

ENJOYING A family dinner today are the Robert Metzgers of Peacock Gap who have their son Bobby with them and their daughter Jill, who is home from Whittier College, where she is a sophomore. Also hosting a family dinner is the James McCabes with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hunt, also of San Rafael, and Miss Emily T. McCabe, Mr. McCabe's aunt.

DR. AND MRS. John Osborn of the Belvedere Lagoon and their children, Mimi, Nancy, Cindy, Joe and Eddy, along with their friends Betty and Tom Ferguson of Belvedere and Mark Valens of Mill Valley,are spending the long weekend in a chalet they've taken at Granlibakken, near Squaw Valley. Skiing will be one of the main events, of course, and today Mrs. Osborn is cooking the traditional dinner. The other Osborn sons, John Jr. is at Harvard and Olly is staying with friends in the Osborn home.

IN HILL HAVEN, Tiburon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yorkis Jr. are having dinner for Mrs. Yorki's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Rourke and Patricia Rourke, all of San Francisco. Mrs. Frank Yorkis Sr., also of San Francisco also attended the dinner.

MR. AND MRS. Irving Harris of the Belvedere Lagoon and their daughter Toni, who is home from the University of California at Davis for four days, had dinner at the home of Mr. Harris' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Harris of San Francisco and Belvedere, in San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. Eugene Chase of Tiburon and their two children, Kimberly and Gene Jr., had Thanksgiving dinner with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swapp in Pacifica. The Chases will move soon into the Japanese style home they have purchased in the Reedlands in Tiburon.

ON THE BELVEDERE Lagoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bunker and their two sons, Fred and Steve, were host to 20 members of Mr. Bunker's family today at their Thanksgiving dinner.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Joyce Claire Mattos of San Rafael to Roger L. Madden of Woodacre has been announced.

Joyce Mattos Will Marry R. Madden

Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Mattos of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Claire, to Roger L. Madden of Woodacre.

Joyce was graduated from San Rafael High School and College of Marin where she is presently employed. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Leah Mattos of San Rafael, Frank Mattos of Napa and Mrs. Rose Barbeiro of Live Oak.

Roger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Madden of Woodacre, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attends the College of Marin. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tool of LeRoy, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larson of Cambridge, Minn.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Holiday Bazaar Slated Dec. 5 By Churchwomen

The Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Women of St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Dec. 5 at the church.

Mrs. Eleanor Snare is chairman of the bazaar. In charge of the various booths will be Mesdames Arthur Clark, cake, candy and baked goods; Claude Titus, white elephant; Grover Partee, children's table and needlework; Harry Reynolds, plants; T. E. Dixson, handmade jewelry; David Walker, hospitality and David Lindsey, holiday decorations.

Entertainment will be provided for children attending with their parents. Coffee, tea and cake will be served in Shire's House, near the church where the food items will also be on sale. The other items will be sold in Block Hall.

Register Welcomes Member Of Jet Set

NEW YORK (UPI)—The social register today blackballed several members of the Rockefeller, Roosevelt, Vanderbilt, Rutherfurd, and Phipps clans and a descendant of Martha Washington, but it also welcomed a member of the international jet set.

The newly published 1965 New York edition of the register listed Mrs. John F. Kennedy at her new Fifth Avenue address. She had previously been listed in the Washington edition. None of her Kennedy in-laws is listed in the 79-year-old directory of old frontier society.

NOR DID MRS. KENNEDY'S sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, regain her listing, even though her marriage to Polish Prince Stanislas Radziwill received the sanction of the Roman Catholic Church earlier this year. The register dropped the princess when she took Radziwill as her second husband.

The welcome mat was out, however, to Lady Jeanne Campbell Mailer, divorced wife of novelist Norman Mailer and a member of "jet set" society.

Lady Jenne got her coveted line of type as the new wife of John S. Cram 3d, of Bluffton, S.C., descendant of philanthropist Peter Cooper and financier Jay Gould. She is the daughter of the Duke of Argyll and granddaughter of the late press tycoon Lord Beaverbrook.

APPARENTLY THE register's mysterious "advisory committee" which decides who is "in" or "out" was not impressed by the colonial forebears of Amy Krech of Easton, Md., including Martha Washington. She was bounced from the little black book following her marriage to Western State College student Thomas B. Knowles, Jr. of Denver, who was not previously registered.

ALSO "OUT," presumably for taking socially unknown spouses, were Florence Lincoln, a cousin of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller; Alida Sage, a cousin of presidents Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt; Elliot Bostwick, a descendant of Commodore Vanderbilt, and Peter A. B. Martin, descendant of oil tycoon Henry Phipps.

Miss Lincoln married Thomas L. Short of Rochester, N.Y., a student at the University of Texas. Miss Sage married engineer Kennett T. Richardson of Clark, N.J. Miss Bostwick became the wife of Lyman P. Wood, Jr., grandson of Christian Herald editor Daniel Poling, and Martin took Emma Williams of Manhasset, N.Y., as his bride.

THE REGISTER also deleted Mrs. Mary Armstrong Brown Rutherfurd following her divorce by Jay Rutherfurd, assistant U.S. chief of protocol and descendant of Chief Justice John Jay. He got his decree on the grounds that she was living with a beachcomber in Florida.

Dr. James S. Murphy, who fought a bitter court battle with his ex-wife, Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, over the custody of their children, is listed with his new bride, Victoria Thompson. She was already listed before their marriage.

The listing of Eaton Brooks of Darien, Conn., also weathered the publicity of his alleged complicity in a house-wrecking following a Southampton, N.Y., debutante party in 1963. A court acquitted Eaton and the register apparently accepted the verdict.

Marjorie Werbelow Bride Of George Norris Irvin Jr.

The First Baptist Church of San Anselmo was the setting for the 8 p.m. wedding on Nov. 7 of Marjorie Ann Werbelow of San Anselmo, daughter of Roger R. Werbelow of Santa Cruz and the late Mrs. Werbelow, and George Norris Irvin Jr. of San Anselmo.

The Rev. Jerald H. Traeger officiated and Dr. Edmund Irvin, cousin of the bridegroom, led the opening prayer in the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Marjorie wore a full length gown of ivory satin with long train. Judith Werbelow of San Anselmo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridemaids were Carol Werbelow, Mrs. John E. Dumon, Natalie Preston, Cindy Dumon and Victoria Dumon as junior bridesmaid, all of San Anselmo. All wore pink velveteen and crepe full length sheaths.

Sandra Traeger of Selma was flower girl and Daniel Dumon, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Dumon of San Anselmo, was ringbearer.

Stephen Gillis of San Francisco served as best man and ushering were Robert Seeberger of San Francisco, Roger Werbelow of Santa Cruz, brother of the bride, Donald Cordy, Peter Paolino and Robert Irvin, brother of the bridegroom, all of San Anselmo.

Marjorie received a bachelor of arts degree in social science from San Francisco State College and is presently employed at Mills Grammar School in Benicia.

She is the sister of Judith and Carol-lynn Werbelow of San Anselmo.

George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Norris Irvin of San Anselmo, was graduated from Drake High School and received a bachelor of arts degree in social studies from San Francisco State College. He is presently a teacher at Tamalpais High School.

PREFERS AMERICAN SCHOOLS—Michiko Jones, who moved from Japan to Marin County in 1962, prefers the informality of San Rafael High School to the strict regulation of Japanese schools. But in both places, she says, teen-agers are much alike. (Independent-Journal photo)

Japanese Girl Likes Schools In America

The United States is a place many Japanese teen-agers dream of visiting, according to Michiko Jones, 16, a San Rafael High School sophomore who emigrated from Japan to Nevada four years ago.

She and her mother, Mrs. Chieko Jones of 1302 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, moved to Marin County in 1962. She has been pleased to find American schools much different from those in Japan.

Japanese schools are very strict and no talking is allowed without permission of the teacher, said Mikki, as she is called by her friends. Girls must take sewing, dancing and cooking even if they don't want to, and all students must pay for the privilege of going to high school.

If a family is too poor to pay for educating their high school-aged children, formal education ends with graduation from junior high, she said.

When she came to the United States, Mikki spoke only Japanese. Her knowledge of the English language increased rapidly as she went to American schools and made American friends.

Mikki pointed out that Japanese and American teen-agers have similar interests. They all like the Beatles, she reported.

Japanese teen-agers rave about their own version of the famed English quartet and listen to popular music sung by Kyu Sakamoto, one of the most popular singers in Japan, whose American counterpart is Elvis Presley, according to Mikki.

Mikki added that Japanese teen-agers adopt the American way of life very quickly and avidly. They like American movies and American singers, even though they can't understand English.

Grand Jury Studies News Supression Case

Marin County Grand Jury Tuesday night held inquiry into a charge of news suppression against Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, but results of the investigation were withheld pending conclusion of a Marin Superior Court trial, according to J. Warren Crane, foreman.

The trial is that of John P. Lee, 34-year-old former San Anselmo man charged with hit-run. An Independent-Journal editorial Sept. 18 accused Bales of attempting to clamp down on release of information and mentioned the Lee case. Bales asked the investigation.

Dear Customers

I sincerely hope that you are enjoying your Thanksgiving Holiday. Today I would like to tell you about our Fresh Produce Program. Our distribution plant is located at the Golden Gate Produce Terminal in South San Francisco. Here is the greatest concentration of fresh vegetables in Northern California. In addition, our affiliated buyers are located as far away as Florida and in every major growing area. This has come about from our desire to serve you better than anyone else. This week our Potato buyer has purchased in Klamath Falls area of Oregon (where in his opinion the soil and climatic conditions produce the finest Potato available) several carloads of these fine Potatoes. We are proud to offer you these fine Potatoes at a price that is only possible from an organization such as ours. Try some today... They are the finest Potatoes that money can buy!

Let Us Join Nation In Rededicating Ourselves

Despite some hate and violence that continue to plague mankind, all of us have much to be thankful for as we reflect on our many blessings.

Bitter as the election year has been, the country is once again united behind its leaders in working to make this country and the world a better place for all peoples.

President Johnson's Thanksgiving Day proclamation goes beyond the call for the nation to offer thanks for the physical blessings which we enjoy in this free nation of ours. He has appealed for all citizens to practice the ideals of human equality and justice on which the nation is founded.

"We are filled with an instinctive impulse to give thanks for our free society of free men, free institutions and free elections," the President's message states. "Our freedom of speech, our freedom of the press and our freedom of worship as our conscience dictates."

The President then proposes that the nation "pray to Him that the forces of evil, violence, indifference, intolerance and inhumanity may soon vanish from the face of the earth and that peace, reason and understanding and good will may reign supreme throughout the world."

These are welcome words at a time when bigotry and discrimination still blot a portion of our populace, when racism manifests itself in some quarters by oppression of fellow citizens, and when some of our neighbors feel the rantings of demagogues crying out against the Jews or against others who follow their right to worship as they choose.

As we turn our attention to the turkey and the sage and reflect on the many physical bounties that we enjoy, we might also reflect for a moment on the words of the President and to the little human frailties to which we succumb at one time or another.

In human relationships both big and small, in the race for space and survival, and in the race for individual wealth, comfort and prestige, we let fall a harsh word here and an unkind or thoughtless act there.

Each of these may have left little hurts and little scars, that if unattended, can grow into breaches and unbridgeable chasms in the lives of families, communities and nations.

On this Thanksgiving Day, we can pause for a moment's gratitude for the tolerance and patience of our fellow men, the healing qualities of time, and for the many blessings we still have despite our many shortcomings.

Let us join the nation in rededicating ourselves to the principles of justice, equality and fair play upon which our nation was founded and through which it has grown and prospered.

SUPREME COURT RULING

Senate Is Facing Big Headache Of How To Reapportion Itself

(First in a three-part series on the U. S. Supreme Court decision ordering all houses of state legislatures to be apportioned on a population basis.)

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—History may prove that the U. S. Supreme Court's decision of last June 15 — ordering that both houses of the legislatures of all the states be apportioned solely on the basis of population — had more far-reaching effects than the integration decisions of 1954.

Reaction to the June 15 order has been slower than to the integration decision. The consequences of that action were more clear. In reapportionment, however, the states must go from what has been the traditional form of government into an unknown theater.

THE JUNE 15 decision appears to be a clear case of the nation's highest court exerting its authority over the will of the people of the states. In California, for instance, voters have turned down attempts to change the system for election of the State Senate.

In 1960, an initiative on the ballot required the Senate to be districted on the so-called 20-20 plan—20 senators from the north and 20 from the southern counties. The voters refused this by a vote of 3,408,090 to 1,876,185, even though the majority of California voters are in the southern counties which would have gained representation through enactment of the initiative.

Under the California constitution, no county may have more than one senator and no senator may represent more than three counties. Senate districts may not include parts of counties.

THESE RESTRICTIONS result in the situation where the 28th Senate District — Inyo, Mono and Alpine counties—has a total population of 15,600, according to the State Department of Finance population figures for July 1. Los Angeles County has one Senate district, with a population of 6,737,300.

If the high court's edict of "one man, one vote" were carried out to the letter in California it would mean one senator for each 455,850 persons. This would mean 14.7 senators for Los Angeles County and that 23 other counties would have to combine to have a single senator.

These counties would be Modoc, Lassen, Plumas, Del Norte, Siskiyou, Trinity, Shasta, Sierra, Nevada, Placer, Amador, El Dorado, Tuolumne, Mariposa, Calaveras, Alpine, Inyo, Mono, Tehama, Glenn, Colusa, Lake and San Benito. These counties presently have eight senators, plus two counties are in other Senate districts.

THOSE 23 COUNTIES have, among other things, just about all the water resources in California — developed and undeveloped. They have most of the recreational lands, many of the hydroelectric power installations, most of the state's timber, and a big part of the area of the state.

All they lack is people.

How fast must California comply with the Supreme Court action, or is compliance going to be necessary at all?

These have been two of the biggest questions in California since June 15 and there are a number of opinions on both.

Sen. Stephen P. Teale (D-West Point), chairman of a special Senate committee on reapportionment, feels the reapportionment must take place as soon as the 1965 Legislature convenes.

TEALE'S THEORY, which is shared by a number of other senators, is that the state is subject to a federal court order setting up new district lines if it does not act on its own. Their idea is that any reapportionment drawn up by the Senate would be preferable to an arbitrary order of the courts.

Some of California's representatives in Congress are optimistic that the whole reapportionment question may be averted. This is based on a hope the 1965 Congress might approve an amendment to the federal constitution which would permit states to apportion their legislative houses as they wished.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) and Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), among others, have announced plans to introduce legislation to this effect as soon as the new Congress convenes.

CHARITY: NUMBER ONE VIRTUE

Charity is one word that is easier to define than put into practice.

The dictionary defines "charity" as the "act of loving all men as brothers because they are sons of God; goodwill to the poor and suffering; almsgiving or public provision for the needs of the poor."

One source points out that "charity consists not only in being exteriorly helpful but also in being interiorly well disposed towards one's neighbor."

Seneca, the Roman statesman and philosopher (65 A.D.), observed: "We should give as we would receive, cheerfully, quickly and without hesitation, for there is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers."

The Hebrew Talmud wisely says: "Loving kindness is greater than laws; and the charities of life are more than all ceremonies."

The great Augustine in the 5th century stated: "Nothing conquers except truth; the victory of truth is charity."

"By this will all men know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another." (John 13:35)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, to show my love for others by actions as well as words.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Merchant' Still Called Anti-Semitic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If a neighbor had not noticed a little gem on page five of your paper on Monday, Nov. 16, announcing the meeting of the Tamalpais High School District board at 8 p.m. and had not called me at 7:45 p.m. to tell me of it, then on Nov. 17 you would not have been able to run the excellent front page article that you did under the heading, "Father Says 'Merchant' Drips With Venom And Anti-Semitism." For neither the board nor the district superintendent had had the courtesy to notify me of their intended consideration of the matter. . . . Had I been invited, I might have anticipated that I would be asked to address the board and therefore would have made some preparation. As it was, my remarks were completely impromptu.

The report on the "Merchant of Venice" drawn up by a committee of educators . . . had been submitted earlier for the board's consideration and was accepted by them at the meeting without the report being read, discussed or in any way made available. . . . However, a day or so later, I did receive a copy of the report from the superintendent's office and was surprised to discover right in the heart of the report on page four, this statement, which I myself would be willing to accept as the heart of my case against "The Merchant of Venice" being in the school curriculum:

"No one is denying that there are anti-Semitic sentiments in the play. To most of the other characters in the play, Shylock is an object of ridicule and revulsion because he is a Jew."

That this has an anti-Semitic effect on audiences or readers was well evidenced by member of the board John C. Siemens, whom you report as saying:

"If Shylocks do still exist, then it is best that they be exposed in the classroom, where the students can be guided."

In other words, aside from whatever merits the play may have as a literary classic, Mr. Siemens finds the text most useful to warn students about the possibility of meeting up with this real-life menace, Shylock the Jew. And that Shylock is commonly used as an epithet and term of abuse against Jews because of its perpetuation by the playing and teaching of this play is, of course, common knowledge.

My case against using "The Merchant of Venice" in the school curriculum is made in detail and with great scholarship by Morris U. Schappes in his pamphlet, "Shylock And Anti-Semitism," of which I enclose a copy for your reading pleasure and for publication in the Independent-Journal, for which I have the author's written permission. He has also agreed to make available for free distribution as many copies of the pamphlet as I may need. Therefore anyone who sends me a stamped, self-addressed envelope at least nine inches long, may have a copy free.

Prop. 14 Vote Is Defended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

One of the saddest and silliest misunderstandings since the election is the belief, which has several times been printed in the I-J, that the people of California, in rejecting the Rumford Act, were slapping the minorities, particularly the Negroes, in the face.

In Marin at any rate it simply wasn't so. The dozens of "yes" voters whom I have polled since the election are substantially without race prejudice. They voted "yes" for all or some of the following reasons.

They are revolted by the conduct of CORE and feel that the Rumford Act gave CORE a legal gimmick with which to make more trouble for innocent people. . . .

They feel that an apartment owner cannot run a pleasant apartment house unless he tries to exclude undesirables; prostitutes, thieves, trouble makers, people who won't care for his property and people who won't pay the rent. He has to do this by instinct, which will sometimes be wrong, and he should not be forced to give his reasons for refusing to rent to anybody. . . .

Surprisingly to me many good church people voted "yes" at least in part because the Church was so urgently urging them to vote "no." Apparently a lot of people still remember why the Pilgrim Fathers had to leave England and they believe that part of the defense of freedom consists of keeping the Church out of politics. . . .

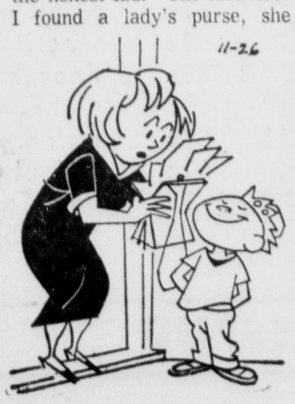
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

FORTUNATE was the Wilmington lady who lost her handbag in a shopping center recently: An honest lad found it and returned it to her. "Funny," commented the lady. "When I misplaced the bag there was a 10-dollar bill in it. Now I find 10 one-dollar bills."

"That's right, lady," agreed the honest lad. "The last time I found a lady's purse, she didn't have any change for a reward."



AN AMERICAN in a Moscow bus suddenly exclaimed loudly, "That miserable, double-crossing dictator!" When a Soviet official grabbed him and threatened to have him thrown into jail, the American explained, "It was Nasser of Egypt I was thinking of." The Russian argued, "Don't try to tell me nonsense like that. There's only one miserable, double-crossing dictator!"

A FOREIGNER was explaining why he gave up trying to learn English. "When I found out that if I was quick I was fast," he complained, "and that if I was tied I was fast, if I spent too much on girls I was fast, and that not to eat is to fast, I was discouraged. But when they showed me the sentence, 'The first one won one one-dollar prize,' I quit altogether."

Dayton May Be Next Target For Anti-Fair Housing Move

DAYTON, OHIO, MAY become the next victim of the real estate lobby's unprecedented nation-wide scare campaign to repeal or prevent fair housing laws.

The realty crowd, reported to have sunk four million dollars into their successful referendum campaign to kill all such codes in California, is spreading the gospel of "property rights" across the country—omitting to mention that the right to property is meaningless unless one has the right to buy it as well as sell it.

In Dayton, a fair housing bill introduced in the city commission is the focal point of the latest attack by the realtors. Although religious and civic-minded groups have lined up solidly behind it, the home brokers are collecting signatures to obtain a referendum on the issue. If they can put it to popular vote, home owners—like those in California—may well be bilked into killing the fair housing bill.

IF SO, THE 57,000 Negro citizens—who make up 22 per cent of Dayton's people—will be sealed into their ghettos like outcasts in the wards of medieval Morocco and Aleppo (i. e., or like modern-day Harlem). Even worse, the ghetto slum, whose families are enriching the coffers of the realtors, will gradually spread outward under the benign direction of the slumlords, busy limiting supply so they can cash in on the demand.

That taxpayers pay at least twice as much for maintaining slums—the high price of city services ranging from leaky faucets to fighting fires—appears unimportant to the Dayton real estate men who want to keep Negroes confined to them. That the taxpayers also pay for the spreading of blight which results when the realtors cut up those old houses is never mentioned in their literature, either. Or how white home owners are gypped into selling cheap and Negro home-seekers are forced into buying dear.

Locally, the consequence of the ghetto is that the realtors can spread blight faster than the urban renewal forces can clean it up. A second consequence is that by forcing total neighborhood transition, the realtors are destroying the tax base of virtually every major U. S. city by creating a condition that drives white middle-class families into the suburbs.

THE WORST EVIL is how Negro families are denied decent housing. An impartial survey by the Advance Mortgage Corp. of Detroit disclosed that up to 15,000 Negro families in Chicago were seeking good housing but couldn't get it—although Urban League figures showed high vacancy rates in all-white city and suburban neighborhoods.

This is one reason why the Wall Street Journal last Aug. 26 carried an article titled "Housing Downturn — No. 1 Drag on the U. S. Boom." Do the realtors—when they refuse to sell to Negro families—ever tell jobless construction workers that many of them would have work if they hadn't damned up the demand for Negro housing? As the Journal noted, "The home building industry is both a giant employer of labor and a giant consumer of steel, wood, glass, plastics, appliances and many other industrial and consumer products."

Any white family that thinks it's bettering itself financially by refusing to sell to Negroes—or which tries to stop Negro families from moving in next door — is retarding the country's economic growth, its own prosperity, and helping to blight and destroy the city in which it lives.

If Dayton is wise, its people will pass the fair housing bill, break down the ghetto walls, establish a real free enterprise housing market, halt the spread of blight, the erosion of the tax base, and do what is morally and ethically right.

GOP Wants To See JFK-Nikita Letters

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — GOP party leaders are mounting a major effort to pry open the lid on the long-suppressed private Kennedy-Khrushchev correspondence.

Demands for publication of these secret exchanges, including letters dealing with the 1962 Cuban missile crisis will be made by Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Republican congressional leaders.

IN FOREIGN policy speeches and statements between Thanksgiving and the convening of Congress in January, these GOP spokesmen will call on President Lyndon B. Johnson to open this correspondence for congressional review, on the ground that neither the late President John F. Kennedy nor the ousted Soviet premier now hold official positions.

Their main argument will be that Congress and the public are entitled to know whether any informal agreements were made by the two leaders and, if so, whether these undisclosed accords are now in effect.

The GOP leaders plan to zero in on the Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange on Cuba, which reportedly dominates the more than 40 letters transmitted between Washington and Moscow.

ONE HIGH level administration official, with full access to this historic correspondence, told an inquiring Republican leader the White House would oppose release of the letters since President Johnson and the new Soviet leaders are continuing this form of summitry.

According to this informant, State Department authorities fear publication of the Kennedy-Khrushchev exchanges might cause a break-off of these private negotiations and spark a full-scale congressional investigation of this new form of U. S.-Soviet diplomacy.

This inside source stressed the correspondence definitely would raise congressional eyebrows since the Cuban letters would confirm that Khrushchev agreed to withdraw his missiles from Cuba and permit on-site inspection of the dismantled bases in exchange for a "no invasion" pledge from Kennedy.

THE EXCHANGES also show Khrushchev backed down on the inspection agreement after stalling around long enough to receive assurances that the U. S. naval "blockade" would not bar Soviet ships carrying supplies other than additional arms.

Granting of these assurances by Kennedy now appears to be a major blunder in the backstage negotiations which left the U. S. no way to find out definitely whether Khrushchev kept his pledge to withdraw the rockets. The deal also left a powerful Soviet combat force on the island, now estimated to include nearly 10,000 crack Russian troops.

By again spotlighting the secret Kennedy-Khrushchev letters, the GOP leaders hope to head off any move by President Johnson to normalize U. S.-Cuban relations by renewing diplomatic contact, as Castro is privately advocating.

Thanksgiving Is One Holiday That Somehow Remains Intact

ONE DAY OUT of the year for giving thanks is better than none at all.

The celebration in Massachusetts the first time was a community feast, and even the Indians were brought in, but giving thanks is actually a rather private matter.

Today Thanksgiving is a family affair—a time for gathering together of people—and the family, itself, may be a cause for thanks in a day when family ties are growing looser. Ever since the bomb, people have given thanks for being around to celebrate at all.

CHRISTMAS HAS become diluted as a holiday, until we now have a potlatch where a man gains status by what he gives away. Peace on earth and all that jazz is given fleeting notice.

But Thanksgiving has always remained intact, somehow. It is not merely a day when everyone eats too much of that sacrificial animal, the turkey.

But no matter how personal Thanksgiving is, there ought to be public things we can be thankful for now.

FOR INSTANCE, almost everyone must have found something in the recent election to be thankful for, although the defeats stir forth more emotion.

Conservationists, if they will bother to climb a hill away from a freeway, will find, and should be thankful, that most of Marin County is, in fact, open space.

Developers, on the other hand, can be pleased at the rapid growth of Marin's population and plans for new communities.

THOSE OF US who must keep track of many small public entities look upon approaching school district unification with pleasure and thanks, and wish other local forms of government could be induced to join into larger units.

But all those topics somehow just do not seem a propos for such an important holiday. A person would have to be deeply committed indeed to be truly thankful for such public items. They do not ring true because they are not important enough to all but a few of us.

In other words, a public interest would have to be a personal one for there to be occasion to even bother to mention it today. There would have to be intimate involvement.

PERHAPS IT IS just that intimate involvement that deserves the thanks. The lucky among us are those who do not have to do things for kicks, but do things because they are important. A job or a friendship or a cause deserving our enthusiasm is becoming rare.

Let's be thankful for those.

Students To Sell Humorous Sheet

Student Peter Menkin of Mill Valley may sell his humorous sheet, "Whomp," on campus at College of Marin, the student executive council decided Tues-

Sale of the sheet was approved as a club activity by a new club, the College of Marin Satyagraha, organized by Menkin. The Inter-Club Council approved the publication on Monday.

The student council set for Dec. 10 a student-faculty dinner at Woodlands Restaurant in Kentfield. Executive council members, new faculty members,, district trustees, inter-club council officers and alumni will be invited.

The Christmas formal was scheduled for Dec. 19 in the Gold Room of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Rallies were slated for Dec. 10 and 17 in the gymnasium.

Two-Car Wreck Causes Injury

Susan Ann Anderson, 18, of 160 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised neck and a cut left knee after she was in a two-car accident at Manuel T. Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue in San Rafael at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday.

San Rafael police had listed it as a non-injury accident, but Miss Anderson later went to the hospital for treatment.

Police said her eastbound car collided with that of Evelyn M. Renfree of 431 Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, travelling north on Las Gallinas Avenue.

Hospital, Insurance Plan Is Approved

Directors of Marinwood Community Services District Tuesday night approved a hospital and medical insurance plan for the district's five fulltime employees and their dependents.

On the recommendation of its insurance consultant, Paul Prehn, the board accepted a plan submitted by Traveler's Insurance Co. Coverage will become effective Dec. 1, with the district paying $25 and the employee $6 a month.

You Have Plenty To Give Thanks For If You Count

NEW YORK (AP)—There are always a few killjoys around on every holiday.

They can't stand the thought of mankind having an occasional day off from usual worries.

As Thanksgiving approaches, the cynics murmur, "The world's in a mess. What have I got to give thanks about? What has anybody?"

IF YOU ARE one of these gloom spreaders, take heed. There's always something in life to be grateful for. Right now.

For example:

In a free country such as this, you have just as much right to feel glum as the other fellow does to feel happy. Nobody will arrest you for wearing a sour face.

TURKEYS ARE not as large as ostriches. If they were, the problem of what to do with Thanksgiving dinner leftovers would be insuperable.

You don't have to face up to Santa Claus for another month, and you don't have to pay your Christmas bill until the first of the year.

The national elections are over, and you don't have to listen to political candidates point with pride and view with alarm.

THE WORLD IS getting quieter. The Beatles appeared on two recent television network programs: both times they won less than top ratings.

If you take the family to church, you probably will have less trouble finding a parking place than the Pilgrims did in fending off Indians.

The season for fighting crabgrass is past. So is the hay fever season.

IF YOU HAVEN'T been called in by now to explain your most recent income tax returns, the odds are that you won't be—at least before January.

In the Northern Hemisphere you are fairly safe for several months from snake bite, attacks by maddened sharks, and ambushes by preying octopuses.

It is easier to shave in the morning, as — according to many barbers — your beard doesn't grow as fast now as it does in summer.

YOU DON'T have to fret so much about being caught in a riot. Most people don't enjoy rioting when the temperature drops below freezing.

About now the children start giving less trouble, figuring virtue will get its reward on Dec. 25.

No one has dropped a hydrogen bomb in anger or by error.

Nothing to be grateful for this Thanksgiving?

Why, man, think it over. When you get right down to it, you're riddled with blessings.

Today is Thursday, Nov. 26, the 331st day of 1964 with 35 to follow. This is Thanksgiving.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars Jupiter and Saturn.

In 1930, 25 per cent of all office space available in New York city's skyscrapers was up for rent in the wake of the depression.

In 1940, the Nazis forced 500,000 Jews of Warsaw to live in a ghetto surrounded by an eight-foot concrete wall.

On this day in history:

In 1789, President Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the U.S. Constitution.

A thought for the day: British statesman Disraeli said: "Man is not the creature of circumstances. Circumstances are the creatures of man."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Insurance And Giraffe Can Help Player Make A Slam

An insurance company is interested in the chance that John Jones will die in the next 15 years.

The opposite kind of probability is less familiar: If you know only that John Jones is dead, what is the chance that he was killed by an enraged giraffe? This may help you at the bridge table.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

When this hand was played, South took the queen of spades and led the nine of hearts to dummy's queen. Then he led the queen of diamonds for a finesse. Naturally, West defeated the slam with the king of diamonds and the ace of hearts.

NORTH COMPLAINS

North complained that South should have allowed the nine of hearts to ride as a finesse.

Playing West for the jack of hearts would bring the slam in. South said that finessing through East for the king of diamonds was just as good as finessing through West for the jack of hearts.

Actually, it was not. The heart finesse was an even chance, but the odds were against the diamond finesse.

INVERSE PROBABILITY

Inverse probability is complicated, but it's worth a glance if you're interested in giraffes or in slam hands.

West may have thousands of different hands from which to make an opening lead.

Take four typical hands of these thousands—two with the king of diamonds, and two without the king. When West has the king of diamonds he will always lead a spade. When he lacks the king of diamonds, he will sometimes lead a spade and sometimes a diamond.

FOUR HANDS

Out of every four hands, he will lead a spade three times and a diamond only once. And if you examine his hand on the three spade leads, you'll find that he has the king of diamonds twice and lacks the king only once.

So that when West leads a spade the odds are about 2 to 1 that he has the king of diamonds.

The odds are considerably against the diamond finesse, but they remain even on a finesse through the jack of hearts.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

This shows trump support and about 6 to 10 points, including high cards and distribution.

YULE TREES — some shoppers prefer an artificially colored tree. These table-sized trees are placed in a drying room and are then fitted with special stands containing a synthetic sap which keeps them fresh for the holidays.

He Roams The World Looking For Toys

Ernest Theuer is a man with a single-minded purpose. As soon as the Christmas holidays are over, he'll once again start roaming the world in search of toys whimsical, ingenious, and extraordinary.

Some he'll find high up in a Swiss mountain hamlet, reached by a long train ride and then a car ride through the mountains. Here in St. Croix the working members of a 15,000 population produce music boxes, cameras and phonographs in a fine, modern factory.

In upper Bavaria, where toy making is still a home industry, he'll see women with huge baskets of Christmas tree ornaments on a rack around their backs, walking to town to deliver their work to export collection centers.

In Nagoya, Japan, where Japanese families paint miniature tea sets in their homes for the world market, Theuer will sit with them around their charcoal stove and suggest new designs for Christmas 1965.

The whole world is toyland for the F.A.O. Schwartz buyer, who unearths the ultimate in craftsmanship. In England, he discovered the widow of a colonel in the Indian army, who had designed a bear dressed as a peddler, carrying in his basket tiny bracelets, sewing kits, buttons and ribbons, all of which were carefully wired to the basket.

First she makes the bear of plush, outfits him with a leather boots, and then proceeds with the painstaking task of filling his basket.

The same toy maker also specializes in familiar situations such as a general store, but peopled by bears or mice as storekeepers.

Another English toymaker uses felt ducks for her parade of whimsical characters. There are brides and grooms, skaters, and street singers.

In his two to four months forays around the world, Theuer has a global view of toy possibilities. India, he says, contributes very little, except for chess sets and a Bombay collection of horns.

Italy specializes in dolls, particularly those with interchangeable heads. Sweden excels in wooden toys, as does Holland, and fur teddy bears. Trolls, which used to be made in Denmark, have pulled a puck-ish gesture, and are now made in Florida.

In Spain, the toy industry, he says, has only lately come to life, since the Spanish appear to be not as capable craftsmen. But one contribution is an interesting castle courtyard mounted on a wooden board.

To Remove Gum

Someone drop gum on your new slipcover? Harden the gum by rubbing it with ice. Scrape off as much as possible. Then sponge with trichloroethane (non-flammable Energine). Rinse and launder the item in your automatic washer.

Make Sure Tree Adds To Spirit Of Holiday

What would Christmas be like without a tree?

And, almost as bad, what would Christmas be like with the wrong tree?

To make sure your tree adds as much as possible to the holiday spirit, here are a few guidelines.

Measure the size of the space you'll put the tree in. The American Christmas Tree Council suggests knowing exactly how high and how wide the area is. Don't use guesswork. It's hard to judge size when faced with hundreds of trees.

Decide what type of tree you want. Douglas fir is often preferred as a good, all-around purchase. Red cedar and Virginia pine trees are less expensive, and if you want to splurge, try blue spruce, white spruce or Scotch pine.

Study the tree itself. Look for fir that tapers nicely from a single tip. Check the color of the needles. Brown, dried up patches indicate needles have dropped off. Check to see if the tree is fresh by rubbing your finger across the bottom of the stump to test for sappy moisture.

Erect your tree properly. Place it in a pail of cold water, sweetened with a cup of syrup, sugar or molasses. You can also place the tree in a box of wet sand to prevent it from drying out.

According to U.S. standard grades, there are four categories for marking trees.

1. U.S. Premium: Fully branched trees, dense and symmetrical.

2. U.S. No. 1 (Select): Fairly dense branching, symmetrical with three complete faces.

3. U.S. No. 2 (Standard): Sparsely branched, with long clear stem area between whorls of branches, but symmetrical.

4. Culls: Trees with major defects.

Coat Candles

Christmas candles will last longer and burn without smoking or dripping if they are coated, except for the wicks, with soapsuds. Let them dry in candle-holders before lighting.

Charm Her With Jewelry

For the woman who appreciates personal gifts of sentimental value, select one of the endless assortments of novel jewelry charms this season.

There are charms in beautiful stone-set drops; and others in a precious assortment of miniatures . . . all are detachable and interchangeable. Some lend themselves to the revival in fashion's penchant for "antique" pendants.

A very special gift for the lady is a smart, gold disc charm. Have it personalized with an inscription or monogram.

This Christmas give him the newest timepiece since 1664.

ACCUTRON "412"
Smart styling in a 10K gold filled case. Raised faceted markers, luminous hands, waterproof*, shock-resistant, alligator strap. $135.00

ACCUTRON SPACEVIEW "N"
10K gold filled case, waterproof*, luminous dial and hands, with matching 10K gold filled expansion band. $150.00

That was the year they put the balance wheel into the watch and started watches ticking. Now the tick tock is obsolete. After 300 years, it's been replaced by the tiny Accutron tuning fork which keeps time through vibrations. The result: a very faint hum and the most precise wrist timepiece ever. Accutron guarantees average daily accuracy within 2 seconds. We'd say this is the perfect gift of time.

What To Wear During Holidays Is Big Problem

By LYDIA BICKFORD

Early each December, I set aside a period of quiet contemplation on the subject of what to wear during the holidays.

The lavish Christmas catalogues tell me to lounge in red velvet pajamas, to open my presents in a silver brocade negligee, to receive my guests in a tunic-trouser combination of Oriental design.

The only trouble is I don't lounge, and silver brocade is hardly the outfit for cooking blueberry pancakes on Christmas morning.

What I need—and can't find in the catalogues—is an outfit designed to confront bedlam.

As soon as vacations begin, my services as laundress, cook, black tie-tier, answering service, chauffeur, package wrapper and friendly counsellor are in wild demand.

Each morning sees me washing and ironing the one-piece tuxedo shirt, alerting telephone caller A. that soon B. will be sleeping till noon, and pacifying father who thinks character is formed by rising early.

The late-breakfast eaters collide with the lunch eaters, some villain has drunk up all the milk with his midnight snack, and the cat is mouse-hunting with vigor behind the kitchen stove.

Meanwhile the popular daughter of the house, released from the bondage of boarding school, has the record player turned up full blast, and above the racket is screaming to a horde of old pals who have poured into the living room.

Gravel spurts from the driveway at all hours. The dishwasher runs a load behind. The boys can't find their black silk socks. Father has run out of Christmas cards, and refuses to go downtown to buy more. The parcel truck driver is lost and wants directions to Doe Hill Lane, or is it Dogwood Terrace?

Obviously, what I need to wear this Christmas is something drip dry, and on my feet, a pair of track shoes.

Red velvet has no place in my life. On Christmas Day, just after I have pulled the 25-pound turkey out of the oven without mishap, I'll rush upstairs and put on a green wool dress that has seen me through several Christmas dinners.

'Jingle Bells'

A churchman, John Pierpont, composed the gay Christmas song, "Jingle Bells," which has been popular for over a century.

SANTA TAKES FIVE — New York department stores hire thousands of extra workers at Christmas—including Santa Clauses. This Santa takes advantage of a lull to get some much needed rest.

Christmas Is Also A Time Of Hiring Many Extra Workers

The Christmas season is one of parties, gift-giving and church-going.

It's also the time for a tremendous influx of part-time workers who join the labor force temporarily over the holiday.

Most jobs are in stores which open new departments, stay open late and add special merchandise to their stocks. It's estimated that more than 10,000 persons are employed as clerks, salespeople, wrappers and demonstrators in New York City alone during the holiday season.

Housewives, college students and unemployed persons fill many of the jobs. Other people who are normally employed during the day take on additional work at night or over the weekend.

Mrs. Janet Wolfe of the New York State Employment Agency says women in general and housewives in particular are most in demand. She notes that most of the items sold — such as wearing apparel, household items and toys—are more suitably merchandised by women.

Mrs. Wolfe reports there are also many jobs available as demonstrators of such items as electric trains, hair dryers, appliances and electric shavers. Manufacturers themselves come to the employment agency for people to fill these positions. Some are willing to train the employees; others prefer someone with experience.

The demonstrators frequently are unemployed actors who welcome the chance to get in front of the public. Some work all year round at trade shows. Some of the part-time workers are so successful they stay on the job permanently.

A small but colorful part of the agency's job is recruiting Santa Clauses. Many stores have their own Santas who return each year, but there also are positions to be filled through the agency.

The major requirement for being a Santa Claus is a good personality—jolly, attractive to children and with plenty of stamina. Mrs. Wolfe says some stores want a Santa of a particular size who'll fit the costume they already have. Other places want someone with his own beard. The applicants for these jobs often are unemployed actors or senior citizens—who may be used to grandchildren of their own.

Sports Games Sure To Score On Christmas

Good sports or not, your family will marvel at the variety of intricate games this Christmas that bring even big league sports down to table-size.

Whether your son tried out for quarterback or water-boy, he'll appreciate the latest NFL electric football game including a magnetized ball and a kicker-passer device that is extraordinarily real.

With the introduction of so many indoor ice rinks, ice hockey has become a "regular" with the high school crowd. It is no surprise, then, to see an electric hockey game featuring an icy-pro-puck to appear on the game scene.

Billiards has been excavated from those dark and sinister tombs called pool halls, given a little dusting off and introduced to the entire family.

Flameless Dryers Liked By Renters

This year nearly a million home owners and renters will purchase electric dryers. Renters are particularly interested in the uncomplicated installation which makes it easy to take the appliance with them when they move.

Ease of installation, lower purchase price and economical maintenance appeal to renters and homeowners.

Dawning Of Holiday Brings Sigh To Postal Employees

For a group of frantically busy pre-Christmas workers, the dawning of the holiday brings not joy, but a sigh of relief.

These are the over-busy post office crews, who reputedly never look forward to Christmas, and certainly pray it may not be white.

For a month before the holiday they've been swimming in a sea of Christmas cards with addresses that are barely legible, wrestling with packages posted too late to reach Europe in time for Christmas, and dealing with what patience they can muster with never-ending lines of querulous customers.

The house-to-house carriers are footsore. The rural drivers, often delayed by icy roads, are delayed still further because the arriving packages are too big to fit into mailboxes, and must be dropped at the house. The postal inspectors, ever alert to the possibilities of temptation on the part of mail handlers, are forever in their peep boxes looking for possible theft cases.

Christmas has been with them too long. Six months before their postmasters began to prepare by ordering new equipment for the rush. In September they had to consider staff problems, and how to cope with the holiday mailings which always go up, never down. Temporary help is hired two weeks before the holiday, and must be unified with the regular staff.

Even on Christmas Day itself, special delivery letters and packages must still be delivered, so for some there is no holiday at all till day is done.

For all of them, there's one holiday custom in which they have no interest. They couldn't care less about opening their Christmas cards.

Make Practical Items 'Surprise' For Nursery Set

The most practical Christmas gift can be a surprise package by adding imaginative, though compatible, accessory items.

For a practical Yuletide gift for a family with a baby, you might, for example, get a colorful nursery diaper hamper, and stuff it with diapers, diaper pins, baby powder, or other small inexpensive items.

Nursery diaper hampers are ideal for gift-giving; man yare gaily decorated with children's motifs — circus patterns, gay bunnies and little lambs or "playtime" themes. Covered in washable vinyl, they have a removable, plastic inner bag for sanitary handling, and a cover with built-in deodorizer.

Brown Gravy

The gravy sauce you pour over slices of holiday turkey and dressing will have a rich brown color if you brown the flour in the oven before blending it with the meat juices.

HOBBY ON THE WALL — Christmas Eve in the president's home at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., finds Richard Glenn Gettell and his wife preparing to open their presents in Mr. Gettell's trophy-filled study.

College Leader Has Triple-Ply Holiday

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass (AP)— While most families find one Christmas a year the most they can manage, President and Mrs. Richard Glenn Gettell of Mount Holyoke College join in no fewer than three holiday celebrations and love every minute of all of them.

First comes the Mount Holyoke campus Christmas, which begins a week or so before the college's winter recess. At the hed of their "family" of 1600 girls, President and Mrs. Gettell preside over a flurry of traditional Mount Holyoke observances. There are choir concerts, parties for underprivileged youngsters from neighboring communities and dormitory parties complete with a faculty-member Santa Claus.

"The high point for us is the student carolers' serenade at the president's house," Mr. Gettell observes. "It's one of the best times of the year, and of course we're always a little sorry to see it end."

But when holiday quiet descends on the South Hadley, Mass. campus, the next phase of the Gettells' Christmas is soon underway, and nostalgia quickly vanishes in the sportsman's zeal—the president is off to Key West, Fla., on his annual deep sea fishing trip.

It's the only real holiday I take all year," Mr. Gettell explains. "And it's absolutely sacred," he adds, smiling.

At Key West, Mr. Gettell makes straight for the boat of Captain Lefty Reagan, one of the best known skippers in the Florida game fishing fleet. Captain Reagan has been Mr. Gettell's guide on many fishing expeditions and holds a standing reservation for him this week prior to Christmas. With little or no time wasted, Mount Holyoke's president, Captain Reagan and crew cast off for seven days of "nothing but fishing."

This particular weeks turns out to hold more relaxation, though, since it happens to coincide with the opening of the Miami Herald's annual Metropolitan Miami fishing tournament. And one glimpse of Mr. Gettell's trophy-lined study back in South Hadley indicates that the coincidence has been a happy one. At Christmas of 1961, Mount Holyoke's president brought home the Bimini Big Game Fishing Club trophy for a 77-pound Wahoo. He won both the barracuda and snapper classifications of the tournament in 1962, and last year he came back with a citation for spin casting in the mackerel classification.

"The tournament adds excitement, of course," Mr. Gettell says, "but I would enjoy the fishing with or without the competition."

Mr. Gettell became interested in deep sea fishing when he was chief staff economist for Fortune magazine. "We used to have sales promotion meetings every year in Florida. When the working sessions were over, everyone would go off on some kind of sporting expedition. I wasn't a golfer, so I went along with the game fishermen and became devoted to the sport immediately." The Christmas fishing holidays have been an inviolable Gettell custom ever since.

Mrs. Gettell, an accomplished swimmer who confesses to being more at home in the water than on it, accompanies her husband to Key West but leaves the fishing to the gentlemen. She has recently become interested in scuba diving and looks forward to the opportunity to get in some practice diving from the reef off Key West.

As much as they enjoy their annual Key West interlude, the Gettells do not spend Christmas itself in the tropical latitudes. "We are of the candles-in-the-window, gifts-on-Christmas-Eve tradition," Mr. Gettell explains, "so we always fly back to South Hadley for that."

At Mount Holyoke, the gracious president's house makes an ideal setting for an old-fashioned family Christmas, which is exactly what the Gettells prefer for their third and final holiday observance. Mrs. Gettell's mother usually joins them in South Hadley, where the tree, gifts and all the traditional trimmings are assembled for the Christmas Eve festivities.

"Our family celebration is very quiet," Mr. Gettell says. "Like most families we follow the same pattern every year, catching up with Christmas cards that have come while we are in Key West, then the gifts and our holiday dinner."

All in all, the Gettells find their triple Christmas both refreshing and inspiring, and they wouldn't consider changing it even slightly. In fact, the only possible variation in the scene at the Mount Holyoke president's house on Christmas Eve, 1964, would be a new addition to Mr. Gettell's trophy collection. And on the basis of past performance, that's a very strong possibility.

Santa Claus' Tailor Knows Latest Style

If you're ever wondered what the well-dressed Santa Claus will wear, just ask Santa Claus Outfitters of Newark, N.J.

They've been making Santa Claus suits for more than 30 years and they sell thousands of costumes to Santas from all over.

The company begins making the suits in July each year. Most of the buying is done in November and December, but some enterprising Santas buy their suits in January—just to be ready for the next year in plenty of time.

The cheapest Santa suit costs $14 and is made of white cotton twill or gabardine with red trimming. At the other extreme is a velvet suit which sells for $150. In between, are costumes of plush, velours and pile.

Each suit comes equipped with its own beard and wig, and a company spokesman said the recent fashion boom for wigs should boost his sales. Seems even Santas are more wig-conscious these days.

The company says it sells to all kinds of Santas—from department stores, church and civic organizations and families who have drafted Dad for the job. There's a new type of Santa around, however, the suburban Santa. Many of the large housing developments in the suburbs select one resident to play the part of St. Nicholas and go around to every house.

Pope's Orders

When Pope Gregory I sent out missionaries in 601, he counseled them to let converts weave the harmless features of winter pagan festivals into the spiritual fabric of the Christmas observance.

Mistletoe Goes Back To Ancient Cults

The festive symbolism of mistletoe goes back to ancient cults common to the Celts, according to Encyclopedia Americana.

Mistletoe once was universally associated with fertility, and is still associated with kissing and courting at winter festivals.

'Correct' Way To Trim Tree

There is a "correct" way to trim the tree if your eager and impatient children will allow it.

First inspect the lights for frayed cords, exposed wires, and broken sockets. Check all the bulbs. Then begin with the lights at the top working down and around placing them on the boughs nearest trunk first and working outward to the tips of the branches.

After all the lights are in place, hang the other decorations.

Treasures Of The Centuries Displayed In Morgan Library

Breathtaking treasures that once graced medieval monasteries, princes' palaces, and church pulpits will be on display this Christmas season at the Pierpont Morgan Library in New York.

The collection, unsurpassed in this hemisphere in the fields of medieval and renaissance illuminated manuscripts, early printed books and bookbindings, and master drawings, is housed in a marble block building in classical Greek style next to J. Pierpont Morgan's former home.

The array of Bibles and other religious works which the financier purchased is enormous and varied. The first Bible that Morgan bought, as listed in a catalogue back in 1883, was the first Bible printed in North America, John Eliot's translation into the English language.

In the final decade of the 19th century was added a Gutenberg Bible on vellum, a 1459 Mainz Psalter, of which no other copy has ever been available to an American buyer, and the famous ninth century Lindau Gospels with a sumptuous jeweled binding.

During the last seven years of his life, in the early 1900's, Morgan added enormously to his prizes. A large group of Coptic manuscripts, mostly of the ninth century, found on the site of a monastery in Egypt, was purchased and sent to the Vatican for study and reproduction.

After his father's death, J. P. Morgan carried on purchases for the library, specializing much of the time in illuminated manuscripts. Some of the more elaborate of these will be displayed this Christmas season in the museum's main gallery.

One especially fine acquisition was the Gospel of Countess Matilda of Tuscany, written and decorated in Italy about 1100. Other prizes added to the library were from the Earl of Leicester's collection, originally lodged in the Benedictine monastery at Weingarten, Germany. They include two richly-illuminated manuscripts of the Gospels made in England before the Norman Conquest, and the Missal of Abbot Berthold, in its jeweled silver-gilt binding, generally considered to be one of the finest extant 13th century German manuscripts.

Further additions include the ninth century Reims Gospels in perfect condition, with portraits of the four Evangelists, and the text written in gold, the profusely decorated Gothic psalter made for Yolande de Soissons, and a 12th century Life, Miracles and Passion of St. Edmund with 32 miniatures.

KEEP THE TEEN-AGERS HAPPY

A jaunty snowman presides over the punch bowl at a teen-agers' holiday party, while at right, the secret of success for entertaining the youthful during the vacation season is plenty of holiday snacks. They're easily assembled and attractive—just be sure to make plenty of them!

Marin Residents Buy Many Christmas Seals

Last Christmas, 14,757 Marinites gave gifts to themselves and their community. They followed a 58-year-old American tradition by sending contributions to Christmas Seals.

The gifts, averaging $2.58 each, totaled $38,400. Of this, $30,141 will be spent in Marin on health projects of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. The balance, including $1,920 pooled with other associations for California research, will support national and state TB association work.

Into health information goes the greatest proportion of TB Association funds and efforts. "Only the facts can overcome misinformation and indifference, and we use as many avenues as we can to get information to the community," says Dr. Joseph J. Alderson, president of the Marin association.

Primary cause of the present increase of tuberculosis, he believes, is apathy resulting from the erroneous impression TB has either been licked or is easily controlled with drugs.

On the contrary, Dr. Alderson says tuberculosis continues to be the major cause of death from communicable diseases in California, and in more than 60 per cent of the re-activated cases the TB bacilli had become resistant to drugs.

"Two Marin residents died from tuberculosis in August of this year, and the shocking fact is neither was known to have the disease until after death," Dr. Alderson said.

The 72 per cent increase of TB in Marin during the first nine months of this year is especially disquieting in view of medical experiences showing four to six unidentified infected persons for each case diagnosed.

"If we could," Dr. Alderson said, "we would say to each adult in Marin: Danger from TB is real. To protect yourselves, you and every member of your family need a TB checkup every year."

Instead, the Association resorts to indirect communication through newspapers, radio, TV, pamphlet-distribution. At the Art and Garden Fair last July, he reports, 1540 pamphlets made available through Christmas Seals were requested by visitors to the Association's booth.

Another fact-dissemination effort of the TB Association—this time to civic officials—resulted in existing ordinances requiring all food-handlers to have regular TB check-ups. Since passage of these laws a few years ago, several cases of active disease have been found among this group.

In addition to community information, the Association endeavors to provide physicians and nurses with the latest findings on diagnosis and treatment of respiratory diseases.

Even in the school tuberculin testing programs the Marin association has underway, major emphasis is on arming young people with facts which, if heeded, will safeguard them throughout life.

"We have many plans for increasing the Association's service to Marin," Dr. Alderson said. "One thing we would like to do is establish a registry of all positive reactors to the tuberculin skin test so that we could remind them each year to have a chest x-ray. Another of our dreams is to set up a 'bank' of aid - to - breathing equipment to lend to patients with chronic respiratory diseases.

"Our community services are limited by one thing: The gifts received from the community itself — the Christmas Seal gifts that finance the Association's work."

SEALS ADD EXCITING TOUCH— Christmas Seals add an exciting three-dimensional look to these creations by Gilardi's wrap artist, Toby Manuel. Though gay and colorful, 58-year-old Christmas Seals carry a vital message and their use on gifts, letters and cards is urged by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

Holiday Outlawed

Abuses of Christmas reached such a pitch in seventeenth century England that the Puritan Parliament outlawed the holiday in 1644. Puritan leaders in Massachusetts also banned yule celebrations from 1659 to 1681.

Pajamas Stylized This Year

This year, pajamas offer more than just sleeping comfort. They are very stylized.

Choose from new tapered models, pajamas with blazer tops, oxford "shirt" to wear outside of pants; a shirt-jacket; a one-piece terry "trainer" or lounge suit that teams "sweat pants" and a cardigan type top. What more can a man ask for?

Pajamas borrow from sportswear fabrics. To be noted are herringbone twills, bright blazer stripes, iridescent pimas, etc. Also look for a corduroy-look in brushed pique.

Pajamas go sporty, too. A judo model mates a ¾ sleeve pullover with a tapered V-neck and ¾ pants. The top has batwing sleeves, side-vents and a sash.

Terry cloth is new for a ski-type. Notable is a nautical pullover with one-piece collar and snap-away striped bib that matches trousers. erStcth tchi matches trousers. Stretch is new here, too.

The classic cotton flannel pajamas is new once again . . . comes in polka-dots or stripes with its own solid color robe. There's also a smart nightshirt that embodies a few sportswear notions. This one has a solid turtle-neck on a bold cross-striped body.

That's the pj picture. Any one of the styles is sure to make a great male-order gift for Christmas!

Here Are Hints To Make Holiday Easier

Preparations for Christmas — including gift-giving, decorating and making a big family meal—can often be a problem, even for the most efficient hostess. Here are some hints which can make the holidays easier and more enjoyable:

Store Christmas candles in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using. They won't drip and will burn more evenly.

Holiday fruit cakes will keep indefinitely if they're properly wrapped and stored. A touch of orange juice sprinkled over the cake occasionally keeps it from drying out and adds extra flavor.

Remove cranberry spills from the tablecloth by immediately rubbing with an ice cube and then wash it.

Pine cones will gleam brightly if you place them on a piece of aluminum foil and put them in the oven at a very low temperature for a short while.

Popcorn that is being used to trim the tree should stand in the air for a while so it loses its crispness and won't break during stringing.

Add color to homemade candles by melting crayons with the paraffin.

Use bonbons and cream cheese to make decorative roses for holiday eating. Thin cheese slightly with milk and add coloring. Take the tip of a teaspoon and arrange the cheese petals on the candy, smoothing from the top down.

Snow shoveling is easier if the shovel is rubbed with wax.

Anyone who grows herbs can make an unusual gift by wrapping small amounts of dried herbs in cheese cloth squares. Each square should provide enough seasoning for one use — like a pot of soup or some salad dressing.

Dress Up Home With Tiny Trees

Tiny whimsical Christmas trees that you make yourself can do a great deal to dress up your home during the holidays.

The greatest fun in making these miniature trees is in dreaming up the ideas for them yourself. But, here are a few ideas for trees to get you started thinking in the right direction.

Christmas tree balls in graduated sizes can be stacked one on the other by attaching the balls, Christmas seals, tinsel, picture hanging wire.

Funnel or con shapes (tin or paper) ranging from large at the bottom to smallest at the top can be stacked for a smart effect, too.

Yule Record Albums Made Record Sales

During the 1962 Christmas season, two record albums went over the one-million-dollar mark in factory billing.

They were "Glorious Sound of Christmas" by Philadelphia Orchestra and "Season's Greetings" by Perry Como.

Gas Dryer Might Be Good Gift

It takes a lot of planning and a ship-shape budget these days to bring a new baby into the world. The demands on mother's time and energy seem unending. Then it seems there's always something new that's needed for the youngster.

These are reasons why an electric or gas dryer is appreciated by the mother of small youngsters and also by the young wife who is about to become a mother. It is a convenience all year 'round and actually a necessity for many homemakers during the rainy winter months.

The automatic clothes dryer can cut clothes costs as well as saving time and effort for new mothers. It is estimated that the average basic layette costs $139 for a family without a dryer. The family with a dryer, though, can do very nicely with a layette costing only $94.51.

Silly Questions For Christmas

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A youngster picked out a $1 set of earrings for her mother's Christmas gift and handed the clerk two 50 cent pieces.

"What about the tax?" he inquired.

"My mother doesn't use tacks," the girl replied. "She screws them in her ears."

Electric Dryer Easy To Install

Easy installation is one reason why more people are buying flameless electric clothes dryers, according to the live better electrically program of the Edison Electric Institute. Two out of every three dryers sold this year are electric.

Installation is a simple matter because an electric dryer requires only one connection to the source of energy. And since electric clothes drying is clean and flameless, it doesn't produce any of the usual by-products of combustion.

This eliminates the need to install flues or vents and gives the homemaker greater flexibility in choosing a convenient location for the dryer. The appliance dealer's statement "dry your clothes on the day of delivery," is not an empty promise.

This Gal Likes Her Yule Blue

Mary Tonnele isn't the least bit interested in a white Christmas, She prefers a blue one.

And that's what she'll be having this Christmas as social director for a cruise ship sailing the blue waters of the Caribbean with 300 holiday-happy passengers.

She's spent Christmas at sea four times, and finds it much more exciting than a land-locked celebration.

"We're heavily loaded with families at Christmas time," says the attractive Mrs. Tonnele.

"We tell the children that Santa Claus will come down the smokestack, and that he lands on the ship in a helicopter. Christmas morning he gives presents to everyone on board, starting with the children."

The presents, along with the passengers, are loaded on the ship in New York when the liner sails a week or so before the big day. This ship is decorated with greens and glitter before it sails, and a large tree stands in its accustomed place in the lounge.

Mass is celebrated on Christmas Eve, followed by carol singing and a round of Tom and Jerry. The menu for the traditional turkey dinner is printed on souvenir red and green handkerchiefs, to add a festive touch.

The cruise director says the ship has never been in port on Christmas Day.

Wonderful New Idea For Wrapping Gifts

Wondering what to do with those bulky or oddly shaped gifts that seem to defy wrapping paper, ribbon or tape? Here's a wonderful new idea for wrapping with a covering that serves as a second gift in itself.

To make a "gift bag," cut two square or rectangular pieces of fabric large enough to hold gift when sewn together. Place right sides of the fabric together, and machine or hand sew on three sides. Hem the open top edges or trim by cutting the edges with pinking scissors.

Turn the bag right side out, spray with Faultless spray-on starch, and iron. Repeat until the fabric bag is starched to a fresh, crisp finish. Place gift in bag, gather the top as you would a paper bag, tying a bright bow around the neck.

Use any color of fabric for your gift bag, adding monogram of appliques if desired by sewing them on or ironing them on with colored mending tape.

A drawstring ribbon in the top hem will make it a personal laundry bag, or convert it to a carry-all for hair rollers and clips.

There are no end to the uses to which these attractive gift bags can be put after the fun of opening them on Christmas morning.

Roll In Flour

Roll dates in flour before you cut them and they will not cling to the knife or scissors.

Thank Three For Starting Yule Seals

The familiar Christmas Seal that appears on letters and packages during the holiday season can be credited jointly to three different people: an American doctor, a Danish postal worker and an American Red Cross worker.

The first person, the American doctor, was Edward Livingston Trudeau. Dr. Trudeau contracted tuberculosis shortly after graduating from medical school. Both his brother and his daughter also had TB, so Dr. Trudeau decided to conduct research on the disease. This led to his establishment of a tuberculosis hospital at Saranac Lake, New York. And subsequently, when the National Tuberculosis Assn. was founded in 1904, Dr. Trudeau was the first president.

In the same year, Encyclopedia International reports, a Danish postal worker, Einar Holbell, came up with the thought that Christmas was a time when people should be reminded of their duty to help the sick and needy children who were suffering from TB.

He proposed to the King of Denmark that penny seals be sold, for affixing to Christmas packages and letters. The king agreed to the idea, and this led to the world's first Christmas seal in 1904.

Also at about the same time, a small TB hospital which had been built in Delaware by a group of doctors, was in trouble for lack of funds. A cousin of one of the hospital's doctors, Red Cross worker Miss Emily Bissell, came up with a solution. She had read a magazine article which described the development of the Christmas Seal in Denmark. And she decided a similar seal should be adopted in the United States.

Miss Bissell designed the seal, and by 1907, the first American Christmas Seal went on sale in Wilmington, Delaware.

Egg Nog Part Of Christmas

For many of us, Christmas just isn't Christmas without the tasty treat of egg nog.

A welcome holiday sight in the traditional silver punch bowl at Christmas gatherings, and an equally welcome quick refreshment for friends who've dropped in unexpectedly, egg nog is the perfect holiday drink for young and old alike.

If you're planning a party or expecting friends and family over on Christmas Eve, bring out the punch bowl and stock up on bottled egg nog from your favorite dairy. You'll find today's ready-made egg nog better than most home-made versions and it saves so much extra work.

GIFT OF GREEN—A Haggerstown, Md., Bank officer—William King Jr.—pins a money corsage on bank clerk Diane Bartles. The corsages, made up of money in any denomination, are one of dozens of gimmicks used by King to popularize money novelties as Christmas gifts.

Bank Cashes In On Yule With Sale Of Long Green

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—The Hagerstown Trust Company is selling what bank officials consider the perfect gift—money.

The bank sells money birds, money corsages, money by the inch, money by the pound, money in chests, money in buckets, bowties of money, money trees and other money-inspired items.

They sold 7,000 parcels of it last year; this year they hope to sell even more, although they claim to make little profit on it.

William E. King Jr., bank vice president, said charges added to the face value of the money sold barely cover the cost of handling and packaging.

Among the items are intsant money—packaged in a can and guaranteed non-caloric. The can warns that continued use of the contents may be habit-forming.

Cold cash—mounted in an ice cube which is sealed in a plastic box.

Bit-O-Money — cash packaged as a candy bar.

And a Money Magic Magician's Kit with directions for performing six magic tricks with money.

Packaging is done by bank employees, King said. The bank starts stockpiling new coins and bills in mid-summer, when the wrapping begins.

The bank also stocks money gifts for graduations, anniversaries, birthdays, Mother's Day and Father's Day, although the Christmas season is the only time it advertises money.

King said he is working on about 30 new ideas for selling money — including one-million-dollar money bags, to be set aside until the buyer makes his first million.

Good Luck Sign

Bayberry candles, which are said to foretell good luck for the coming year if they burn bright at Christmas, were first made by early settlers in America. They dipped bayberry branches in wax and burned them during the holidays.

Belgian Children Get Early Gifts

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Belgian children will not find any gifts when they awake on Christmas.

The gift-giving day was St. Nicholas' Day, Dec. 6, when children woke to discover presents and sweets.

But the habit of exchanging gifts on Christmas Eve has increased since the war and customs now are similar to those observed in most countries.

Record, Book Gifts

Records and books are good choices for almost all teens, boy or girl. The important thing is to keep in mind the type of teen you're gifting.

Bedding Breeze In New Dryer

The wet, windy days always are most unpleasant when there is a big wash to hang outside, especially if blankets, sheets and other beddings are involved.

A new gas or electric clothes dryer eliminates the foul weather problems and largely reduces the manhandling of heavy items fresh from the washer. Here are some ideas on the best ways to dry bedding in the automatic clothes dryer.

Nylon, muslin and percale sheets should be slightly underdried. When sheets retain some natural moisture they are less apt to wrinkle or fold at the edges. Contour sheets will dry smooth and tight if replaced on the bed as soon as they come out of the dryer.

Stocking Attributed To Saint Nicholas

The hanging of the Christmas stocking is attributed to Saint Nicholas, who provided dowries for the daughters of an impoverished nobleman.

As the saint threw presents of gold into the house, they fell into a stocking that had been hung near the chimney to dry.

TO DELIGHT A MISS—Fluffy ruffles add a delightful femininity to this pretty junior, a good thought for Christmas shoppers. The material is all-cotton broadcloth.

'Grandfather Frost' Gives Toys In Russia

Russian children believe in Grandfather Frost.

They think he is a neighbor to Santa Claus at the North Pole who comes in a horse-drawn troika sleigh with presents for children.

New Dryer Helps Solve Some Common Problems

Probably the most common fault of homemakers owning gas or electric dryers is the tendency to leave the clothes in too long. The overdrying causes wrinkles to form and set. This often leads to unnecessary or at least excessive ironing.

The new dryers automatically shut off so clothes retain just the right amount of moisture to make them soft and fibers more elastic.

It's best to remove most types of clothing, sheets, pillow slips, towels, and similar items when a slight amount of dampness still remains. The cloth fibers have a softer, more pliable texture when this is done.

Another common problem is overloading the dryer. Most machines dry the load by sending billows of warm, clean air through the interior while the tumbling action occurs inside a smooth drum. If jammed too full, the drying action is erratic.

NOT A FAIRY TALE

Once upon a time there were two furniture stores, one located in San Rafael, one in San Anselmo. Now these stores had one thing in common, neither had carpets on the floor, fancy fixtures, but both enjoyed low rent. Consequently both stores are able to sell quality name brand furniture at substantial lower prices. This in not a fable but the truth.

Today's Toys Might Puzzle Oldtimers

If children from other times had a sneak preview of the contents of Santa's pack this Christmas, they might be a bit puzzled by the toys they saw.

In fact, they might even wonder if they could be called toys.

Today's manufacturers have outdone themselves in reproducing in miniature all aspects of living, playing and studying.

The latest in doll houses is an efficiency apartment of fiberboard whose furnishings convert from living room to bedroom, all of which can be packed into an equally efficient suitcase.

A very astute doll not only has a wardrobe for every occasion but has her own quarters consisting of kitchen, dinette and bedroom. In case she feels a case of wanderlust, she can take off in her own convertible with her matching luggage in the same color as her car's. For her education, she has her own schoolroom.

Another glamour-conscious doll has her own beauty parlor and tilting chair for shampoos and pivoting hood for drying the hair-do.

Automation has not escaped the toy designers, either. A computer, scaled to playroom size, is guaranteed to audit family bank statements. The playroom floor can be waxed with a battery-run polisher.

Young boating addicts can be supplied with a trailer-mounted hydroplane style boat, drawn by a motorized racer with bucket-style cushioned seats.

Auto racing sets have picked up speed by adding new refinements.

Store Toys In Steel Cabinets

Ask any child what he wants for Christmas and the answer will invariably be "Toys"! Small wonder that the day after Christmas finds Mother wondering how to cope with the deluge of toys, all of which seems to be underfoot.

One answer to this problem is to encourage neatness in your youngster by providing him with a place to store his toys. Steel cabinets are practical, inexpensive storage chests that come in many designs.

Floor-standing models accommodate the reach of any child, even a toddler; (shelves can be assigned according to your children's varying height).

Federal Sales Of Christmas Trees

DENVER (UPI) — The federal gavernment sells thousands of Christmas trees to commercial and semi-commercial groups and to individuals each year.

The trees are taken from national forests in a number of states, including Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota.

In some national forests, individuals are permitted to go into the forest to cut down the family Christmas tree. The cost: $1 per tree. No person is allowed to cut more than one tree in the forest.

The U.S. Forest Service handles the commercial Christmas tree sale much as it sells timber. The area is put up for bid and the firms cut the trees under strict Forest Service supervision.

Boughs Of Holly

Druids decked their halls with boughts of holly to shelter sylvan spirits threatened by frost and winter winds.

Practice Safety At Christmas

NEW YORK (UPI)—Safety for Christmas is the newest wrinkle in stockings hung up for Santa Claus.

For the millions of people who drive cars, a set of seat belts in the fireplace stockings or under the tree might prove to be the most thoughtful gift they've ever received, according to the American Seat Belt Council.

Roman Gift-Giving

Gift-giving was a popular custom of the Romans during Saturnalia. The most common gifts of this time were statuettes made in the likeness of a god.

YULE IN SUMMER—Rooftop artist works under a hot summer sun on a Christmas store window creation.

Stores Spend Many Months Working On Yule Displays

When New York's Fifth Avenue department stores unveil their bedecked windows this Christmas—be they exotic, sophisticated, or nostalgic — the displays will be the results of months of advance preparation in design, research, construction —and often innovation.

What is being set up behind the drawn curtains in store windows is also top secret until the December Day the glory is revealed, for each store jealously guards its Christmas plans.

A floor below the sidewalk where Christmas shoppers will later swarm is the domain of Paul Vogler, window display director of Lord and Taylor's. Here he and his staff of 14 have been hard at work on Christmas windows since spring.

"Sometimes I have an idea for the next Christmas just when we're finishing this Christmas' windows. It's hard to tell where ideas come from. You can get them just walking down the street, or anywhere."

After sketches have been made, specific orders go to the specialized manufacturers who design complex mechanical displays. When they are completed, the staff goes to work on painstaking detail such as stapling soutache braid on pieces of cardboard, sculpturing mannequins, figuring out ways to give the illusion of thin rays of light (gold elastic cord).

Vogler, who thoroughly dislikes last-minute complications, and finds there are few, recalls two embarrassing technical duds.

"One year we had the Sleeping Beauty and the Prince scene," he recalls. The Prince was supposed to bend down and kiss Sleeping Beauty. But something went wrong, and his head landed smack in her stomach. It took 17 hidden motors for just that one piece of action, and something had slipped.

"Usually, by working all night before the window's opening, we're ready and going smoothly. But an hour before curtain time one Christmas, I was in the window under a mountain still making mechanical flowers bloom in the snow."

Painstaking efforts are taken by Vogler and his staff to track down just the material they need. "One year," says Vogler, "I was looking for wood that would be right for our candy windows, a Gothic steeple kind of thing. I found just what I wanted, some horrible golden oak in a wrecking yard in Yonkers, N. Y., and we painted it pink and white."

The candy was hard to come by too. "I wanted those old-fashioned lollypops with flowers in the center, and finally found them in a shop in New Jersey, in all sizes."

Backgrounds are prepared two weeks before they're to go in the windows, the staff working on an elevator-type window setting under the street while the current window is in place at street level. Whatever the theme, Vogler feels it must be something to which passersby will relate, something they know and love.

The artist's finest hour came when a shopper noted the abstract painting Vogler had done to round out one Christmas window display. He wanted to buy it, and later Vogler, the amateur artist found he had sold a painting for the private collection of a Cleveland Art Museum director.

Brush Those Costly Wigs

Wigs are expensive enough to be classed as valuable possessions.

And whether or not they're high style, owners have invested enough in these extra coifs that they're going to take good care of them.

Like human hair, wigs look best when free from dust and oily matter. So why not consider giving a wig bursh as a novel Christmas gift?

Three Kings Day Is Big In New York

For families living in one of New York's Puerto Rican communities, Christmas Day takes second place to the area's traditional Three Kings Day, celebrated as an all-day festival on Jan. 6.

The morning parade participants may be wearing mittens and goloshes, but the atmosphere is as enthusiastic as it would be on their sunny native island.

The day begins with Sunday School children, 100 strong, parading through the streets wearing cardboard camels five feet high, the artistic efforts of the staff of two neighborhood Episcopal churches. Heading the procession are the three kings, wearing gold-painted crowns. Occasionally a horse, borrowed for the occasion, joins the marchers.

A parish-wide church service follows, and at night, the entire neighborhood gathers for a festival dinner, featuring a huge roast pig. Families arrive bearing pots of rice, beans, spaghetti and typical Puerto Rican dishes as their share of the festival.

An impromptu musicale is held after dinner, for those who play the guitar or the violin are in great demand as accompanists for group singing.

When the day is over and the horse has been returned, the camels put back into storage, and the cooking pots taken back home, the neighborhood agrees that never has there been such a festival day.

First Santa Claus

Tradition says the original Santa Claus was St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop in Asia Minor who gave gifts to the young and poor.

TREE PARTY—Just before Christmas, the young people at the Midtown International Center join in a gala tree-trimming party, with the foreigners supplying many of the decorations.

They Make Day A Happy One For Foreign Visitors

For 1,500 young foreign visitors to New York City, a small, brown, wreath-hung doorway nestled between two large barren windows means it will be a Merry Christmas.

This is the headquarters of the Midtown International Center, which at holiday time steps up its program of fun and fellowship. Starting December 20, there'll be daily open houses, instead of the usual three a week. There'll be twice-daily tours to the city's most compelling sightseeing spots, instead of the one-weekly scheduled the rest of the year.

Sunday evening before Christmas, there'll be a gala tree-trimming party, with the foreign visitors supplying many of the decorations. A carol sing will be held, in a room decorated with greetings from as many as 105 different countries.

Through the center, many of the students will spend Christmas Day in an American home. Others, who wish to stay in the city, will be helped to find inexpensive lodging, and theater tickets at reduced rates.

Because the center's recreation room can accommodate only 85 at a time, many inevitably will be disappointed because their space doesn't permit them to join the holiday celebrants.

Because of this, an unplanned party was quickly put together last year on Christmas Eve at the Park-Sheraton Hotel, and there's likely to be a repeat performance. The group of 250 foreigners and volunteers made up a band, and an amateur musical hour was held. And once again, the participants joined in carol singing.

During the holiday season, the staff of five is aided by 300 American volunteers, many of them college students.

When the holidays are over, the center will continue its year-round program of activities for the 9,000 young people in New York who are students, nurses, interns, business trainees or members of the diplomatic corps. At the West 56th Street meeting place, they'll have a chance to take part in group discussions, study English, visit an American family for a week-end, or make up a theater group.

Irish Christmas

Saint Patrick introduced the celebration of Christmas to Ireland about the year 461.

'YOUR HEALTH'

Wassail Bowl Still A Must

In Merrie Old England, the Wassail Bowl with its mixture of spiced ale, was an indispensable part of the Christmas feast.

The one used at Court was a masterpiece of silver-gilt, while the bowl in the cottage was only made of wood. But the drinking pledge was the same. "Wassail," the Anglo-Saxon equivalent of "Your Health," was given — with reverence — to the Babe of Bethlehem, as well as to the King, to neighbors and to the Season. Then benedictions were called down upon the fruit trees, the flock and next year's crop. And always the occasion was observed with song and merriment.

Old customs change; old ways are replaced by the new. Still the Wassail Bowl remain among the cherished Christmas traditions.

There's something warm and inviting about the look of a fragrant holiday bowl, nestling among green boughs and holly. It should rest on its own special table, which has been covered with a floor-length cloth. The only other appointments are the squat little mugs which will draw on its goodness, the ladle for filling them and lots of pretty napkins to go around. The table itself should occupy a prominent spot and be a welcoming sight for the arriving guests.

The drink may be anything to please a Holiday palate: Hot mulled wine, spicy eggnog, a traditional punch or a favorite cocktail mix. Anyone of these can be made easily and quickly if the mixing is done with an electric blender.

Try Sleigh Bells

Sleigh bells festooned across the front door not only look Christmas-y but even sound it every time the door is opened.

THREE-DIMENSIONAL

Here's a new concept of musical picture blocks. Each of these nesting blocks tells an animal story.

Electrically Best Way To Dry Clothes

Sunshine evaporates moisture from clothing. When the sun shines, it warms your clothes and on a breezy day the movement of the air hastens the drying process.

Drying clothes electrically duplicates this process. It also adds a few features that go nature one better. Lint is separated from fabric dried in an electric dryer. Clothes dried outdoors will have most of the lint firmly attached to the fabric.

Drying clothes electrically will also cause less fading. According to the live better electrically program of the Edison Electric Institute, the ultraviolet rays of sunlight generate ozone from the oxygen in the air. This ozone combines with the moisture in the wet clothes and produces hydrogen peroxide which is a strong bleaching and oxidizing agent that fades colors, weakens textile fibers and destroys latex rubber in elastic.

Obviously drying clothes electrically is not only a good way to beat the fickle weather picture but has added advantages that make it even better than sunshine.

How Christmas Charity Began

The tradition of alms-giving at Christmas began with a legend, as did so many other holiday customs. It was believed at one time that the Christ Child went from door to door during the holiday season, disguised as a beggar, and asking alms, in search of kind and deserving souls.

Since no one knew when or where He might appear, Christians feared to turn beggars from their door lest they unknowingly turn away the Christ Child.

Use Enough Ashtrays

Reduce the danger of fire and protect your furnishings by supplying enough ashtrays at your parties. If you do not have enough ashtrays, improvise with aluminum foil shaped into ashtray size.

Brazilian Special Christmas Dinners

Christmas dinner in Brazil centers around turkey or chicken, stuffed with mandioca flour.

Other traditional dishes are codfish cakes and rabanada, a sweet made of bread dipped in milk, sugar and beaten egg yolks, then fried in butter and spread with sugar and cinnamon.

COOK'S HELPER

Electric Blender Can Be Boon During Busy Time

Any cook worth her salt wants pleasure from preparing food. Yet, for many women, the holidays represent slavery over a hot stove.

Use an electric blender as the chef's helper, and you can simplify kitchen chores and save hours of hard work.

One blender, for example, will mince onions; mix pancakes; grate cheese; blend batters; even fresh-grind the coffee. It will also liquefy, churn, puree, emulsify, homogenize—and chop.

Here are two tested recipes, using a blender:

HOT SPICY APPLE EGGNOG

2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar
Dash of salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg
½ cup apple juice
4 cups scalded milk
½ cup whipped cream

Mix egg yolks, sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and apple juice in Osterizer and blend until sugar is dissolved. Add 1 cup scalded milk slowly. Pour this mixture into remaining scalded milk and quickly fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into hot eggnog server or carafe and serve topped with mound of whipped cream.

HOLLY SPREAD

8 oz. Swiss Cheese cut into 1-inch cubes
6 pimiento-stuffed olives
¼ small green pepper
¼ cup mayonnaise

Put cheese into Osterizer container and cover. Grate by turning on and off, on and off. Stop and add olives and green pepper. Cover and turn on and off once more. Empty into mixing bowl and moisten with enough mayonnaise to make a thick paste. Chill before serving. Yield: 1½ cups.

Notice Of Gift

MEBANE, N.C. (UPI)—A bedding manufacturer here, promoting the gift value of his product, has designed a miniature mattress to place under Christmas trees as notive a full-sized mattress has been ordered.

Yule Already Past Tense For Some

For several hundred highly specialized job-holders Christmas 1964 is already over.

They're wrestling now with the production problems of Christmas 1965.

These are the manufacturers of greeting cards, Christmas tree ornaments, tinsel, artificial snow, and Christmas wrappings, who are one up on the rest of us.

At the factory of Max Eckert and Sons, colored balls in new styles for 1965 are being lacquered, bells and spinning tops are being created out of glass, and the 400 ornament workers there are in the swing of another season.

The greeting card workers and designers, accustomed to taking a crystal ball view of Santa's 1965 capers, are daily polishing off new sentiments.

In the Norcross studios, the 325 members of the staff are a highly versatile group. They can identify with forest animals, angels, families in folk costume, carol singers, church bells and mighty huntsmen. They are, quite frankly, sentimental, since sentiment is their business.

Usually the art for the Christmas card is completed first, before the message writer frames his lines. But sometimes the reverse is true. Message writers have to be able to turn their hands to humor, tenderness, spoofing and sincerity without missing a beat.

Creators of Christmas wrappings, also working for the 1965 season, bend to their drawing boards to design a variety of papers with wide customer appeal: some sophisticated, some quaint, some delicate, but all sparkling for the Christmas yet to come.

Back Is New Spot For Jewelry Gift

Since fashion favors a variety of bared-back styles in dresses for late day and dress-up, Trifari suggests costume jewelry pins in pairs to wear on the side of a back plunge or at the lowest part of the back.

Pick a pair in gay flower designs and match them with earrings to please your "special girls."

Diplomatic Community Holiday Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—A pleasant blend of the traditional American Christmas mingled with long-standing customs of their homelands lies in store for members of the diplomatic community here.

Up and down Embassy Row, the world's ambassadors to the nation's capitol will officiate at parties for their staffs, help decorate Christmas trees, and take part in combined carol and folk singing. Official duties—and offcial entertaining—will be laid aside in favor of family gatherings.

At the imposing British embassy, Lord and Lady Harlech prepare to welcome home their four children who will come back from England for the holidays. A fifth child lives permanently in Washington.

Turkey and plum pudding will be featured at the mid-afternoon Christmas Day dinner, and there'll be a party later on over the holiday weekend for members of the Embassy staff who have no family ties in Washington.

Christmas Eve is the time for exchanging presents in the home of Iceland's ambassador, Thor Thors, and for serving the holiday dinner, featuring duck and rice pudding. But on Christmas morning, there's a visit from the Thors' 10-year-old grandson who lives in neighboring Chevy Chase, Md., and will find his present under a beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

Not all the diplomatic families stay in Washington for the holidays. France's ambassador, M. Herve Alphand, is able to arrange a Parisian celebration for his family. Count Kield Gustav Knuth Winterfeldt, who represents Denmark's interests in Washington, takes off with the Countess and his three children for a tropical Christmas in St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

Have Youngsters Join Preparations

An important part of the fun of Christmas is in preparing for it and since Christmas is for children, you'll want your youngsters to participate as much as possible in all the activities that the Yule season brings.

Not only will it be an excellent opportunity for them to gain a sense of responsibility and to express themselves creatively.

SENIORS PRIZE IS LOUNGE CHAIR

This Is Good Christmas Gift For Older Person On Yule List

A really comfortable lounge chair is one of the most prized possessions of the senior citizen. And when chosen with forethought and care it makes a Christmas gift a grandmother or grandfather will appreciate every day of the year.

Here are a few pointers experts give on selecting a lounge chair for a person past the prime of life.

1. Tell the salesperson the height and weight of the person for whom the chair is intended. Older persons lose the ability to adapt to furniture that is not scaled for their dimensions. The proportions of the chair should permit the user to have adequate support for feet, back and neck without strain.

2. The chair should be styled to be gotten in and out of easily. Low sling loungers or molded plywood shells should be avoided as being too difficult to negotiate. It should be high enough off the ground to be slipped into without a sudden drop. And the seat should be no deeper than 21 or 22 inches. Arms should be high enough and forward enough for good leverage in rising.

3. Cushioning should give the user buoyant support without impeding circulation.

Foam rubber cushions are recommended by many medical authorities as best suited for this purpose and they are used in many hospitals because they provide the utmost in restful comfort without impeding blood flow. Down and other "sink-in" cushioning material should be avoided.

4. The back should be high enough for comfortable dozing and forward enough at the top for relaxed television viewing. A small toss cushion to fill in with extra spine support is often a welcome addition to women's lounge chairs.

5. The chair must be stable in weight yet mobile enough to be easily moved for cleaning. A chair with casters that make it roll away at a touch is not to be recommended for the elderly who often lean on furniture when standing or walking.

6. A matching hassock or built-in foot rest is needed for maximum relaxation. A retractable foot rest does not become a stumbling block in a main traffic area and is therefore preferable to an oversize ottoman that sticks out into a room.

Mexican Ideas Can Add Much To Holiday Party

Even if you've never been south of the border, you can entertain your crowd at a Mexican Pinata party this Christmas. If you want to be truly authentic, you'll have it on Dec. 16, when the traditional Posada celebrations begin, but the Pinata theme can be adapted for any holiday party.

The gift-filled Pinata in Mexico is a fragile earthenware jar, but you can use a shopping bag as easily. Build a wire frame for it, and cover with bright paper. Dangle it from an overhead light fixture.

At party time, each guest is blindfolded in turn, given a small stick, and then takes a turn trying to break open the Pinata. The bag can hold paper-wrapped candies, or a grab-bag assortment of gifts.

After the gifts come showering down, it's time for a Mexican-style party. Chili, made from the canned variety and topped before baking with cheese triangles and sliced olives, is a popular mainstay. Chip and cheese dip, perhaps, to accompany this. Punch, combining pineapple, orange and lemon juice, and chocolate cake, decorated with red and green candied cherries, round out the celebration.

For residents of Mexico—and Mexicans in the United States who continue their homeland customs—Christmas will begin Dec. 16. The traditional "posada" nine-day celebration is held in commemoration of Joseph and Mary's difficult journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem.

The Posadas (the word meaning lodging in Spanish) are now religious - social celebrations which generally include a pageant representing the journey. Their origin dates back to the day when Saint Ignatius Loyola conceived the idea of a "novena" ". . . as a reminiscence of Joseph and Mary's journey to Bethlehem during the last month of Mary's pregnancy."

The first actual representation of the journey took place in Spain as a part of the religious function which Saint John of the Cross prepared for Christmas, 1580. It was not introduced in Mexico until seven years later. Since then, the Posadas have become a traditional and purely Mexican celebration.

The Posada is organized in the following manner:

A procession is formed after dark. First some the children, two of whom carry a litter, decorated with pine boughs in which appear clay figures of Mary, riding a donkey, followed by Joseph and the angels. The children are followed by boys and girls. Then come the adults and finally, the servants of the household and the musicians who play the music which accompanies the litany sung during the procession.

Every member of the procession, carrying a thin lighted candle, sings the litany and at the end of it the group is divided, one to represent the Holy Pilgrims and the other the innkeeper.

The former sings asking for lodging, while the latter behind closed doors, tells them to continue on their way. Joseph and Mary then speak of how cold and dark the night is, and how strongly the wind blows. But the voice of the irate "innkeeper" is heard, threatening them with a beating if they persist on awakening the household. Finally, through the efforts of the first, the second group is convinced that Mary is the Queen of Heaven and that she is to be the Mother of the Savior. At this point the door is opened wide inviting them to enter in the midst of great rejoicing and joyful singing.

MEXICAN PINATA PARTY — Traditional Mexican pinata party crosses the border to make a fiesta out of Christmas for these celebrating teen-agers.

The Posadas are hardly ever a one-family affair. Friends and relatives cooperate and they are held in different houses. In order to celebrate the complete novena, one family gives the first Posada and someone among the guests volunteers to give the next and so on.

The initial one is, as a rule, the least pretentious and the rest grow more elaborate as the days pass, for everyone tries to outdo the preceding one. The last Posada, on the 24th, is usually given by a group of families who, pooling their resources, make it the biggest and best.

She Makes Cones Into Holiday Art

BUFFALO (AP)—A woman with a knack for decorating and a keen eye for usable materials has developed a flourishing hobby in pine cone decor.

Mrs. Edward J. Blaszak Sr. two years ago set to work with several bushels of cones, some lengths of wire and a few yards of wire mesh to see what she could concoct. Six weeks later, she'd made her first Christmas wreath of 500 cones.

From there, she branched out to making pine cone Christmas trees, carefully wiring the cones to a wire mesh frame.

Members of her family so admired the result that she started using pine cones for other festival occasions, making hearts for a Valentine party, and designing a most elaborate wishing well for a bridal shower.

Mrs. Blazak won't run out of decorating ideas, but she may run out of cones. Each project involves hundreds, and so cone-hunting becomes a necessity.

She's collected them in state and county parks and in the Adirondacks, using several varieties for her unique decorations.

BUFFALO WOMEN work on a pine cone Christmas tree. Left, Mrs. Edward J. Blaszak Sr., and her sister, Mrs. Eugene B. Wajtkus, wire cones on mesh.

WIRING pine cones together is the first step taken by Mrs. Edward J. Blaszak Sr., Buffalo housewife who specializes in making Christmas decorations of cones.

Your Outdoor Decoration Plan Shares Christmas With Others

Christmas is a season of sharing. It's a time to share with family, friends, strangers. Why not let the warm indoor cheer of your Christmas reflect in your outdoor decorations? Wish all who pass your home a gay "Season's Greetings."

Here are some tips for creating ingenious and joyful effects:

1. Begin with a plan.
2. Keep the plan simple, accenting and decorating a single feature — a tree, chimney, or door.
3. If you want to be more elaborate combine several of these features into an eye-appealing over-all scheme.
4. Use your imagination to camouflage flood lights. Pine boughs, tiny figures, or snow banked behind the lights hide them well.
5. Snow banked in front of floodlights adds a special sparkle.
6. Don't overdecorate with lights strung haphazardly from tree to tree, or gate to tree.
7. For lop-sided trees run the lights from the top, to pegs in the ground, teepee-fashion, for a more symmetrical effect.

With ingenuity and a little work your home can be a gay Christmas card proclaiming a message of cheer.

Yule Photographic Card Can Be Easily Prepared

Preparing a Christmas photographic card before the festivities begin is not as complicated a problem as it sounds.

You don't need live snow or lighted Christmas trees as background effect for the family picture. Simple props that can be kept from year to year will do as well.

Candles, artificial wreaths, stockings, a book of Christmas carols, gaily-wrapped boxes (empty), last year's greeting cards, and a small Merry Christmas rug are some possibilities.

If you're photographing all the children, choose a natural focal point, such as the piano, fireplace, doorway or staircase. Have the grouping be relaxed and informal. And if you want to incorporate your greeting right in the picture, there are many easy methods.

The front doorway is an ideal setting. All you need do is tape a ready-made string of Merry Christmas letters across the door, with or without a wreath. Or just use a hand-lettered sign. Give the family an assortment of gaily wrapped packages to carry. Show one member ringing the bell, and you're ready to click.

A baby and a set of alphabet blocks can be very effective. Spell out your greeting with the blocks, seat the baby behind them, and snap your picture.

Sometimes, a picture can be made to express Christmas without the aid of a single special prop. Children saying their prayers is a most appealing subject, requiring nothing but the youngsters in their nighties and a portion of a bed. Just group the children as close together as you can.

Another situation involving the youngsters calls for a colorful, artificial wreath decorated with ribbon or some of last year's ornaments. Bring out the youngsters, and the wool caps from the moth balls (if you haven't already), and have two of the children put their heads through the wreath and smile for a close-up.

Subterranean Circuit TV

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Underground television is the newest thing for a limited audience in Louisville.

For a long time, officials of the Louisville water Company and Metropolitan Sewer District have tried to figure out the cause of breaks in their lines.

They hired a firm to push TV cameras into the pipes to observe conditions that might cause a break.

Locks Under Key At State College

HAYS KAN. (AP)—When a display of locks arrived at Forst Hays State College noboby had a key to open the case.

The exhibit if 274 locks could not be put on display until a key arrived from the American Federation of Artists in New York City.

Broken Bulbs

To remove stub of a light bulb, which has broken off while in the socket, press a cake of soap over the broken ends. This will give a safe grip for turning the light bulb out. A large cork can also be used in the same manner.

CHRISTMAS CARD IDEA — Artist and writer work together every day, putting together inspiration to make the literally thousands of funny, tender and elegant cards that Americans want to send by the dozens or hundreds, before the holidays.

JUST RIGHT

Informal Card Satisfying To Many Correspondents

Shoppers who prefer neither elegant or sick Christmas cards will find the racks filled this season with exactly the kind they seek: the informal card.

These cards underplay sentiment, and have whimsical, sometimes lightly tender cover drawings.

According to Mrs. Peggy Gilbert, design director at Norcross Studios, the informal was conceived in 1962 to lure people who didn't seem to be buying any cards. Priced at five, ten, and 15 cents, the little cards made a hit, particularly with the teen-age crowd that didn't want to buy a drippy card and had tired of Christmas caricatures.

Now, says Mrs. Gilbert, the demand has moved into the more expensive bracket for the same informals, at prices ranging from 25 to 50 cents.

The cards are appropriate for senders who yearn to write their own newsy note, for messages are short, and there's plenty of uncluttered area left available.

Typical of the informals is a card showing a tiny mouse asleep in a Christmas-decorated match box. The cover says "Not a creature was stirring," and the message concludes inside "Just me . . . wishing you Merry Christmas."

Another, showing three children in folk costumes, says on the cover, "Wishing you an especially Merry Christmas," with the inside line saying "Because you're so special."

American Santa

The American Santa, rotund and ruddy aboard his reindeer sleigh, evolved from the St. Nicholas of Dutch colonists in New York.

Christian, Pagan

Christmas in the United States is a blend of Christian, pagan, seasonal and national traditions.

Modern Wives Saving Time With Dryers

Four or five minutes in a gas or electric dryer does the work of one hour on the line. That's how efficient automatic clothes dryers can be. What's more it is year 'round efficiency . . . as helpful in spring and summer as the cool fall and went winter months.

Just how much time does a clothes dryer save? This varies, of course, depending on the size of your family and your typical home laundry needs. It's safe to say, however, that up to 20 complete eight-hour working days can be saved per year with an automatic dryer.

This figure doesn't include the time savings you'll realize on your ironing when you own a dryer. The new models permit you to damp-dry clothes; you don't have to sprinkle at all. Then, of course, towels and corduroys come out so fluffy and soft that little or no ironing is needed. And wash and wear articles are wrinkle-free and ready to use or wear with only a touch of the iron.

Wash Any Day; Rain Or Shine

Rainy washdays are no joke, as every homemaker well knows. According to U.S. Weather Bureau statistics, they roll around more often than most of us realize.

The bureau reports, for example, that the sun shines only 59 per cent of the year in Chicago, 56 per cent in Nashville and Duluth, and only 45 per cent in Seattle. Things are a little better in Dallas, where they see the sun 66 per cent of the time.

But when you start subtracting the sub-freezing days in northern areas, or days when the soot hangs low, or the kids want to go to the beach or the bridge club meets, those sunny washdays become even fewer. But no matter where you live, Maytag home laundry experts point out, you can wash any day—rain or shine—if you have an automatic clothes dryer.

Help Santa Avoid Censure As King Of Nation's Literbugs

Santa, that happy, rotund fellow who's the big star of the Christmas season, has now been cast in a new—and unpleasant—role.

He's turned into a litterbug.

It's not really his fault, but what with 20 per cent of the packages he brings going under the tree, there's bound to be potential litter with all those wrappings, ribbons, and other decoration.

The Keep America Beautiful people are disturbed by Santa's unsightly image. "He's likely to get a bad name if he doesn't get some help with the litter problem," says Allen H. Seed Jr., KAB's executive vice president.

"It's not just that Christmas litter makes an unsightly mess.

Dwelling fires, of which litter is a major cause, during the three or four days spanning Christmas some years have killed 100 or more people. Fire damage tends to be extra heavy in the holiday season."

The rules for becoming a Santa's helper in the matter of litter are easy to follow, according to Seed:

1. Pack all re-usable gift wrappings and store them in a safe out-of-the-way place.

2. Dispose of all other Christmas wrappings, cartons, ribbons, and the like in the trash container for safe disposal.

3. Take down the Christmas tree when the needles start to drop and dispose of it where it won't become litter or a fire hazard. KAB has a Christmas slogan: "Don't turn Christmas glitter into New Year's litter."

In Los Angeles the local anti-litter people have a present for Santa Claus. You guessed it. A broom.

Sunlight Can Dim Clothing

For generations homemakers have been hanging clothes in the sun for its brightening effect. Actually just the opposite may happen.

Today's detergents contain fluorescent brighteners. But the sun counteracts these chemicals, greatly reducing their effectiveness.

So for that "whiter-than-new" look the TV commercials are always talking about, take the easy way out—use an automatic clothes dryer.

Native Yule Plant

The poinsettia is the one Christmas plant native to America.

SENTIMENT OF BYGONE YEARS

Christmas sentiments of bygone years were fancy and beautiful productions. Upper left is a late 19th century American Yule card, portraying Santa Claus as "St. Christmasse." Upper right, this card departs completely from Christmas theme to imprint two of Longfellow's most popular poems. Lower left, Santa Claus surrounded by various symbols of the Yule season in this colorfully-illustrated early American Christmas card. Lower right, two semi-humorous cards printed in America in the 19th century.

'AND A HAPPY NEW . . .'

Yule Verses Have Long History

"A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You"—the almost universal greeting of the season—dates back at least a century and appeared in print in 1843 on the very first Christmas card.

The famous missive, known to antiquarians as the Cole-Horsley —and a number of other memorabilia of the spirit of Christmases past, repose in the Hallmark Historical Collection in Kansas City, Mo., largest private collection of its kind in the world.

The Cole-Horsley is named for Sir Henry Cole and John Calcott Horsley. Sir Henry, director of the Victoria and Albert Museum, commissioned Horsley, a noted London artist, to design what was to be later recognized as the first Christmas card.

The card is divided into a trio of colored panels. The center, larger than the other two, portrays a family at Christmas dinner. The side panels illustrate the Christian virtues of feeding the hungry and clothing the needy.

Much of our knowledge of the early days of greeting cards is derived from the efforts of an eccentric 19th century Englishman who devoted 60 years of his life to amassing in his London home more than a half million Christmas cards, Valentines, and other greetings.

It was Prince Albert, Victoria's consort, who introduced the Christmas tree to England from his native Germany in the same era in which the Christmas greeting card custom developed.

The Christmas greetings of the Victorian era rival in beauty and elegance the best cards of our own age of advanced technical skill. Many of the most famous artists on both sides of the Atlantic were employed to design them—and the symbols of Christmas, many still popular to the present day—the robin, holly, mistletoe, Santa, and carolers, first became popular on cards that appeared toward the close of the century.

The first American Christmas cards were published in Boston by a man named Louis Prang. They cost a penny and were modest in size and design by modern standards.

Prang, who would later be known as "the father of the American Christmas card," was a German refugee who had established a successful business in Boston selling visiting cards, business advertisements and announcements both here and in England.

In England, the name of Kate Greenaway, whose paintings of children became world-famed, was closely associated with Christmas cards, as were those of Walter Crane and Robert Dudley, both well known artists of the era. In America, Prang commissioned work from such artists as Elihu Vedder, Douglas Volk and J. Alden Weir, all long forgotten but first-rate artists. The Currier and Ives illustrations, so popular today on Christmas cards, were not reproduced on cards until the 20th Century, however.

American-designed Christmas cards slipped from favor for a decade at the turn of the century.

Romans Feasted

Ancient Romans feasted, exchanged gifts and decorated with evergreens during Saturnalia, a December festival honoring the god Saturn. Also relics of pre-Christian midwinter celebrations are mistletoe, the yule log and the wassail bowl.

SHE GETS RUBBER MOUSE

Cat's-Eye-View Of Yule

Katsa (black tabby with white bib) stood ceremoniously on the card table, dining table, work table, watching the girls. They were opening their presents now, at last. Most of the presents had arrived earlier in the week by parcel post, but June (Northwestern University, '62) and Ellen (Bennington College, '63) had held off opening them until Christmas day. Anyway, they had waited until they could set the tree up on Christmas Eve and then had placed the row of packages underneath.

Katsa had watched them hanging the little glass balls and paper chains, the strands of cellophane icicles which had to be placed ever so carefully on those thin pine branches. June had mentioned large fir trees in Illinois — "Branches so thick there was never any room for decoration, it seemed"—rather wistfully. But when they had finished, Katsa thought the tree glowed rather beautifully in the corner of that barren two-room apartment.

After the presents from home they started on the presents they had given each other. Katsa supposed you had to give your roommate a present at Christmas. After all, you only had each other if you were new to New York . . . if you were a "career girl" who'd only arrived in the city in September . . . if you were struggling to "make it" as an editorial trainee (Ellen) or a personnel assistant (June).

June had given Ellen "The Night is a Lonely Hunter" by Carson McCullers, a small cookbook of exotic recipes ("Who'm I going to make them for—you?"), and a paperback on understanding cats. Ellen had given June a little brass bell (Takashimaya, $5). It was decorative and also good for ringing, she said. They smiled smiles of appreciation at each other as they picked up wrapping paper and ribbons from the dusty floor.

"And now, Katsa." June looked over to the kitten on the table and held out a bulky package wrapped in tin foil. June's air of anticipation made Katsa curious. What could it be? She's already had breakfast—tuna fish today, instead of the usual cat food combination. "Here Kitty, Merry Christmas." The girls giggled, and now Ellen, as Katsa's proxy, opened the package. A large pink rubber mouse came out of the tin foil. Ellen squeezed it and the mouse let out a yelp—or was it a howl—and Katsa moved in state from the table to the floor to examine the source of the yelp.

The girls went into their bedroom to dress for the day. Katsa had heard them talk about their reservations for Christmas dinner at Longchamps. It seemed like a "pretty good deal," June had said, and they could afford to splurge just this once—since there was no one to take them out on this day anyway.

Today, Katsa was almost satisfied. She'd known worse homes in her short year on earth; she'd been in two households before this one where she'd had much less enthusiastic owners than the girls. It was true that sometimes they forgot to change the kitty litter and she, always fastidious, had used the bathtub for a toilet, and been severely spanked for it; and sometimes—not always—they forgot about buying cat food and she'd had to eat cold cereal mixed with warm milk. Sometimes June didn't like it when Katsa climbed on her bed at night. Sometimes Ellen seemed to resent Katsa on her lap when she talked on the telephone. But when they were in a good humor they petted and purred and called her "sweet kitten," and "cute little thing."

The girls were dressed now and looked rather smart—all made up and perfumed and powdered. "We must be back at six, for my phone call," June said. Ellen nodded thoughtfully. Katsa felt just a trifle irritated. Phone calls excluded her and brought sighs, sometimes even tears, from the girls.

"Goodby Katsa, be good. Play with the mouse."

They left. Katsa sat on the wide window sill, looking out at the back yard and the high buildings and the grey sky. She heard church bells in the distance and felt a little sad. There was that grey cat out on the fence of the other backyard. He was a "naughty alley cat," Ellen had said, and "you must never play with him."

"Peace on earth, good will to men," she thought, surveying the room and the tree in the corner. She picked her way daintily across the floor toward the mouse. Its cold rubber flesh repelled her. She moved on to the tree. With one paw she swiped a glass ball off a branch and began to push it around the floor with her nose.

Finnish Postal Department Acts As Santa Claus

HELSINKI (UPI) — A few weeks before Christmas the Finnish postal department begins acting Santa Claus.

Children in a number of countries, firmly convinced that the old gent lives in Finnish Lapland, send their request letters to this country. The postoffice either answers the letters itself or passes them on to some group that will.

For the Finns themselves, Christmas means the Christmas ham, eaten on Christmas Eve, the Christmas sauna, a visit to the cemetery to pay respects to the family dead, and trees decorated with live candles instead of electric light strings.

After dinner, the wait for Santa Claus is whiled away in singing Christmas carols and playing Christmas games.

Christmas Day also is a family occasion No visits are permissible except between family members. In the capital, Helsinki, with a population of half a million, no public transport runs on Christmas Day.

Bicycle Is 'Go-Go-Go' Yule Gift

The perfect gift for the "go" generation of today is the gift of a bicycle for fun, fitness, transportation and sport. The bike is a "go-go-go" vehicle for Americans of all ages.

A sure-fire guarantee for happy hearts at Christmas and a long time thereafter, a gift of a bike is sure to please both the recipient and giver.

Over one million bicycles were given as Christmas gifts last year and pre-Christmas estimates are that even this high figure will be surpassed this year. Bicycling is one of the most popular, continually-growing sports activities in the United States.

A shiny new bike under the Christmas tree will certainly delight a six year old . . . a teenager . . . a collegian, as well as an energetic, young-in-spirit senior citizen alert to the physical benefits of riding a bicycle.

The big wheels on the campus these days are on bicycles. For lack of parking facilities, transportation to and from one building to another or just for pure fun—students agree that a bike is just about the only way to go places on the campus for classes and other activities.

Tandem bike dates are more and more becoming "the thing to do" for Saturday and leisure time dating.

"There's nothing like a bike," one bike enthusiast recently observed. And, there are currently more than 55,000,000 Americans who agree! Yes, that's how many people ride bicycles in this country every year.

Enamel Bowls Save Silver

Holiday entertaining calls for bringing out your best in serving pieces.

But some hostesses have learned from sad experience the folly of putting mayonnaise, ripe olives, eggs or salted nuts in their silver bowls, because of the tarnishing or permanent staining and pitting of silver that often follows. To remedy this there are now on the market silver holloware pieces with colorful enamel linings.

First Sale Of Cards

The first sale of Christmas cards by a commercial firm were made in England in 1862.

Midnight Mass Follows Turkey For Spaniards

MADRID (UPI)—Midnight mass following a lavish turkey dinner are the Christmas highlights for most Spaniards who traditionally wait until January for exchanging gifts.

For Spain, a deeply religious country, the exchange of presents comes on Jan. 6, the day the Three Kings gave their offerings to the new-born Christ.

But Spaniards make sure of getting their share of good food and drink on Christmas Eve and the following day. The traditional dinner at this time is made up of sea foods, cauliflower and fried turkey. About an hour after the feast the people are generally in church at mass. And after mass the drinking starts. Good Spanish so-called Champagne is the main drink, but is often taken along with cognac, anisette, cherry brandy and just about anything else around.

No Room For An Argument

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Cleve Bardine took a job as a Santa Claus in a Tucson department store.

One 9-year-old boy climbed on Bardine's knee and in a loud voice began rattling off a long list of toys he wanted for Christmas.

"Why so many things? Don't you think that's a little selfish?" Bardine asked.

The lad shook his head and whispered, "That's my Mom and Dad over there. They don't believe in Santa Claus. If you'd bring me all those things, I bet they'd have to believe in you."

Young Singers Work To Share Yule Music

While other grade school boys are going skating, making snowmen, and dreaming dreams of the most goregous Christmas ever, a dedicated group of young singers is working overtime to share the glory of Christmas music with others.

These are boys who attend the St. Thomas Choir School in New York City, and who are busier than ever during the holiday season.

But though their main responsibility is to prepare for the Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services at the church on Fifth Avenue, they manage time for their own holiday too.

A week before Christmas an evening celebration is held at the school. Dickens' Christmas carol is read, the lights of the tree flash on, the traditional creche is re-dedicated, and the whole group joins in carol singing, followed by egg nog.

The day before Christmas finds them having their regular academic classes till noon, then singing for members of the staff after lunch. At 4 o'clock they move to the church for manger service, singing under the direction of the master of the choir, William Self.

By 5:30 p.m., they're back at school for an exchange of gifts, followed by their Christmas dinner.

Since they'll be out late singing at the church's Christmas Eve service, they go to bed directly after dinner, to be wakened at 10:30 p.m. for a cup of tea before going to the church.

At the same time they bring down their stockings, and put them on their dining room chairs, to be filled by the faculty as soon as the boys leave for church. Bedtime is Christmas morning, at 1:30 a.m.

Christmas Day they're called at 8 a.m., line up outside their dormitory rooms, to march to the dining room singing "Adeste Fideles." Then the stockings are opened.

Their final ritual of the Christmas season is to sing at the Christmas Day 11 o'clock service.

"You should see them when they leave the school," says the headmaster, Robert H. Porter. "They're struggling with their suitcases and their gifts, because they go home immediately after the service."

And somewhere amidst the rigors of rehearsing and performing, the 47 boys find time to go through the corridors of St. Luke's Hospital singing carols.

Yule Tree Custom

It is believed that the custom of Christmas trees crossed the Atlantic with Hessian mercenaries during the American Revolution.

Winter Window Box

Empty window boxes are settings for winter greenery. Strips of chicken wire in the boxes will help evergreen branches stand up straight.

Seamstress Might Like Sheet Gift

Now a woman can decorate the bedroom with sheets—and a stack of matching ones make a great gift to the seamstress.

Sheets in seven different colors to carry out any decorative scheme, now come in matching solids, candy stripes and smart polka dots. With these, enchanting effects for headboards, canopies, dust ruffles, draperies, cafe curtains, vanity skirts are easily created.

It's the arresting combination of matching colors in solids, dramatic stripes and smart polka dots in one unified scheme that does the decorating magic. Use the solid color hem borders to give the creations a protessional finish.

Inexperienced sewers need not hesitate to start redoing the bedroom. Most of the decorating elements involve merely straight sewing.

A double bed sheet contains about seven square yards of handsome washable fabric.

Divide this into the price of a double bed sheet. You quickly see why it's less expensive to use sheets for decorating than to buy comparable washable fabric by the yard.

This new family of sheets in matching solid colors, stripes and polka dots has an almost magical power to unify and to integrate unrelated decorative elements in your bedroom. Surprisingly enough, the authoritative combination of patterns in matching colors makes a small bedroom appear large and a cluttered, cut-up room serene and tranquil.

Yule Folk Music

The ballad type of carol, now considered by musical writers as the true carol, is the folk song type.

Yuletide Plant

The poinsettia is one Yuletide plant native of America. It was discovered in 1828 in Mexico by our first minister to that country, Dr. Joel Poinsett of South Carolina

CHILD IN HOSPITAL—A Salvation Army officer visits a child held captive in an iron lung to give her a Christmas doll.

Salvation Army Works To Add Cheer

For several hundred Salvation Army officers across the country, Christmas is a day not for personal celebrations but for giving cheer to the inhabitants of Skid Row, to drug addicts and drifters, and to the homeless and the lonely.

The staggering prospect of serving dinner to hundreds of thousands of these people is taken in its stride by organization members. In some small towns, the army officer and his wife may invite transients to share a meal in their own home.

In other cases, the organization supplies meal tickets in local restaurants to those who have no place to go, and no money with which to pay for a holiday dinner.

In large cities like San Francisco, Philadelphia and Detroit, thousands of men sit down at social centers to a full-course meal. Sometimes a local hotel chef prepares the food, or other food operators contribute turkey and fixings.

The extent of Operation Christmas Dinner is enormous. Dinners are served on the spot in transient lodges for men and women, in children's homes and homes for the aged, in homes and hospitals for unwed mothers.

In some cities such as Hartford, Conn., hot dinners are delivered to shut-ins who either are unable to go out to dinner or have no one to prepare for them.

Funds for these massive servings of turkey across the nation come from many sources. The Army's traditional kettle appeal helps "keep the pot boiling." But individuals also send checks to Army headquarters, asking that the money be used for Christmas dinners.

VISIT TO HOSPITAL—Young patient chews happily on a toy animals, one of thousands distributed throughout hospitals by the Salvation Army.

Gifts Shouldn't Block Vision

Whether you're driving in town or on the highway, check to see that your vision is not obstructed by a large pile of gifts or luggage that should be in the trunk.

These items on the back seat or on the package shelf by the rear window can easily fly forward during a sudden stop, causing serious injury to passengers.

Most important: always allow yourself enough time to get where you're going. Hurrying from one place to another only adds to the hazards of holiday driving.

Dryers Popular

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Assn. reports that more than 4,000,000 homes are equipped with automatic gas clothes dryers. Last year alone, 536,000 were installed in home laundries.

Latest Features Are Big Boon To Dryer Buyers

The newest features on gas or electric dryers include some items that will reduce the ironing load and produce a better looking, more comfortable batch of clothes and garments.

One of the most helpful is the control that permits a selection of four drying methods. This gives a choice of tumble drying with selected heat and air, tumble drying with air only, selected hot air without tumbling, or simply air drying without heat or tumbling.

This diversity enables a homemaker to enjoy "just right" results in each load of laundry, regardless of whether she's drying work clothes, linens or the baby's delicate things.

Most of the new dryer models have a filter which cleans incoming air before it contacts the clothes. Many models have an accessory that sprinkles the clothing for ironing.

Chrisitmas Stockings

The origin of Christmas stockings is not known, but there is a story that St. Nicholas once accidentally dropped some gold coins down a chimney and they fell in a stocking hung up to dry.

Quaker Group Makes Yule Happy Time For Children

Their living quarters are crowded and they have few of this world's goods, but children in the vicinty of the East Harlem Projects house find Christmas a thrilling time.

Any ordinary day may suddenly turn into a party day, and the children never know when Roy and Jean Hanson, the director of the Quaker project and his wife, may knock on their door and invite them to a party.

During the year, when college students volunteer to work in the area for a weekend, a warm relationship develops between the children of Little Puerto Rico and the students.

Then in the fall, letters come from the college campuses asking the Hansons if the students may entertain at the projects house. Usually the hosts request a specific age group, and the Hansons decide on the guest list.

Perhaps it's a college friend wanting to entertain 20 in the 6 to 8-year-old bracket. The word is given, and on the appointed afternoon, the children troop in, to find on hand materials for making Christmas tree decorations.

Sometimes there's a story or music, and always a generous supply of party food, and perhaps a favor to take home.

Sometimes a group of college students will bring stockings stuffed with little toys to the party.

And the neighborhood teenagers, not to be outdone, have their own holiday celebration one evening before Christmas. Great pains are taken in decorating the room. Balloons hang from the ceiling, with little notes tucked inside. At the appointed signal, the balloons are burst, and the guest must obey the direction given on the note, no matter how silly he may feel.

And as if all this activity were not enough for the Hansons, Christmas Day finds them hosting a neighborhood Christmas dinner for 15 or 20 guests. It's a cooperative affair, with staff members and the guests each contributing one item to the feast. The guests are young people of the area who have no family ties, and who otherwise might feel friendless at Christmas.

Favorite Cookies

Your favorite cookies, cut in holiday shapes, are sure to bring appreciative murmurs from friends and family as they toast each other's health and happiness with Christmas egg nog.

Gardeners' Gift

An excellent gift for a friend or relative with a green thumb is a set of short handled garden tools. A complete outfit includes a cultivator, rake, trowel, weeding fork, hand weeder, and shears.

Frosting Cake

If boiled frosting begins to harden before you have frosted a cake completely, soften it by beating in just a spoonful or two of hot water.

Make Your Door Big Yule Package

You can make your door into a huge Christmas package by pinning wide strips of red satiny material to all four sides, and drawing them together into a great bow, adding ornaments and holly for color contrast.

Whatever the materials you decide upon for your recorations, make sure they are sturdy and can be fastened securely.

If your entrance is unprotected, weatherproof your designs with a coating of clear shellac or use water-resistant materials such as oilcloth.

Discard Wrappings

After you have opened your gifts, remove all the wrappings from your living room and dispose of them as a precaution against fire.

Pity The Poor Hostess During Party Time

By LYDIA BICKFORD

For the past decade, our New Year's celebration has been a traditional, if not a hallowed, event for a group of our friends. My problem is, how can I get out of it?

Drawn together originally in my home by a mutual distaste for paper hats, irrational imbibing, and senseless hysteria at midnight, our group of two dozen or so has brought the New Year in as it should be welcomed with dignified step and serious mien.

This is not meant to indicate I preside over a square party. The assembled guests are stimulating, the conversation is as sharp as a rapier. The bar is available, champagne is served on the dot of midnight. Turkey, ham and shrimp follow shortly thereafter.

In one room, a novelist will be interrogating all within range so he can poach a few ideas for his next book. What's wrong with our teaching methods is getting a going-over with a school principal and a remedial reading teacher hard at it. The concert pianist of the group is getting more out of our piano than seems possible since last New Year's Eve.

A few are talking about their children, but the children are IBM programmers, potential PhDs., and future journalists, so they deserve to be talked about. An erudite group is trying to apply the sentiments of Plato's Republic to America today, and having a rather difficult time.

All is well, I note, as I slip through the circles with shrimp and dip, tactfully re-group one sector which doesn't seem as sympatico as usual, and come in with a strong alto voice as I near a folk-singing contingent.

What, then, is missing?

The answer doesn't come till 3 a.m. as I review the kitchen clutter. Two dozen champagne glasses, an assortment of bottle tops, plates messy with bits of cheese, toothpicks, streaks of sauce, the kitchen table covered with drunk and half-drunk cups of coffee.

It dawns then. I'm tired of being a New Year's Eve hostess.

But here's my predictament:

How can I next year cancel a party with such a long and faithful history of attendance?

The only way out is to recommend something revolutionary for next New Year's Eve. Tell the guests that I'm pooping as a party hostess. Suggest we go to Times Square in New York and scream our heads off at midnight.

The guests will shudder at the very idea. But perhaps, in the ensuing discussion someone will say, "Why don't you come to my house next year?" Before he has a chance to change his mind, I'll agree.

You know, perhaps paper hats aren't so bad an idea after all.

Don't Leave Dad's Gift To The Last

The man in your life deserves special attention at Christmas time. Too many women leave dad's gift until the last minute and then rush out and buy the first thing they and the tired clerk think is cute.

The gift you select for the man you love should tell him so, and the best place to find the perfect, personal gift is your jewelry store.

Consider the man's taste, take a look at what he usually wears and then select something different, but not too different. If he's wearing a silver tie clasp, collar pin and cuff links, get him a similar set in gold, but respect the general style he likes best.

Most important is to make your gift personal — and this means shopping in time to have it engraved with his initials, monogram or a private personal message. Two weeks usually is required for such engraving, but during the Christmas rush you'll be safer if you order the gift a month ahead of time.

You may choose from a varied array of watches, lighters, cigarette cases, pocket knives, good luck tokens, key chains, watch chains and, of course the always welcome cuff links and tie tacks or clasps.

If he's the convivial type, he will appreciate handsome bar accessories — a monogrammed silved drink mixer, bottle opener or coasters. Cocktail shakers and glasses are always in demand, and these, too, may be initialed if you shop early.

Handy Wrapper

A paper tablecloth comes in handy for the bulky gift that is too large for gift-paper widths. These tablecloths are available in various designs, including birthday and Christmas motifs.

Rushing Yule Season

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Tucson Post Office reported receipt of the first 1962 letter for Santa Claus on July 18. Asst. Postmaster N. L. Pritchard said it would be at the top of the pile when the Christmas season arrives.

UNSEEN WATCHERS — Toy factory designers face the moment of truth when they peer through a one-way window to see what youngsters will do with their proud creations. Children surpass any laboratory experiments yet devised to find out how durable a toy may be, whether it is suitable for the age bracket it was designed for, and whether it will hold attention or quickly be tossed aside for some other toy.

Kiddies Test Factory's Toy Ideas

Tots Themselves Often Inspire New Gadgets

EAST AURORA, N.Y. (AP) — They may be a bit too old to play with toys, but they're not too old to get a vicarious kick out of watching tiny children absorbed by a new toy creation.

These lucky adults are toy designers and artists, who through one-way mirrors, watch intently to see how children play with a given toy while it is still in the model stage at the Fisher-Price Toys factory.

Sometimes they may find a toy proves to be too difficult for the child, as was the case with an 18-month-old boy who couldn't grasp the idea of a train's couplers. The observer's wise report was: "He seemed quite young for such a problem."

But with 3-year-old Dale, the story was a different one. "Dale was able to work the couplers very well and had a very good time playing with the toy."

Often a child's inventive play with a toy, though it has strayed far from its original purpose, gives its creator a completely new slant.

Designer Ernest Thornell gave his own child a toy telephone to see his reactions. Instead of twisting the dial, the child dragged it around the house by the cord as though it were a pull toy.

Thornell put the telephone on wheels, installed a chatty sound effect, and added a pair of eyes that wink like headlights as the toy rolls along. This child-created number was a Christmas best seller.

After the children have had the last word on the play-ability of about 50 toys annually, 80 per cent will be scrapped. The nursery school set gives the toys a rough going-over in the factory observation room, and the company is interested in toys that will last.

A child's attention span in playing with a new toy is carefully noted. The average is 12 to 18 minutes, and if the child loses interest before that, the toy idea just wasn't up to snuff.

SECOND CHILDHOOD—Not really. These men are designers of toys, making sure their products will bring hours of pleasure to youngsters of the world. Their work for this Christmas is done; already they're thinking about what Santa will carry in his pack in 1965.

For A Gift To Go To Her Head You Can Buy A Hat Certificate

Looking for a gift that will really go to her head? A gift certificate for a new hat from her favorite milliner's is truly a thoughtful gift.

Styles are dazzling in variety, ranging all the way from casual berets to floppy brims. The perennial beret is worn in a multitude of ways . . . some berets cover the hair completely, others are worn in pillbox fashion or tilting forward to skim the brow.

Brims made news in a myriad of shapes and sizes. There are small tailored fedoras and swaggers a la Henry Higgins of "My Fair Lady" fame, plus large winged and sloping brims, oversized bretons and rollers; these in addition to floppy double-faced stitched brims, are the exciting new silhouettes of the season.

Echoing the "My Fair Lady" look of the newer hat fashions are sleek caps that curve to fit the contour of the head. Turbans also recreate the romantic aura of the turn of the century with swirls and drapes, smoothed and rounded lines plus back detailing. Large bows, or jeweled and feathered pom poms often dangle from the crown.

Warm tones dominate the season's kaleidoscope with red and green leading in importance, seconded by the complete brown spectrum, plus shocking pink, pale turquoise, black and white.

Favorite materials in new hats are matte or crushed grain leathers, suedes, felt skirtings, jerseys and velvets. Imitation reptile is being used extensively both for body and trim this season, while brushed wools and mohairs in muted tweeds, knits, high pile beavers and fluffy mousse are also popular. Feathers in vivid colors will be seen on hats for daytime wear as well as for evening, with touches of sparkling glitter in the latter instances. Luxurious furs continue in importance, in addition to less expensive furs that simulate the more expensive ones. A great deal of attention has also been focused on dyed and stenciled skins.

With such a marvelous array to select from, she'll be thrilled at the opportunity to go shopping for a pretty new hat with that gift certificate from wonderful, thoughtful you!

Christmas Tip

When measuring molasses, honey or syrup, first use the cup to measure shortening. The syrup will not stick to a slightly greased cup.

Romantic Gift

For a romantic-looking gift paste a paper doily in center of a package that has already been wrapped; cut second doily to fit corners of box.

Less Ironing With A Dryer

Ironing is lessened or eliminated for owners of the new automatic dryers because of a de-wrinkle cycle. This gentle "cooling-off" period follows the regular drying cycle and gives fabrics and garments a fresh look.

The "automatic dry" control includes a damp dry setting which dries clothes just the right length of time for easiest ironing—without sprinkling.

When the drying cycle is completed a bell sounds so clothes can be removed while wrinkle-free.

Music For Christmas

The first Christmas music came on the first Christmas—when the Heavenly Host of angels rang out with "Glory to God on the highest."

Don't Let Thief Spoil Your Yule

Unfortunately, as soon as Christmas shopping begins in earnest, shoplifters and petty thieves turn out in full force.

There are several things you can do to prevent being the victim of theft.

First step: When you arrive at a store, be sure you lock your car.

Once inside the store, keep a firm hold on your purse at all times. Never set it down on the counter out of your direct sight. (It's smart to carry a shoulder strap bag when shopping—stylish, or not).

Men would be wise to put their billfold in the inside pocket of their coat. If it is carried in the hip pocket of slacks, be sure the pocket is buttoned.

Women should carry a handbag that closes tightly at the top. Open-top bags are a real invitation to thieves.

When paying for a purchase, be careful in showing how much cash you are carrying, especially if it is a considerable amount.

It's wise, too, to check your purse or pocket every few minutes to make sure you have your wallet. The sooner you report a theft, or loss, the better your chances are for having the item recovered.

If you will put all of your packages into one or two large sacks or shopping bags, it will be easier to keep up with them. Small packages, especially, have a way of disappearing.

These suggestions are good ones to follow at any time of the year, but do be extra cautious now when stores are so crowded.

STUDENTS WELCOMED

Foreign Visitors Are Remembered

Foreign students who are in the United States at Christmas time don't need to forgo the enjoyment of a family-style holiday, complete with all the trimmings. Many exciting programs are aimed at helping the international student spend either Christmas day or the whole holiday period with an American family.

One such program is coordinated by New York University's International Student Center. The Center works with other organizations within the school and the community—particularly religious groups—to find Americans who are willing to share their holiday with a foreign visitor.

An estimated 200 to 300 students take part in the Christmas festivities. Many of these young people are residents of NYU's dorms most of which close for the holiday, forcing the students to find other quarters.

A large number of the students will spend Christmas day with a family in the New York metropolitan area or in the neighboring suburbs. Other students spend whole holiday vacations with families from as far away as Florida or Vermont.

Last year, a group of 40 students traveled to Vermont for the holidays. There they stayed with typical American families and enjoyed such group activities as folk dancing, singing and skiing on nearby snow-covered mountains.

Donald Bullard, of the International Center, says Soviet students were the most popular and most requested guests. One student made such a hit that a Vermont family named a newborn calf after him.

Another group of students headed south for Florida and a warmer, but just as enjoyable holiday.

The school welcomes anyone who would like to have a foregn visitor for Christmas and those interested can contact the Intrenational Student Center, New York University, Washington Square, New York.

Christmas Spirit From Sad Parents

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A Tulsa couple whose sons drowned six years ago will provide a Merry Christmas for 300 children.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Davis repair and restore broken toys salvaged from junkyards and other sources to make gifts for underprivileged children. Davis, a carpenter, and his wife both have regular jobs and do their toy repairing at night—often until 2 or 3 a.m.

"I want children to be happy at Christmas," says Mrs. Davis. Their two teen-aged sons drowned in a lake near here.

Celebrated First

St. Nicholas Day was first celebrated in Asia Minor in the fourth century. The white-haired bishop appeared on Dec. 6, his sain't day, riding a white horse laden with gifts for children.

Games Are Fun-Gifts To Receive

Nothing expresses the spirit of "togetherness" more eloquently than a group of children, teenagers, adults or a happy conglomeration of all of them, huddled happily over an exciting game.

Such games as chess, checkers, dominoes and bingo are games that have proved to be consistently popular and enduring. "Parcheesi," a game that is mentioned frequently in our literature dating back to the Victorian era, actually was first introduced 97 years ago by the firm of Selchow and Righter, who also brought us the immensely popular crossword game "Scrabble" which swept the nation a number of years ago. "Scrabble" helps stimulate interest in new words and offers exciting educational play in versions for the junior crowd as well as its regular game for more advanced students and adults.

For Christmas 1964, there is a new game of skill, "Tangle," a game which involves pure strategy and skill — not luck.

The game consists of one playing board and 93 hexagon-shaped tiles. Two, three of four can play — from ages eight to eighty.

It's easy to check off many names on your Christmas list with the gift of games. There are games that make it fun to learn — whether it's arithmetic for the primary grader, history for the junior high schooler or spelling — through such games as anagrams.

Games based on famous Civil War battles and other historical events . . . map games which make play out of the study of geography . . . games such as "Monopoly" and other business and financial transaction games are but a few of the many different games that offer fun for the young set, but often entice the older folks into the challenge.

In Brazil, gifts are given on both Christmas and Epiphany, known as King's Day.

CHRISTMAS IN JUNE — Paul Vogler, window display manager of a New York department store, starts cogitating in June, about how to provide the annual Yuletide extravaganza that his store's windows will become. Here he's checking some props.

Preparing For Yule Is Like Moving Army

Merchandisers Start Planning Months Ahead

While New York shoppers take a look at bathing suits in an air-conditioned store, or select straw bags to take away on a summer holiday, the store's personnel is making plans for the Christmas rush. They KNOW how many shopping days are left.

An inexorable and highly detailed schedule is circularized, telling the staff to do what looks like the undoable: move booths, add counters, and bring in Christmas merchandise without a ripple passing through the current selling stream.

The directive says things like this: "Remove CAMPUS WAY merchandise and prepare area for APRONS."

"Vacate present INFANTS TOY area and prepare for GRANDMOTHER BOTIQUE."

"Set up RED ROSE WRAP DESK in 3rd floor transfer room. Same as last year."

"Install two bed-jacket cases in corridor for NEGLIGEES DEPT."

As early as June, the display department will have decided what kinds of decorations to hang inside the store, buyers will be looking ahead to the July fashion shows to learn trends for holiday stocking up, and artists will be reviewing merchandise with the buyers as the Christmas catalogue starts its long route from store to customer.

By September special Christmas card booths will be activated primarily because shoppers who wish cards with imprinted names must make a decision early.

Maintenance men as well as buyers are continually busy too making safety checks on the functioning of package conveyors, elevators, doors, lights, and dumbwaiters.

In late October extra personnel is interviewed and hired for the Christmas rush, and usually given a brief training period for efficient performance. Santa moves in shortly after Thanksgiving to take up his familiar post, which means Christmas is practically around the corner.

AUGUST CHORES — Richard Nelson, art director of a Fifth Avenue store in New York City, starts work on the Christmas catalogue in August. Here he plans what merchandise to have sketched.

Lone Star Christmas Seems More Like Easter To Coed

By SHEILA RYAN

For a proper Bostonian, who had always thoroughly enjoyed a proper New England Christmas for 21 happy years, it was something of a jolt to find myself stranded in Beeville, Tex., for the holidays.

I really shouldn't say "stranded," for my Dallas roommate, Norma Peiper, had been nice enough to ask me to her Texas home for Christmas when I found I couldn't afford the trip back home.

But I simply couldn't picture myself having a Christmas without snow, without the tingle of frosty cold air, without the beauty of an evergreen tree. The climate here in Beeville was much more appropriate, I thought, for an Easter weekend.

We were arriving at Norma's home, but everyone turned out and we had our Christmas gift exchange right away. (My gifts had traveled 2,000 miles, and were a bit battered.)

After church on Christmas morning, we came back to the house to face another jolt—my roommate was calmly preparing a newly-slain buck which the men of the house had just brought home. This was to be the high point of our Christmas feast!

We all helped the Mexican woman prepare the table and what a meal! Many of the dishes were the same, but there were the barbecued deer and iced tea to cool us off.

Next day we drove 200 miles each way to have supper in Mexico. I met all of Norma's college friends and they moaned when they heard how far away from home I was.

But I was more than content.

Though my Texas Christmas was a far cry from my usual celebration, it made me realize it's not the day itself that's so important. It's the Christmas feeling.

HOUSES FOR MOUSES

Clever Mother Delights Kiddies

WOODCLIFF, N.J. (AP) — An artistic woman with a flair for whimsy and an instinct for knowing what children inevitably will like is hard at work dreaming up new ideas for Christmas pleasures.

She is Gloria Deppert, who a few years ago built a tree house for her own little girl, peopled with tiny animals, and made from a hollow log. The forest tree house caught on with customers at F. A. O. Schwartz, where Gloria showed her design, and Gloria followed by designing mouse houses—one for the city mouse, one for the country mouse.

Both houses contain appropriate furnishings that fit into a plywood case that can be carried by a child when the mouse goes traveling.

Then Gloria turned to gamemaking, came up with "Margie Whoopie Game," and is now working on a board game for little children.

Her own children, particularly her 8-year-old Dahna, and children of the neighborhood, are part and parcel of the toy making business.

"I don't close the studio door when they come in from school," says Mrs. Deppert. "The children like to be in on it. And in this way, I can try out my ideas on them, and see which appeal. Also, they're helpful because they are so candid."

Mrs. Deppert confesses she has "many irons in the fire. I do some painting, which can be described as contemporary impressionism, some sewing, and then these various toy ideas."

Before her marriage, Gloria studied at the Art Students League, and in France at the Fontainebleau School of Fine Art.

This Contractor Just Like Santa

LOUISVILLE (AP) — One contractor has figured out a way to handle customers who order a fireplace for the home and are slow to pay.

He installs a pane of glass which blocks the flue of the chimney.

When the homeowner complains that the fireplace smokes, the contractor tells him it will work fine when it's paid for.

Upon payment, he drops a brick down the chimney, clears away the broken glass, and everyone's happy.

Gift Of Flowers

Gifts of flowers, plants and decorative greens are always expressive of the Christmas spirit and no matter what other gifts may be given and received, a floral gift adds a warm and most personal extra touch.

FUN FOOD—Jaunty snowman will soon be totally destroyed, for this holiday hors d'oeuvre is as tasty as it looks.

The Adorable Snowman Is Holiday Taste Treat

How do holiday dishes become traditional?

An enterprising cook tries a festive new recipe at Christmas time. Family and friends give it a warm welcome, and she's delighted; naturally she repeats the offering the next year, and perhaps year after year.

Cookie, candy, fruit cake and punch recipes abound—there are so many fine recipes from which to choose. But new ideas for decorative savory dishes are harder to find. Here's one, however, that may fill your bill.

It's The Adorable Snowman — a snowman to use as a spread for crackers. This hors d'oeuvre is just right to serve with tomato juice or punch before the family sits down to dinner. It's also great for a holiday evening party when snacks and drinks go the rounds.

THE ADORABLE SNOWMAN

3 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
¾ teaspoon tabasco
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 orange
Ripe olives
Pimento
Round crackers
Parsley sprig
2 celery sticks

Drain tuna thoroughly. Put tuna, cream cheese, mustard, tabasco, onion, and parsley in large bowl of electric mixer; beat until smooth and entirely blended. Makes about 3½ cups.

For bottom section of snowman, cover orange with 1½ cups of tuna mixture; shape into ball. Shape 1 cup of mixture into ball for center section, and ¾ cup into ball for head, reserving about 2 tablespoons for top of hat. Chill snowman sections thoroughly.

To assemble, stack sections of snowman using toothpicks to hold in place. Make eyes and nose with bits of ripe olive, mouth and buttons with pimento. To make hat: put round cracker on head at slight angle, top with small ball made of reserved tuna mixture, and add parsley sprig to top. Make arms with celery sticks. Chill before serving with crisp crackers.

Red, Green Colors For Christmas

Today, red and green are traditionally associated with Christmas. But throughout history they have symbolized many other things.

From ancient times, men have used colors as symbols of abstract ideas, Red, for instance, meant fire to the ancient Greeks while green depicted the earth. In the Bible's 23rd Psalm, green is used to suggest hope or good fortune, as in the "green pastures" passage.

Colors played an important role in medieval magic and superstition. In this tradition red was a symbol of curative powers. Even today, Indonesians say that a piece of bright red coral will keep its owner's teeth in good order, and there are people everywhere who are sure that a person owning a ruby will live to a ripe old age.

In keeping with Christmas, red is accepted, in its good sense, as a symbol of the creative power of the Holy Spirit. In its bad sense, red is considered a sign of hate, and of energy gone wrong. In this latter meaning, it becomes an emblem of Satan.

Red, in its good sense, sometimes appears in pictuers of St. Cecilia, as part of a garland of red and white roses. Here, the red in the roses signifies the higher spiritual love expressed in classical music.

Emerald green is often the symbol of hope and growth, and this is the meaning generally attributed to it in many Christmas paintings. Green also has a religious meaning to Muslims, who believe it signifies immortality. The Buddha is often painted against a green background to denote the permanent life behind appearances. Green also was a sacred color among the ancient and medieval Egyptians, who wore it as a symbol of hope and the joy of spring.

SOMETHING NICE TO FIND UNDER TREE

Christmas Half and Half Time For Congress Families

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christmas is very definitely a movable feast for many Congressional families, some of whom may travel hundreds of miles to be back home for the holidays, may spend it in a city where the majority of their children can converge, or may go off to a resort so they can concentrate exclusively on a family Christmas.

"It's a half and half Christmas with us," says Mrs. Frank E. Moss, whose husband is a Democratic senator from Utah. "Last year we went home, and had Christmas in our apartment there, since two of our children and our son-in-law are all students at the University of Utah, and it was more convenient for them if we went west.

"We hung a wreath on the door of our Washington home to show we weren't completely ignoring Christmas here, and then started out."

The Moss family—Marilyn a junior and Edward a freshman at the University, and son Brian, a student in high school in the Washington area—still hangs up Christmas stockings.

"We put the craziest gifts in them," explains Mrs. Moss. "Things like good luck trolls, household items for the men that were really designed for women, and all kinds of jokes."

The Mosses, with scads of relatives on tap in Utah, have two family dinners, one Christmas Day at which at least 50 people sit down to turkey. Then, says Mrs. Moss, "since we're a singing family, we gather round the piano for carols."

New York City is likely to be the gathering place for the Eugene M. Zuckert family. Zuckert, who is secretary of the Air Force, has a married son attending law school and a daughter who is working in the city, as well as his father and mother, so it's natural for the family to celebrate the holidays there. The city is also his former home.

But one Christmas the Zuckerts took off for Hot Springs, Va., and spent the holidays peacefully at their own cottage at the mountain resort. "It seemed quite homey," says Mrs. Zuckert. "We decorated our own tree late in the afternoon the day before Christmas, brought all our presents down, and had a delightful time."

Two Washington families stay in the capitol for good reasons. Congressman Joel T. Broyhill, who lives in Arlington, Va., represents that district, so he's always home for the holidays. A Wisconsin congressman, Vernon Thomson, doesn't take his family home to Richard Center because his house there is rented. So they have what Mrs. Thomson calls "Christmas as we please "in their Washington house.

"Even if our home were vacant, it would be difficult to move everyone back to Wisconsin for such a short time. And we have two dogs to complicate things," says the congressman's wife.

The family, which includes two daughters who graduated from the University of Wisconsin and a high school son, spends a quiet holiday at their home in McLean, Va., across the river from the capitol.

"We go to the Christmas Eve service at the Presbyterian Church, and sleep as late as we like Christmas morning. Our turkey dinner is always served at noon."

Though the Broyhills don't face traveling problems at Christmas time, there are a few complications in their busy lives. Jane Anne, who'll enter DePauw University in the fall, will have her coming out party at the Holly Ball during the Christmas holidays and all manner of parties preceding it.

But Mrs. Broyhill is experienced in handling such a crowded social calendar. Her older daughter Nancy, a senior at George Washington, was presented to society at the same function.

"Fortunately, our daughters never have been early risers on Christmas Day, even Jeanne Marie, who is 13. So we have a late breakfast, and a family dinner whenever it's ready."

SOCIETY IN D. C.—Posing for a society portrait is one phase of Christmas activities for Mrs. Joel T. Broyhill, wife of the Republican congressman from Arlington, Va. Daughter Jane Anne will be introduced to society this Christmas.

Pupils Quick In Tribute To Teacher

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Frank Petrick, who taught English at Wilson Junior High School for 11 years before his death last May, was a man who inspired devotion.

He was a former football great at the University of Indiana. He had coached football at the University of Wichita and the University of Tampa.

He was an old-fashioned English teacher who stressed grammar but made his students love it by making it a game.

"Petrick was the greatest English teacher I have ever known," said Principal E. J. Hauer.

He was also an individual. Fatally ill, he requested that no demonstrations of remorse be permitted when he died.

But Hauer said the students wanted to do something in Petrick's memory, and so an announcement was made that contributions of ice cream and soda money would be accepted to buy bonds for his daughter. Within an hour, Hauer said, $143 was collected. A total of $325 in bonds were purchased after the faculty had also contributed.

Little Black Lamb In Manger Is Part Of Christmas Story

By MARIE PRICE

The night was still.

All the sheep were lying on the hillside, occasionally looking to the sky where the twinkling stars could be seen clearly. All that is, except one young lamb.

His name was Dodo. And he was a black lamb.

The shepherds considered Dodo was their most troublesome charge. Several times a day, one of them had to hook his staff around Dodo's neck and yank him back with the herd.

Dodo didn't mean to be difficult. It was just that he always wanted to see what was over the next hill, and he'd forget lambs weren't supposed to stray.

Dodo had problems too. Getting along with the other sheep was very trying at times. Because he was black and his curiosity got him into so much trouble, the others tended to look down their noses at him. And if one started, they all followed.

When this happened, Dodo would sigh and draw away. Sometimes he'd decide to go exploring.

And that's how it came to be that Dodo went wandering on this peaceful night.

First, he gamboled to the top of the hill, being careful not to rouse the shepherds. When he reached it and looked out across the land, he was surprised at how sharply he could see everything.

There was a brilliant star shining—the brightest Dodo had ever seen. And it lit up the whole area below, almost as if it were daytime.

Then Dodo headed down the hill into the brightly lit area. He saw a little village, crowded with people, and wondered why they were there.

He came to a place which seemed to be right underneath the bright star.

And when he looked around he saw a stable. There were two people, and several animals—a cow, a donkey, and others. They were all looking down at something lying in a manger. Dodo couldn't see what it was, but he moved closer to find out.

Suddenly he saw — they were all gazing down at a little baby. And Dodo looked too.

He felt so happy. He wanted to dance and run and play. Maybe, he thought, I should run back and tell the other sheep about this so they can come and be happy too.

But then, Dodo decided not to. They probably wouldn't believe him. It would take something more powerful to convince them, thought Dodo. Maybe they'd all come—later.

And so Dodo quietly moved as close to the manger as he could get and, for the first time in his life lay down and just watched.

Dry Safely

A variety of drying heats can be thermostatically controlled on your flameless electric dryer. For example: using the "no heat" control setting snow suits, small rugs, shoes, and overshoes can be safely dried.

For The Gamester

Many enthusiasts collect chess sets made of various materials. A distinctive wooden, ivory or plastic set for their collections would make a fine holiday gift.

For Teen-Age Boys

Contrary to popular belief, ten-age boys are not a special breed . . . they have individual preferences, just like grown-ups.

Most teens are sports conscious though, and would be delighted with a pair of tickets to a favorite sports event.

CAROL TIME — Summer time is carol time for record stars like Bobby Vinton, who began cutting Christmas records in July. It's like keeping the spirit of Christmas alive all year long.

RECORDNG STARS

Summer Is Time For Songs Of Yule

When record buyers troop into stores this Christmas to find a new recording of songs and carols, little will they dream that their purchase was recorded in a studio at least six months ago, and started on its long and detailed processing from singer to buyer.

First, comes the weighty decision made by the record company and its singers as to what Christmas albums to issue, and how much to mingle new songs with old.

Then the singer and the arranger work together on the song's presentation, and manuscript music is written for the orchestra.

Rehearsing the songs goes rapidly or at snail's pace, depending on how all the musical elements involved jibe together. If the orchestra and singer have worked together before, the practice sessions go like clockwork, and the mechanics of cutting the record begin.

After the records are processed, it takes a month to design and print a cover, hopefully so arresting it will sell itself from the record shop's display case.

By now, it's November first, D-day for Christmas records' delivery to the shops. Before this date, shop owners will have received advance news of the new arrivals, with all kinds of suggestions as to how to display the record.

Can a singer work up any enthusiasm for a white Christmas when he's recording in June? Bobby Vinton took a break from his recording session to say an emphatic "yes."

"At first, it's a little hard to get started," said the Blue Velvet boy. "But I sing to the orchestra, and when they move in with all those bells ringing, I'm in the mood. I have a real tear-jerker for this Christmas. It's a song about an orphan who asks Santa for a home for Christmas.

Burglar Alarm Guards Nothing

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The State Treasurer's vault at the Nebraska Statehouse is now equipped with a modern burglar detection device.

It replaced one installed when the Statehouse was built. State Treasurer P. Merle Humphries found earlier this year it would not work.

But the treasurer admits a burglary wouldn't be too profitable. That's because 99 per cent of the office receipts are in the form of checks. Any cash taken in is deposited daily in a commercial bank.

This Trade-In Pretty Good

SALINAS, Kan. (AP) — Harry Choate was working in a field on his farm more than a year ago when he lost a billfold containing $143.

He watched for his wallet each time he worked that field and after a year found it. But the paper money had deteriorated.

Choate later reported that the U.S. Treasury reconstructed enough of the money to reimburse him for $128.

Czechoslovakian Phone Books All For The Novaks

PRAGUE (AP)—Five and a half pages of Prague's new telephone book lists the name Novak — Czechoslovakia's equivalent of Smith.

Prague, with a population of one million, has 183,700 telephone subscribers, the news-agency Ceteka reported.

Since 1953, all the country's 11,945 communities have telephones. The highest is in the observatory on Mt. Lomnicky Stit situated at an altitude of 2,632 meters in the High Tatra mountains in Slovakia.

Novak has no meaning in Czechoslovak. It is probably derived from the adjective novi- which means new.

Riding All Day But To Where?

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Driving west this summer, Earl Clinton, his wife, and their 5-year-old daughter frequently stopped at a turnpike restaurant chain for refreshments.

One evening, as they stopped at one of the restaurants for dinner, the little girl looked at the familiar surroundings and remarked:

"We rode all day and here we are again."

EDUCATIONAL TOYS

Jetting to the moon, or merely over the Atlantic, is an absorbing pursuit for small airmen. The craft, strong enough to hold several youngsters, can be ridden on and steered. It's one of many educational playthings manufactured by the Society of Brothers at Rifton, N.Y.

Minister's Wife Has Hectic Time

Christmas is a hectic season in anyone's book, but for the wife of a small-town minister, it reaches staggering proportions. With Mrs. Carl Fearing Schultz of Cape Cod, Mass., the holiday begins with the Thanksgiving left-overs, and ends with the church's New Year's Eve candlelight service.

Right after Thanksgiving, the choir, in which Mrs. Schultz sings soprano, begins rehearsing Christmas music at weekly sessions. During the first week in December the annual two-day holiday bazaar is held, and Mrs. Schultz, as president of the "afternoon" ladies organization, will be very much involved.

There'll be booths to decorate and stock, and Mrs. Schultz will donate aprons, sweaters, and knickknacks she has made herself for the booths. There'll be a luncheon and buffet supper to supervise.

President of the "evening" ladies organization is Mrs. Schultz' daughter, Mrs. Robert Thomas, who will no doubt seek her mother's advice—as everyone does—on quantities of food to order and kinds of decorations to have for the group's festive functions. At Christmas, Mrs. Thomas' three lively children will traditionally be given at least one sweater and a pair of mittens knit by their grandmother.

Over the 35 years that Dr. and Mrs. Schultz have been at the Federated Church, it has become customary for Mrs. Schultz to create remembrances for the elderly and lonely in the parish, and this year is no exception. She is already wondering if Mrs. Smith would like some jellies.

The White Gift service on family night is held the second Sunday before Christmas. Children bring toys or clothes wrapped in white paper, and marked according to sex and age: the parents bring box suppers. When the guests have departed after supper and a Christmas movie, the Schultzes package the gifts, and send them to a city mission in Boston.

The following Sunday, the young people of the Pilgrim Fellowship go caroling through the neighborhood, and stop in at the parish house where Mrs. Schultz has hot chocolate and cookies awaiting them.

By this time the more than 4,000 Christmas cards which the minister and his wife design are in the mail. It remains to sort all the cards coming in to be sure no one has been left out. The card, a long verse written by the minister and edited by his wife, tells of the year's activities of the church and the doings of the family. Sometimes it is illustrated with a photograph of the life-sized nativity scene in front of the church.

How does all this activity in the church affect the family's Christmas? Mrs. Schultz remembers when this season meant having to hire more babysitters than usual, but, she says, "We took the children to many of the church functions, so I was kept busy supervising functions and two lively youngsters."

When the children were small, "I tried to have as normal a Christmas for them as possible," she recalls ."We had our stockings in the morning, but I can't remember that our Christmas dinner was any more elaborate than a big Sunday dinner for the four of us. We had no time for family reunions."

And they still can't enjoy large family reunions—at least not on Christmas Day. "Carl, Jr., has his own parish in Auburn, Mass., and has responsibilities there, but he usually brings his wife and two children to the Cape during the following week to celebrate a belated holiday with us," she says.

So Christmas for the Schultzes is finally calm. In the morning they visit with the Thomases and their three grandchildren, then return home for a relaxing and leisurely meal. Sometimes in the afternoon, they drop in on close friends.

CHRISTMAS IN WASHINGTON

These Old Stamps Are Worth Plenty

WICHITA, KAN. (AP)—A Wichita postal clerk at first rejected an airmail letter because he thought the two stamps on it were too old to be used.

Then he rechecked and found that the two 24-cent stamps were issued in 1923 and now have a collectors' value of $8.75 each.

Fishermen Like To Get Winter Gifts

To ardent fishermen, the next angling outing is always just around the corner—even in the midst of winter. If dad likes fishing, an outboard motor represents an ideal Christmas present. Just watch him begin planning his first early spring fishing trip.

If you don't already know, a bit of sleuthing will turn up dad's favorite lake and the type of fishing he prefers—trolling, exploring the weedy areas, drift and still fishing or surface plugging.

The outboard motors most frequently used for fishing include those with horsepower ratings of three and one-half, seven and one-half, nine and one-half and 14. The particular one for dad depends on several factors.

If he likes to troll, select a motor that will idle for long periods of time and perform well at slow speeds.

If he fishes in a large lake, a 14 horsepower outboard motor would be a good choice. With it, he can cover long distances in a short time and have more fishing hours.

An important point to consider is weight. Dad will appreciate an outboard motor which he can carry easily to and from his car and one which can be stowed compactly in the trunk with the rest of his gear.

Many outboard motors feature a full gear shift, allowing dad to shift into forward, neutral or reverse for maneuvering in small coves and close areas.

Outboard motors, much like automobiles, are constantly being improved. A new feature may be just the thing that will appeal to dad.

Mistletoe Kissing

The practice of kissing under the mistletoe is believed to have its origin in ancient times when enemies met under the mistletoe and dropped their weapons and embraced.

Plant From Heaven

Mistletoe was known to the ancient Druids, who thought it was a plant brought from heaven by the missel thrush.

Gag Gifts Give Family Laughter

Gag gifts, good for family laughter, have their place under the Christmas tree just as much as luxury items.

Teen daughter never gets around to hanging up her clothes? Give her a set of plastic hangers, with an appropriate verse attached.

Father complains he can't remember names? Give him a paperback on 20 ways to a better memory.

Young daughter still bites her nails? There's a nasty-tasting nail polisher that will curb her appetite.

There's no end to the fun type of present that can be unearthed by rummaging around ten-cent stores, second-hand shops, even junk yards. And it all adds to the merriment.

Here are a few ideas:

1. For the student who struggles with math, an engineer's slide rule.
2. For the accident-prone car driver, a piece of damaged chromium.
3. For the corporation executive, a tall silk hat, second-hand.
4. For the jewelry-conscious miss, a collection of enormous cheap rings with glass settings.
5. For the serious artist, a child's coloring book and crayons.
6. For the mighty hunter, a beer can launcher, so he can target shoot at will.
7. For the adolescent film fan, a collection of photographs from the ten-cent store, framed or otherwise.
8. For the tired businessman, a single vitamin resting in a cotton-lined box.

You know best the eccentricities of your own family. Turn them into laughter with a zany present.

Give Yourself To Decorating

Christmas entertaining today; as always, is traditionally festive and gay. Modern hostesses take delight in decorating the house and displaying their talents for do-it-yourself projects as at no other time of the year.

It's easy to go out and buy the things that make Christmas look like Christmas at your home. But somehow Christmas feels more like Christmas when there's something of you in the decorations that spell out the holiday spirit.

With a little time and imagination, you can make charming adornments for your home. And it's so simple with the help of Christmas gift wrapping papers, in themselves so in keeping with the spirit of the season.

Don't Leave Mother Out In Cold On Gift

When it comes to buying Christmas gifts, mother is usually the first person the family turns to for ideas.

She's got to have suggestions ready for the little girl who decides she wants to give her little brother a nice present — she's realized he isn't such a monster at all.

She's got to know exactly what dad would like from his son—aside from another polka dotted tie, that is.

She's got to decide whether her 12-year-old daughter would like another doll—or is she too grown up for that now?

But when all the suggestions are made and all the gifts are bought, mother is too often left out in the cold. The family gives her presents of course, but what presents!

Maybe she does need a new electric floor waxer. But Christmas isn't the right time to get it for her.

And a new steam iron is delightful. But what woman wants to cuddle up with a cozy steam iron instead of something nice and fury like an angora sweater.

No matter how practical and efficient mother may seem deep down she'll like something frivolous. It needn't be expensive like mink or diamonds—although they're always nice. But how about those whimsical nothings? A tiny vial of that utterly extravagant perfume she's always wanted, but never would buy for herself. Or a be-ribboned and be-frilled lounging coat. Or oodles and oodles of delicious-smelling bubble bath? The "ors" are endless.

Hot Dog Meets Bun In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sixty years ago something happened here that affected the eating habits of millions of Americans and others around the world until the end of time.

It was at the St. Louis Louisiana Exposition in 1904. A concessionaire loaned his white gloves to his patrons so they could hold his piping-hot weiners. Many of the gloves were never returned, and this cost the man money. Desperately, he turned to his brother, a banker, for help. He made a bun to fit the meat—and the hot dog sandwich was invented.

Fine Silver Adds Luster To Holiday

Nothing adds more to the charm and festivity of holiday tables than the luster of fine silver.

For Christmas and for use throughout the years, beautiful silver bowls, platters, candlesticks, ash trays, compotes and vases are gifts of timeless value. A fine silver service grows more beautiful with use and can make every meal a festive occasion.

Most popular in the silver holloware gift lineup are silver bowls of all sizes and designs.

The thoughtful giver will order such gifts well in advance to allow time for the personal touch of initialing or monogramming—an added sentiment quotient sure to be appreciated.

Silver trays are always in demand, and no household ever had too many of them—big, handsome trays to hold a complete coffee service or small trays to hold an individual cup or glass.

Anything from a set of silver coasters to a handsome tea or coffee service will win undying gratitude from any homemaker. And the silver may be sterling or plated, precious or budget-priced.

The art of the finest designers is available in silver pieces in silver pieces in all price ranges, with some of the most beautiful of modern designs seen in inexpensive silver plate.

Silver occupies a place of honor on top of Santa's pack this year—a gift for holiday entertaining and use every day of the year.

But It Was A Good Try

MIAMI (AP) — Some days it doesn't pay to be a hero. Take Lou Burdak, 34:

He jumped off a causeway bridge to save a drowning man. Instead of hitting water, he landed on the fishing catwalk and broke his right ankle.

Another passerby rescued the victim. Burdak went to the hospital.

Number Of Poor Dwindling

NEW YORK (UPI)—The poor may always be with us, as the old saying goes, but their number is dwindling, according to Meinhard-Commercial Corporation.

A study by the firm, a factoring and financing subsidiary of C.I.T. Financial Corp., says the number of U.S. families with annual incomes of less than $1,000 fell by more than half between 1954 and 1963. The study, based mainly on government figures, showed the number of families measuring their annual income in hundreds of dollars instead of thousands declined from 3,690,000 to 1,803,000, a drop of 51 per cent during the 10-year period.

READY TO MAKE A SIGN

These people are getting ready to paint a sign outlawing bicycles and skate boards at the Corte Madera Center during shopping hours. Bill Conner, Montgomery Ward merchandising manager and Hollie L. Smith, merchant president are being observed by Catherino O'Rouke, San Anselmo, Frank Wensloff, Todd Stevens and Harold Pritchard, all of Corte Madera. Children are welcome to use their vehicles after hours and on weekends.

Huge Supply Of Water Needed In Hurry To Cool Rocket Test Stand

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — "Cool Water," a Western ballad with a catchy melody, could well become the theme song of test engineers here at the Marshall Space Flight Center.

The "cool water"—273,000 gallons of it per minutes—will enable engineers to test-fire the giant booster designed to lift a space capsule into moon orbit. The firing will be done in a 40-story test stand that must withstand the 7.5 million-pound thrust of the five-engine booster.

Alco Products, Inc., manufacturer of diesel engines at Aburn, N.Y., has supplied a team of 13 diesel pumping sets to move the huge quantities of water through 8-foot-diameter pipe to the test stand. The water is released at the exact moment of firing to cool the missile's flame-deflection area. Without the water, about three-fourths of which is immediately vaporized, the steel flame deflectors would melt and the entire test structure would be seriously undermined, engineers say.

This Girl Had The Right Idea

TAMPA, Fla.(AP) — The submarine Sea Cat was in port and —as Jim Metcalf of the Chamber of Commerce tells the story —a sailor in immaculate whites was following two pretty girls down Franklin Street in early evening.

Finally, says Metcalf, one girl turned angrily on the sailor and said: "Listen. Either quit following us, or get a shipmate for my girl friend."

Los Angeles Plans Biggest Monorail

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The airplane passenger of the future may find his trip to the airport a far cry from that taken by his present-day counterpart.

Instead of having to fight frustrating traffic congestion, he may find going to the airport as quick and as comfortable as his trip aboard the luxurious jetliner.

The Los Angeles City Department of Airports has a plan on the drawing boards to provide monorail service to future air travelers.

Clifton A. Moore, manager of the department's Downtown Air Terminal project, said that, according to present plans, high speed trains will link the downtown area and four other metropolitan points with International Airport, possibly by mid-1967.

The Airports department plans to begin construction of a downtown terminal soon after July 1, 1965. It would provide service between Union Station near Civic Center, now a railroad depot, and the airport about 15 miles southwest of the city's center.

Key outlying areas being considered by the Airport Department for terminal locations are the San Fernando Valley, Century City, Orange County and Ontario.

When completed, the monorail would be the only one of this type and size in the nation. At present there is a one-mile monorail from downtown Seattle, Wash., to the site of the Seattle Exposition, another operates at Disneyland and there is one at the New York World's Fair.

The proposed facility at Union Station would include passenger ticketing and processing, a heliport, automobile parking and the monorail.

The point-to-point monorail between Union Station and the airport would be elevated 20 feet and would whisk passengers across the city in 12 to 15 minutes for $1.50 per passenger.

Evenutally Union Station would include facilities for vertical and short takeoff aircraft.

According to Moore, the planes using these facilities probably would be making commercial flights up to 600 miles, providing links between centers of large metropolitan areas.

Moore said the monorail system would eliminate traffic congestion that could cause serious problems at the huge airport here in the 1970's.

CORTE MADERA CENTER

SANTA CLAUS KEEPS BUSY

Santa Claus (Hollie Smith, Corte Madera Shopping Center Merchants Assn. president) keeps busy and Catherine O'Rourke has to smile as Norie Hoag of San Anselmo presents this long list. Santa should be able to fill the bill at the Corte Madera Shopping Center during the Christmas preview.

Julie London Out On Town? No, At Home With Family

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Fans of sophisticated, sultry Julie London are in for a letdown.

The gorgeous redhead appears as if she should be out on the town dressed in a slinky gown and doing a frenetic cha-cha. But the truth is, Julie likes to spend her evenings at home with her husband Bobby Troup and their seven children.

Dressed in slacks and blouse and minus her shoes, Julie made it quite clear she was the casual type during a recent evening in the "family room" of her beautiful Encino home.

"I guess a lot of people think of show business as a very glamorous way of life," she mused. "To me, it's definitely a business —a job that takes just as much energy and hard work as anything else.

"I enjoy singing in clubs, but still it's work. And when I come home I don't feel like playing glamor girl. I'd rather think about whether the kids have had their dinner or when I'll have time to redecorate the house."

Although Julie doesn't seem to count career success as her number one goal in life, she definitely is successful. She plays such top hotels as the Flamingo in Las Vegas and the Americana in New York, and her Liberty records are consistently top sellers.

The fact is, however, that a lot of London fans don't care a thing about her voice. They just like to look at her.

Julie is flattered with the compliments about her alluring beauty, but she doesn't take them too seriously. Unlike most celebrities, she doesn't have the usual flock of glamor portraits around the house.

"Why should I look at my pictures when I can look at my children?" she smiled, pulling out the family album.

Julie has two daughters by her marriage to Jack Webb. Her talented pianist-husband also has two girls by a previous marriage. Together, the couple are parents of twin sons and a two-year-old girl.

Julie and her husband have the un-Hollywood idea that their children should have the run of the house instead of being relegated to their rooms. Consequently, the household is a noisy one.

It doesn't bother Julie a bit. "I want the kids to be happy," she said. "Thus far, they're as normal as can be. The fact that Bobby and I are in show business is something they rarely think about."

HOLIDAY SPECIAL ON DRAPERIES
CUSTOM-MADE to your own measurements

Bring in measurements...Wards does the rest!

Important! Use yardstick or metal rule when measuring. Take all measurements in inches.

To find correct width: Widths may extend to outside of window frame, beyond frame, or cover entire wall. Measure rod width from end to end. Add 12" for center overlap, return when using traverse rods.

To find correct length: Measure from top of rod to desired length and add 1" for heading above rod (for floor length, do not add 1"). For ceiling-to-floor lengths, subtract 1" to clear the floor.

TAILORED IN YOUR OWN FABRIC CHOICE

- Carefully custom-tailored to your exact widths, lengths
- Deluxe tailoring includes double headings, weighted hems
- Table-sized and measured for perfect decorator look
- Pleat-folded to assure proper draping; ready to hang

Custom-made draperies for less than the cost of fabric alone! Choose from boucle, textured and antique satin-weave fabrics, lovely decorator colors—all at prices lower than most ready-mades! Wards will carefully cut, sew and tailor your fabric selection to exact length and width requested.

PLANNING FOR NEW STORE

Harry Kramar reviews the agreement to purchase his new shoe store in Napa. Kramar owns Keig's Shoe Store at the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Hollie L. Smith Re-Elected Head Of Merchants Council

Hollie L. Smith, Corte Madera insurance agent, was re-elected president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council at the annual meeting of members held at the Jasmine House in Larkspur.

Also elected were Lew Ripperger, manager of Woolworth's, as vice president; Tony Munoz, manager of J. C. Penney, as secretary; B. A. Sill, manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank in Corte Madera, as treasurer; and Louis Malvino, co-owner of Louis George Men's Store, as director.

Continuing as directors for the coming year will be Harry Lilly, manager of Wards, and John Bishop, manager of Thrifty's.

Smith, a resident of Mill Valley, maintains an insurance agency in the Corte Madera Center, holds a reserve commission as a lieutenant colonel in the Army, and has been active in youth work in Marin County. His daughter, Linda, attends American University at Beirut, Lebanon; and his son, Lonnie, attends the College of Marin.

Merchants council head

Addressing the kick-off meeting for the center merchants was Ray Mount Rogers, promotion department manager of the Independent-Journal.

Rogers prophesied success for the Corte Madera Center as it establishes its unified identity in Marin County based on the tremendous population influx which has already carried Marin from a population of around 140,000 to 180,000 in the past four years.

He emphasized the great choice in goods and services within the county that has accompanied the population growth and the expansion of accessible, free parking, regional shopping centers.

His Plan Goes Down The Drain

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—A 60-year-old Indian lugged water from the Tugela River, 60 miles north of here, to a barren spot every day for three months in the belief that if he watered the same spot a thousand times he would discover three drums of gold beneath the surface.

Not only did the gold fail to materialize, but at the end of the three months he discovered that his life's savings of 12,000 Rand ($16,800) had vanished from a trunk he kept under his bed.

Ramado Perumal's young wife, Subbamma, had placed the idea of growing gold into his head, so he accused her of stealing the money. She, in turn, blamed a Hindu priest named Arunjullum Govender Moodley, who was charged with fraud in the Durban Regional Court.

Perumal's wife told the court he had handed over the life's savings to the priest in return for the watering ritual, which he assured her would produce an immense amount of wealth.

But another member of the family had a different tale to tell. Subbamma's teen - aged daughter told the court the mother had been taking money out of the chest and giving it to her stepson, with whom she was having an affair.

The priest was acquitted and Perumal was left to sort out his own family and financial problems.

Meal For Kittens Bigger Than Mamma

SHIELDS, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. LaVerne Schriock knew her cat was a good provider for each little of kittens but mama cat overdid the feeding routine on the latest offspring.

After bringing in numerous mice and rats for her kittens, the big cat dragged home a full grown o'possum. Instead of being happy with the bountiful fare, Mrs. Schriock said, the kittens were only confused.

Long Wait For First Homer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The figure one after Tom Satriano's name in a Sept. 16 box score was correct. It was the Los Angeles Angel infielder's first home run in 217 major league appearances at the plate. He hit it in New York off Yankee Jim Bouton but the Angeles lost 9-4.

Satriano, 24, got his four bagger as a pinch hitter. He remained in the game at third base.
